

TALKS ON TEETH

BY
E. R. L. MURPHY, D. D. S.

Suite 509-10-11 N. Y. Life Bldg.

High-Class
Dentistry

We are teeth savers. With the Alveolar Method we are able to restore teeth which have been lost through ignorance, poor dentistry or disease, without having to use plates or ordinary bridgework. In short, we are able to put the teeth back in your mouth which you have lost, and match those which are left so perfectly that you will not be sensible of having lost any of nature's teeth.

We do this work without boring or cutting into the gums, and without any surgical operation whatsoever. There is nothing about the Alveolar Method to be dreaded. It is work that we alone can do.

Please read the following letter from Mrs. D. N. Graham:

610 E. 4th St., Muscatine, Ia.
Dear Dr. E. R. L. Murphy, Omaha, Neb.—
Dear Sir: I am very much pleased with the work you did for me last spring. The missing teeth you put in with the Alveolar Method are as solid and firm as my own. They are all you claim and more and I would not part with them for any price.

I may make any use of this letter that you wish. Very respectfully, (Signed) MRS. D. N. GRAHAM.

After a business experience extending over a period of nearly five years we are able to produce thousands of letters of testimony similar to Mrs. Graham's, and we can refer those interested to hundreds of people in Chicago and other cities who have had this marvelous work done for them. We are not asking you to buy something about which you know nothing.

The Alveolar Method is now an established fact, and we offer it to the American people, confident that it is the highest class dental work to be found anywhere.

If you have lost some teeth or nearly all your teeth and have two or more left in either jaw, we can restore all of those which are missing with the Alveolar Method and not use plates or ordinary bridgework. If you will come to our office we will make an examination of your mouth free of charge.

If it is not possible for you to come at the present time, write to Dr. Murphy's book, "Alveolar Dentistry," which explains the method in detail, a valuable book on the teeth and one which brings patients to us from all over the land. We send it free of any charge. If you are having teeth troubles send for it today unless you are near enough to our office to call in person.

Remember—in addition to our specialty of Alveolar dentistry (restoring missing teeth and tightening loose teeth), we do dental work in all its branches—Porcelain, Gold and Silver Fillings, Crowns, Re-embedding and Removable work, etc.

E. R. L. MURPHY,

SURPLUS FOR STATE FAIR

Board Expects to Have Twenty Thousand Dollars Above Expenses.

INVITE GRAIN MEN TO HEARING

Governor Johnson of Minnesota Being Groomed as a Vice Presidential Candidate on the Bryan Ticket.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Sept. 7.—(Special.)—While it is impossible to tell accurately what the receipts and expenditures of the state fair will be this year, it is estimated the total receipts will be in the neighborhood of $200,000, or about $5,000 less than last year. The net receipts will be in the neighborhood of $150,000. This is considerably less than last year, but the expenses have been largely in excess of the 1906 fair. The attendance this year was something over 6,000 less than last year, but this is accounted for easily. Last year Bryan was an attraction to the fair and excursions were run from all over the state; this year there was no special day to attract people, but, on the other hand, one day was devoted to the primary and this doubtless kept away many. Regarding the cost of the fair, the board of directors, with no special excursions, members of the board of managers differ in their opinion. Following is a comparison of the daily attendance of 1906 and 1907:

	1906	1907
Monday	13,861	12,859
Tuesday	15,338	13,981
Wednesday	18,962	14,682
Thursday	27,862	27,831
Friday	5,392	6,361
Totals	80,516	75,714

Total admissions, including exhibitors, press tickets, advertising tickets, ex-officers and members for 1906, 124,251; for 1907, 97,835. Total railroad coupons for 1906, 23,336; for 1907, 16,584. Tickets not paid for in cash, 1906, 13,447; for 1907, 13,216. The large number of concession tickets keep up this class of tickets.

