FALL

FALL OPENING OF OUR BEAUTIFUL MILLINERY DEPT.

Wednesday and Thursday Of This Week

On these days we shall welcome to our beautiful millinery room the women from all over Omaha and surrounding cities, and we are desirous of making conspicuous in the minds of all who visit here these days, the

Style, Elegance and Economy of Our Millinery

Without a doubt, large hats will retain their popularity for autumn. Flowers, foliage, feathers, felt, beaver and ribbons will be used extensively. Great care has been taken in the selection of these goods, which will surpass anything we have shown in previous seasons.

Miss Fenner's faultless taste and unerring judgment is superbly exemplified in the charming creations that now feature our opening display. Come and see. Come to admire. Enjoy this opening exhibit in your own way. WELCOME.

FEDERAL COURT OPENS 5 O'CLOCK

Fall Term Will Begin Twenty-Third of This Month.

GRAND JURY WILL BE DRAWN

Will Take Cognizance Only of Such Cases Arising in the Omaha Division Since New Law Was Enacted.

The federal courts for the Omaha division of the Nebraska district will resume their sessions for the fall term September 23. Such was the announcement made by Judge W. H. Munger Tuesday morning after a conference with District Attorney Goss.

The grand jury will be drawn during the present week and will report September 24. This jury will take cognizance only of such cases arising in the Omaha division since the enactment of the new judicial division law of February 27. The grand jury for business originating prior to February 27 will be drawn at some other time.

A panel of forty-eight jurors will be drawn during the present week to report September 20 at 2 p. m.

After further conference between Judge Munger and District Attorney Goss it was decided to begin the trial of the criminal docket early during the term, but preference will first be given to the twenty-eight-hour law cases, and safety appliance cases now pending in the district court. The first two weeks of the term will be devoted to this class of business, after which the criminal docket will be taken up.

A circular announcing the assignment of cases before the United States circuit court of appeals has been received at the office of the United States circuit and district clerks for Nebraska. The hearing for the winter term will be as follows:

- December 3—James B. Romine, bankrupt, against John C. Miller & Co.
December 4—Union Pacific Railroad Company against Mason City & Fort Dodge Railroad Company.
December 8—Adams Express Company against Paul Adams, a minor.
December 11—Bartlett Richards, Will G. Cookstock, Charles E. Jensen, Aquilla Tripplit against the United States.
December 16—Knapp & Spencer Company against Gerald M. Drew, trustee.
December 18—Herman Schader et al against Addie J. Baker.
January 14—Omaha Water Company against the City of Omaha.

ernment to withhold passports to coolies coming directly to the United States.

The belief that a treaty is now within sight is based on the conviction of officials that the Japanese government will now be brought face to face with the fact that as it cannot discriminate between Great Britain and America in the matter of demands for fair treatment for its subjects, and must by the same token concede that the problem presented is really a racial one, the only solution will lie in the recognition by Japan of the right to restrict coolie immigration not only in America, but in British Columbia, Australia and other British colonies. For, after all, it is pointed out here, would mean a breach of the alliance with England, of which the Japanese have been so proud and which they regard as necessary to the development of their ambitious schemes for the exploitation of the east. For, although the British government may doubtless will apologize for the Vancouver affair, and even pay an indemnity, a reputation of the incident is believed to be so certain unless the British government, in the matter of restricting Japanese immigration. As a matter of fact negotiations are already afoot between the British and the Japanese governments to regulate the influx of coolie labor into the British colonies. The Vancouver incident will, it is believed here, hasten these negotiations to a conclusion, and if Japan enters into treaty relations of that kind with Great Britain it cannot refuse to do so with other British colonies. So that there is after all a prospect that the Secretary and Ambassador Aoki will soon again be in conference on this subject.

CORN CROP BELOW AVERAGE

Condition Reported by Bureau of Statistics Shows It to Be 80.2 Against 81.

WOMEN IN THE BIG PARADE

New Feature and Pretty One Added to Electrical Pageant.

GOULD DIETZ IS IN CHARGE

Board of Governors of All-Star-Ben Arranges for Section Exclusively for Women in the Triumphant March.

