SOCIETY SEES ONLY HUSTLE

The early winter, though the date is not yet specifically determined. The bride and groom were married at the residence of her father's house for several years and has filled the by no means easy role with much grace and dignity. Mr. Keefe's father-in-law and his young daughters are interesting figures in the hospitalities of his home.

Miss Margery Colton is now at Yellowstone park with her brother, Colonel George Colton, en route to Seattle, whence they will sail with Secretary Taft's party September 16. Miss Margery Colton will spend the winter at Manila with her brother.

A wedding of interest in Omaha was solemnized in Milwaukee Tuesday evening when Miss Mary Kreider, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Kreider, and Mr. Frederick E. Ryner of Omaha were married at the residence of the bride's parents, Prospect avenue. Promptly at the appointed hour to the first strains of the "Lohengrin" wedding march, played by Mr. D. R. Williams, the bridal party entered the drawing room where the ceremony was performed by Rev. W. E. Gram of Catholic Baptist church, beneath a bower of palms, ferns, smilax and branches of oak leaves.

There was a podestal, giving the effect of an altar, which was banked with palms and ferns. The bride wore an exquisite creation of white tulle and silk, trimmed with ivory lace and pearls. The tulle veil was fastened with a wreath of swansonia, and she carried a shower bouquet of the same flower. Miss Ruth Kreider, the maid of honor, wore a gown of soft yellow silk, trimmed with Valenciennes lace, and carried a bouquet of maiden hair ferns, tied with tulle. The ribbon bearers were Mrs. L. H. Rueping of Fond du Lac and Miss Helen Kirtz of Indianapolis, who were both gowned alike in white. The ribbons formed an aisle, though while the bride party passed, Little Howard Fisher of Indianapolis was the ring bearer and wore a suit with blue and carried the ring in an Euster Wly. Mr. Leslie Kreider of Chicago, was best man. After a two weeks' trip through the east the young couple will be at home at 311 Farnam street.

HARDER TIMES FOR HOBOES

Co-Operation Proposed to Solve the Tramp Problem.

CHECKING CRIMES BY TRAMPS

Combined Action by the Civil Authorities and the Railroads Can Effect What They Have Been Unable to Do Separately.

Of the 10,000 or more arrests made by the Omaha police in a year at least half are made for vagrancy. If it were not for the city hanger-on and the itinerant hobo Omaha could get along with an even smaller force than is used at present to guard the city. The hobo blows into Omaha from Denver or Kansas City, commits a small robbery or begs a little money, gets drunk, goes to sleep on the sidewalk, and is dragged to jail. If he promises to get out of town he is usually released by the police magistrate the next morning and he goes to the next place, reappearing again after an absence of a month or two. Once in a while if he has been caught in some really criminal act he is sentenced to a few days labor on the streets, as he never has enough money to pay a fine.