The fair board met this afternoon and is figuring up just where it stands financially and discussing what is needed for the fair grounds next year. Besides more walks, members of the board are talking of an increased grandstand. The present grandstand from which the races are viewed seats about 5,000, and this year as many as 10,000 have been seated. Frequent 9,000 tickets having been sold. Visitors to the fair in many cases went away dissatisfied by reason of this.

Notice to Grain Shippers.
The State Railway commission is anxious that shippers of grain attend the hearing next week on its order to the railroads to lower grain rates, so as to create interest in the lower rates. It is the order of the commission that shippers of grain, including the several lines of railroad in Nebraska, on the following dates, to-wit: Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and Great Northern, September 9; Union Pacific and St. Joseph & Grand Island, September 11; Chicago & North Western and Chicago & St. Paul, September 13; Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, September 15. At which time a revised schedule of rates on grain and grain products will be adopted unless good and sufficient cause is shown to the contrary.

You are respectfully invited to be present on the above dates, at which time the commission will be glad to learn your views on this question.

Complaint on Cream Testers.
A number of complaints have been received at the office of the food commissioner that testers of cream are not using the nine-inch bottles especially required by law, but as those who come under the jurisdiction of the pure food law have had only since April 1 to equip themselves with nine-inch bottles. Mr. Johnson will not prosecute anyone at this time, but will delay in order that all the testers may have further opportunity to get the required bottles. Complaints have also been received that the new nine-inch bottles do not in every instance measure nine inches, but this also is accountable because the State Chemist, Redfern says it doesn't make much difference in the milk test, and a supply house has written to Mr. Johnson that some allowance must be made in the size of the bottle.

Up to date 105 permits have been issued to testers. Some of the applicants were unable to take the regular examination, and to accommodate these, question blanks have been sent to the county judges, before whom they can take the examination at any time.

County Attorney Baldwin of Thayer county has notified the food commissioner that he will not prosecute the butcher in Belvidere who sold bad meat. The attorney wrote in that the man was old and prostrate at the time he sold the meat, so he was not prosecuted.

Johnson for Vice President.

It is an even break that at the democratic dinner to be given here September 24 Governor Johnson of Minnesota will be given a boost for vice president. It is in the air and it is already being talked among the democrats. That Mr. Bryan is favorable to Governor Johnson for vice president is not the least doubt. The following statement was given out by one who is close to Bryan and it is thought reflects the views of the presidential candidate:

It appears that there will be a systematic effort in Nebraska to secure the nomination of Governor John A. Johnson for vice president on the democratic national ticket in 1908. John L. Sundeen, an energetic young lawyer of Lincoln, Neb., and democratic candidate for regent of the state university, is in Lincoln pulling wires to secure the election of a number of Scandinavian or of the democratic party, republicans, which will hold over till after the nominations next year. Mr. Sundeen's aim is to have the machinery of the party favorable to Governor Johnson.

If W. J. Bryan is the nominee for president, Mr. Sundeen favors Governor Johnson for vice president, and he believes that this is the sentiment of the majority of Mr. Johnson's friends in Nebraska. Mr. Sundeen personally favors Bryan for president and Johnson for vice president, and he expresses the belief that this ticket would carry New York, Illinois, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas, and probably Colorado, Wyoming, Washington, Michigan and Wisconsin. He says it would even "make 'em up."

Mr. Sundeen has assurances from several prominent Scandinavian-Americans that they will take the stump for the democratic ticket if Bryan and Johnson are the nominees.

Robbed While Hiding Money.
Sam Westfield, proprietor of a cafe on North Thirteenth street, was robbed of $475 at 2 o'clock this morning by two unidentified men who grabbed him as he was hiding the money under an egg case in the cellar of his restaurant. Ed Lacy and John Cunningham, two employees of the restaurant, have been arrested, but no evidence has been found to connect them with the robbery except they quarreled with Westfield earlier in the day over wages alleged to be due them. Westfield was in his restaurant alone and believing his safe insecure, went to the basement of the building to hide the money. As he bent over the egg case to place the money beneath it, he was grabbed by the two men, choked and robbed. The men then escaped.