Gould Dietz was added to the parade committee of the Board of Governors of All-Star-Ben at the meeting held Monday night, prior to the session at the den in honor of the visiting newspaper men. He will have charge of the women's section of the electrical parade, looking after the floats to be put in the parade by the women societies of Omaha. This women's part in the festivities is a new feature and is being taken up by the women with a vim. The board of governors will furnish a wagon and horses and driver for each society which will decorate the float in colors and place thereon a bevy of women for the parade.

G. W. Wattles will have charge of the automobile parade and, judging from the numerous responses which he has received, this parade should be a hummer. Omaha has nearly twice as many automobiles as a year ago and the auto parade will correspondingly be large. It is one of the most beautiful features of the fall donces and is one which attracts as much attention as any. Suitable prizes will be offered for the different kinds of machines.

Asks Women to Talk with Him.

Mr. Dietz wishes cordially and respectfully to invite women's societies of Omaha to communicate with him in reference to the parade in his charge and every assistance will be given by the board to make this new feature one of the winners of the parades. Heretofore women have been taboored from the parades and should a woman was needed to complete a pretty picture on a float a youth has been gotten in woman's costume and used as a substitute. This fall it will be different and the women will be given an opportunity to see what they can do in the way of putting on a parade to vie with the men. Any organized society can decorate its float as gorgeously as desired and can have the assistance of Gus Renze, Omaha's famous float builder.

Another new program which has been added to the festival is the parade to visit Omaha during the festival as the guests of the Board of Governors. These are to be entertained by well known hostesses of Omaha and luncheons and fetes of various kinds will be given in their honor during their stay in Omaha. They will be given an opportunity to meet the young people of Omaha at the club and at several informal affairs which have been planned for their entertainment. But about half of the young women invited have responded to the invitation of Samson and he is anxious to hear from the others, as it is his desire to print his programs early this fall and he wishes that no names may be left off the programs.

Those Who Have Accepted.

Those who have accepted invitations are: Miss Beatrice Nightingale, Loup City; Miss Marcia Perkins, Fremont; Miss Elsie Rix, Fort Calhoun; Miss Marie Louise Weber, Schuyler; Miss Mabel Wilton, Broken Bow; Miss Gertrude Duff, Nebraska City; Miss Frances M. Jernan, West Point; Miss Fanny Naxon, Minden; Miss Ruth Bresler, Wayne; Miss Florence Juel, Newman Grove; Miss Maud E. Farrell, Broken Bow; Miss Gertrude Duff, Nebraska City; Miss Hilda Hansen, Danvers. The huge balloons at the den will be filled with gas Wednesday afternoon to see if they are in good condition for the races which have been arranged to take place during the carnival.

STATES THE PLACE TO TOUR

Gould Dietz Makes Two Hundred and Eighteen Miles with Auto in One Day.

"For pure fun and amusement give me an automobile trip in America in preference to any cruise around the Mediterranean," says Gould Dietz, who has just returned from a 1,800-mile automobile trip with Mrs. Dietz, over the states of Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota. "You can talk to the people you meet in these trips and they can understand what you are talking about."

"We made some record runs and some that were not records. The best run we made on the trip was from Marshalltown to Omaha in one day, a distance of 218 miles, and part of the way was through that hail-storm of Saturday afternoon, which we encountered the other side of Council Bluffs. We left Marshalltown at 6 a. m. and drove 100 miles to Carroll for lunch and came on to Omaha that afternoon."

"Wisconsin is the place of rough roads, and while touring that state we had four several good-sized rivers. We were particularly fortunate in the matter of fine trouble and during that 1,800 miles had but one puncture, not quite equaling Mr. Wattle's record. During the entire trip we did not have to change the spark plug once."

"Touring at night is great sport, but it is hard on the farmers' barnyard stock. They seem to get dazed by the bright light on the machine. I know of over twenty chickens, one calf and three rattlesnakes we killed, beside other numerous pets we did not stop to count."

Mr. and Mrs. Dietz went from Omaha to Chicago in their auto, thence in Milwaukee and to La Crosse, via boat to St. Paul and through the state of Minnesota. Returning via Clinton, they met Frank Ankeny, the cowboy mayor of Mumper. He had a forty-horsepower motor boat on the Mississippi, built by the Lamb Boat company, and Mr. and Mrs. Dietz were given a thirty-mile-an-hour ride on the river.