Confess on McGirr Case.
E. E. Ross, county attorney of Merrick county, conferred with Governor Sheldon this morning regarding the death of James McGirr, said to have been murdered by Greeks near Chapman. The county attorney is of the opinion that McGirr was killed by a train. He says he has a witness who said McGirr was taken on a hand car by several Greeks and after going down the track about three miles, he was turned loose and waved his coat to the witness. Governor Sheldon did not indicate what he would do.

CANDIDATE OF FOUR PARTIES

Judge Hostetter Finds Himself Opposed Only by a Democrat.

KEARNEY, Neb., Sept. 7.—(Special Telegram.)—Judge Hostetter, who was running for judge of the twelfth judicial district, is one of the candidates at the recent primary who seems to have a "clinch" on election. The judge was the nominee of the republican party without opposition, but in addition to this he will also be the candidate of the socialist, people's independent and prohibition parties. The odds are against the neglect of these parties to put up a candidate of their own, and the voters have written in the name of the judge. Under the late ruling of state officials he also becomes their candidate.

In the case of the democrats, Judge Oldham was voted for and had a majority, thus depriving Hostetter of also being a candidate on that party ticket. This may, however, be changed by the vote in other counties of the district.

MONEY ON MURDERER'S HEAD

Seventeen Hundred Dollars for Arrest of Shumway.

BEATRICE, Neb., Sept. 7.—(Special Telegram.)—The Board of Supervisors today offered a reward of $1,700 for the capture of M. Reed Shumway, the supposed murderer of Mrs. Sarah Martina Jacob Martin, husband of the murdered woman. Informing the county attorney that he would give $1,000 reward for the arrest and delivery of Shumway to the proper authorities, dead or alive. With the state's reward of $300, this makes a total reward of $1,700.

A report was received here this morning that Shumway had been arrested at St. Joseph, but the chief of police at that place wired the officers here that there was no truth in the statement that Shumway had been arrested there.

BRAKEBEAM ON THE TRACK

Two Tramps Under Arrest at Chapman on This Charge.

CHAPPELL, Neb., Sept. 7.—(Special.)—Two tramps were arrested this morning by Sheriff McGirr for putting a brakebeam on the Union Pacific track, to wreck No. 10, but Section Foreman Peterson discovered it just before No. 10 came along. They were lodged in jail here pending trial.

Primitives in Hall County

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Sept. 7.—(Special.)—The official canvass of the returns of the primary election show that at least 1,600 persons in this county participated in the nominations, eight hundred of whom were republicans. The canvassing board canvassed the returns in each precinct, only as to the republican ticket, and here over a hundred did not vote on the head of the ticket. One hundred and eighty-nine democrats voted and only about fifty republicans, there being no contest on either of those tickets, barring that on supreme judge, in which no interest was taken here. It occurred that the democrats of Hall county voted for the populist, Albert, and the populists for the democrat, Loomis. The primary gave general satisfaction here, despite the fact that many were unacquainted with its workings.

Kearney Plans Bigger Chautauqua

KEARNEY, Neb., Sept. 7.—(Special Telegram.)—Chautauqua promoters, at a meeting last night, decided to enlarge the Chautauqua for the coming year and obtain land for that purpose. They will secure about eighty acres and make an artificial lake, and have one of the most beautiful parks in the state. In order to meet all future requirements it was decided to provide in the articles of incorporation for $100,000 capital stock, and to make a popular offering of certificates of stock at $1 per share. As a starter one enterprising citizen pledged himself to take $5,000 in Chautauqua stock.

Boy Returned to His Home

FREMONT, Neb., Sept. 7.—(Special.)—Sheriff Moore of Wayne county took Elmer Mack, who was under arrest here for stealing his father's team, back to Wayne yesterday afternoon. The sheriff says that the boy, who is only 15, instead of 19, as he claimed to be, took a load of grain to market for his father, sold it, and got the money. He then started south and traded the heavy farm wagon for a cheap spring buggy, which he had when he reached Fremont. He does not appear much troubled over the situation.

Church Fund Gets a Lift

KEARNEY, Neb., Sept. 7.—(Special Telegram.)—As a result of Archbishop Cope's recent eastern visit, upon invitation to hold services at Springfield, Elmer Cope, a priest and other places, he received today from a wealthy church woman, Mrs. P. Clarke, a check for $5,000, to be used in the erection of the new church which is now being built, but is to be applied especially to building the chancel.

Hail Does Much Damage

BATTLE CREEK, Neb., Sept. 7.—(Special.)—Yesterday was an unusually hot day here for this time of the year, the thermometer registering 90 degrees. It was followed last night by a severe hailstorm, some of the stone being as large as hen's eggs. It destroyed all late fruit and broke out a great many windows.

Judicial Ticket in Dodge

FREMONT, Neb., Sept. 7.—(Special.)—Complete returns from the judicial district nominate C. E. Abbott of Fremont and Jack Martin of Central City, republicans, and Conrad Hollenbeck of Fremont and George H. Thomas of Columbus, democrats. The democrats cast a big vote in Colfax and Platte counties.

New South Dakota Districts

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Sept. 7.—(Special.)—It is not generally known that South Dakota has recently been divided into three postoffice inspector districts and that a new inspector, in the person of W. H. Mullen, recently was assigned to duty in this territory and established his headquarters at Huron. He now is engaged in making a thorough study of the matter and based his opinions upon facts and giving all parties concerned a square deal.

Fort Dodge Lineman Killed

FORT DODGE, Ia., Sept. 7.—(Special Telegram.)—Coming in contact with a live wire, while working thirty feet above ground, Clarence J. Henry, lineman for the Fort Dodge Light and Power company, was instantly killed today. Henry came here from Manchester. He was 27 years old and unmarried.

MERRICK OFFICIALS' DEFENSE

Reasons Given for Not Holding Inquest Over James McGirr.

NO EVIDENCE OF FOUL PLAY

Coroner, Sheriff and Others Think Governor Should Have Asked for Report Before Ordering Investigation.

CENTRAL CITY, Neb., Sept. 6.—To the Editor of The Bee: When the county officials who had charge of the investigation made, they manifested much surprise. They did not think the governor right in acting in such a manner without first consulting the officers who had the matter of investigation in charge and finding out their reasons for not deeming an inquest necessary. In other words, it looked like the governor was trying to make capital out of public sentiment instead of consulting with the men who had made a thorough study of the matter and based their opinions upon facts and giving all parties concerned a square deal.

Body Found by Train Crew

McGirr met his death Tuesday evening, July 16, and the following day Coroner E. Adams, Sheriff J. D. Hostetter, Deputy Sheriff J. W. Porter, County Attorney Elmer E. Ross, Detective Bowers of the Union Pacific, a claim agent of the road, together with a number of citizens of both Central City and Chapman, went to the scene to make an investigation. When the officials left this city for the scene they were laboring under the impression that a horrible murder had been committed in cold blood, for reports coming from Chapman stated that on the previous evening a party of Greeks had become intoxicated and were creating such a disturbance on the streets that it was unsafe for anyone to venture forth.

The body had been found about daylight Wednesday morning by the train crew of the west bound passenger No. 11, lying between the rails of the north double track.

The crew reported that they picked the body up after the train had passed over it, and laid it on the north side of the track in or as near the same position in which it was found as they could. When discovered McGirr had been dead for hours, as his body was cold and rigid; and one very important fact was that when No. 11 passed over him it inflicted no injuries whatever. The county officials found the body lying face upward and the head to the west. The injuries, which appeared to have caused his death, consisted of a deep wound a little to the left of the center of the forehead, extending upward and inward, to what extent they did not investigate; also a bad wound upon the back of the head and possibly a little to the right of the center. The left side of the head was injured, but not so severely as the other parts mentioned. There were also bruises and scratches on other parts of the body, but none of a very serious character. Probably the worst of these was a cut on the side of one leg, but it was not deep.