"It was truly a kiddoo trip," added Mr. Dietz. "Everywhere we went we were confronted with '22.' Our car was No. 122 and the only puncture we had on the trip was when our register showed 222 miles. We used twenty-eight gallons of gasoline from Clinton to Omaha and every farmer we asked about the next town would tell us it was twenty-three miles away. We always had room '22' at the hotels and the number of our stopovers on the boat was '22.' We had a great trip on that boat up the river, as the captain took our machine on board and when a stop was made at a town for freight we would run the machine off and drive around the country."

and then will come the fire works. In the matter of the reduction on grain rates the commission has the active support of Governor Sheldon and of Attorney General Thompson. Both have been advising with the commission during the last few days and something is likely to happen most any time. Senator Aldrich, who is one of the authors of the commission law, has been retained by the commission to assist it in the grain case and he likely will urge drastic measures.

ANGUS CATTLE AT THE FAIR

Nebraska Breeders Do Well in Competition With Those From Outside.

YORK, Neb., Sept. 10.—(Special.)—The "Doddies" or Aberdeen-Angus, while not as many as was expected, presented this year a strong front at the Nebraska State fair. As in former exhibitions "quality" was a conspicuous feature and those who were interested in Angus could well be proud of the showing from Nebraska, Iowa and Missouri. Unlike previous years, Nebraska this year furnished nearly as many prize winners as the fine Angus show herds from Iowa and Missouri, and the judges placing ribbons awarded as many to Nebraska breeders as to all other herds from other states. Nebraska lovers of Angus have good reason to feel proud over the fine showing of Nebraska Angus at the State fair. The Angus breed of cattle in Nebraska are very few in number when compared with the many herds in Iowa. What Nebraska breeders lacked in numbers they made up in quality. The only fault that can be found with Nebraska breeders is that they are backward in bringing their cattle to the fair, and that they did not take the pains to prepare their cattle and get them up in the show yard condition as did experienced breeders from eastern states, who annually make all the big fairs and stock shows. The Angus breed is known as one of the greatest beef breeds in the world. In the great markets of the world they sell for the highest price. They are noted for their quality, uniformity, the great spread of meat, easy feeding, early maturing and the greatest rustlers. Nebraska is fortunate in having many many herds of pure blood Angus. Its breeders have been breeding the perfect type of beef and have the choicest specimens in their Nebraska herds from nearly every noted herd not only in the United States but in England and Scotland. It is a great source of satisfaction to the breeders of Angus in Nebraska that farmers, stockmen and ranchmen are taking such an interest in Angus.

The Nebraska breeders were the Christian & Lang company of York, Neb., with eleven head; Paul Thompson & Sons of Benson, Neb., twelve head, and D. N. Syford of Lincoln, nine head. The Iowa exhibitors were Lee Cantine of Quincy, Ia., and Oliver Hammers of Malvern, Ia., who had twelve head. From Missouri, McDonald & Brantley had twelve head. In the bull classes, Nebraska carried off first and sweepstakes in aged bulls, and to the herd of the Christian & Lang company of York was awarded sweepstakes on senior bull. On junior bull, the bull now owned by the Nebraska State university, entered by Lee Cantine, won sweepstakes. The senior bull was Borama, a blackbird bull, owned by the Christian & Lang company. In the heifer class, Oliver Hammers of Iowa made a fine showing and won out. In the cow class, Brantley and McDonald of Missouri won a large number of awards. The Christian & Lang company of York, Neb., won first on Nebraska herd of Angus; D. N. Syford of Lincoln second. Fugot of sire, the young calf herd of the Christian & Lang company was awarded first. Paul Thompson & Sons of Benson, Neb., who did not consider making an exhibit until a few days before the fair opened, made a nice showing and came in for some of the awards. The herd that carried away the largest number of premiums and ribbons, and among them sweepstakes and firsts, was from Nebraska, and they were given to the herd from York, Neb. There are many herds in Nebraska just as good as the herds shown at the Nebraska State fair, and if the breeders of Nebraska will give the same careful attention to feeding and fitting that our Iowa and Missouri breeders do, there is no question but what Nebraska breeders will carry away most, if not all, of the ribbons.