As It Lay on the Track

On the track it was plain to be seen where the body had been lying and the position it was in when first struck by the train. At the point where the head had been the deceased had vomited heavily. From the position of the body it seemed to have been about eight or nine feet, and at the point where it lodged the back of the head had come in contact with the edge of a tie, and at this point there was a mass of clotted blood, which, upon investigation, extended down into the gravel probably a foot. The wound upon the side of the head was accounted for when, upon investigation, hair and blood were found upon the clasp connecting two rails on the south side of the track, the body being to the south of the center of the track and having been slid past this clasp.

The clothing of the deceased consisted of a shirt, pair of pants, shoes and stockings, found upon him. He had carried a coat, which had been quite badly cut up by the cars. A stiff hat was also found near the body, also badly mutilated. The officials detected no blood upon any of the clothing.

Celebrating Saloon Opening

The coroner then ordered the body sent to Central City and the officials went on to Chapman to make further investigation. There they interviewed reliable parties and were informed that McGirr and a friend by the name of Frank Stewart had come to Chapman from Central City Tuesday afternoon, and had since arriving there been drinking heavily, as the saloon at Chapman had just been opened that day, relieving a drought of several months, and a number of parties had been making the best of the opportunity. Stewart told the officials that McGirr and himself had come to Chapman to celebrate the latter's birthday. Stewart is said to have had considerable money, but McGirr was not well attempted to board a local freight for Grand Island, but were ejected by the conductor. They then walked back up town, and trouble commenced. It seems that Stewart belonged to some local lodge, and a number of members of the same order, who had been drinking with them, conceived the idea that McGirr was trying to steal some of his friend's money. But Stewart maintained that he knew of no such act on the part of McGirr, and further says that he knew the deceased far too well to think of accusing him of such an offense. It was also reported that McGirr and Stewart had had serious trouble during the evening, but Stewart says McGirr engaged in a little hooligan talk when the former refused to try a "bromo" as a soberer, but that neither of them lost their tempers, but remained good friends to the last. At about this time Stewart forgot all his troubles and slept soundly in ignorance of all that was going on about him in the glorious little town of Chapman.

Some one informed the interpreter of a party of about twenty-five Greeks, who had been working on the railway; that McGirr had attempted to rob one man and that they had better look out for him. The object of telling this story was disclosed when it became known that some of the local citizens wanted to get McGirr out of town, and they found the Greeks easy prey, both on account of their ignorance and the fact that they had that day received and cashed their pay checks and had their money in camp.

Greeks Ask to Escort Him.
McGirr wanted to go back to Central City and the Greeks, when told of this, begged the privilege of escorting him part way, as they were anxious to see the "robber" out of town. The interpreter, a rather intelligent and polished young man, and four of five laborers took him to a point, which they afterward designated, two or three miles east of Chapman and about a mile west of the place where the body was discovered in the morning. The officials found in questioning the interpreter that one Greek had proposed tying McGirr, as he was afraid of him, but no such effort was made or even attempted. The Greeks had two revolvers and a shotgun in camp, and they took the pistols with them on the car and fired a couple of shots as they were leaving Chapman just to show the "desperate character" that they were ready for him if he attempted violence. They led him from the track to the public road, although he was able to walk quite straight, and started him east, and they maintain that is the last they saw of him. The interpreter maintained that although the saloons had opened that day none of the Greeks had touched a drop of liquor, and their bright appearance seemed to testify to the fact to the satisfaction of the officials. He also said that when they were taking McGirr out of town he had three bottles of whiskey upon him and he offered the Greeks a drink, but they were forbidden to touch it.

So it seems there are two sides to the reports that the Greeks were disturbing the