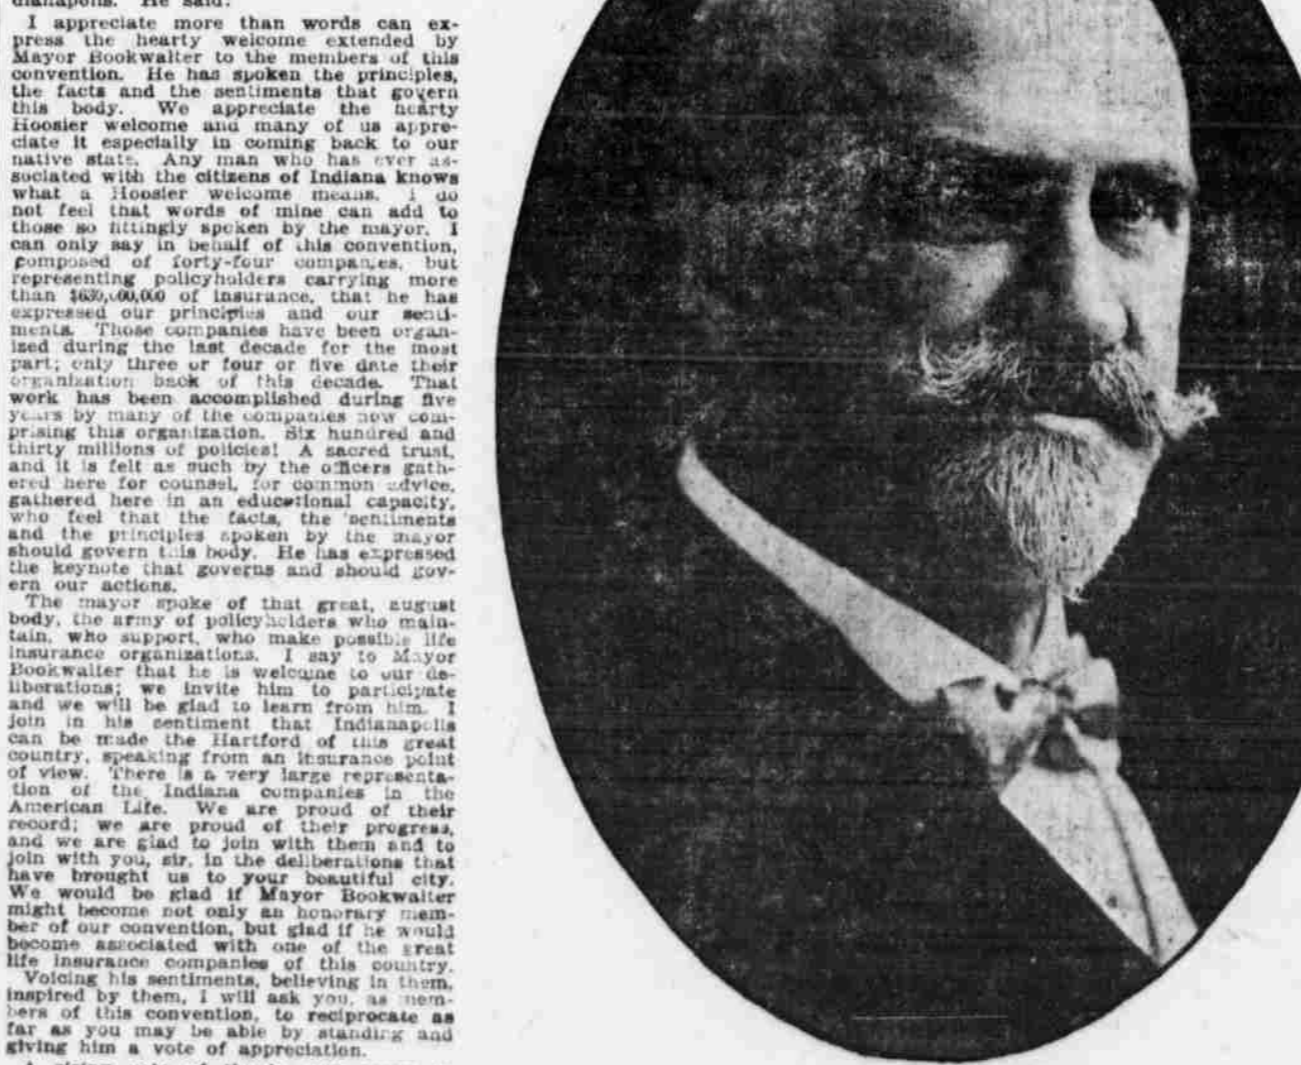

DR. CLARK TO ENDEAVORERS

President of United Society Will Address Nebraska State Convention in Omaha.

Dr. Francis E. Clark of Boston, who has been president of the United Society of Christian Endeavor continuously since its founding, will be one of the speakers at the state convention of Christian Endeavorers at Omaha October 11, 12 and 13. Another will be T. Sawaya of Tokio, secretary of the Japanese Christian Endeavor Union. Charles Butler, the singer who was in Omaha with Evangelist Torrey, will be present to lead the singing. The local committee in charge of the convention neglected to make a contract with the Auditorium management before advertising the convention dates and the Horse Show association stepped in and got the building. The show begins the following the close of the convention, but the horse owners need the arena for three days previous to the show. The Endeavorers are negotiating for the First Methodist church, which, however, probably will be too small for the Sunday night attendance.

Omaha Man Heads Life Insurance Workers

At the second annual convention of the American Life convention held recently at Indianapolis Mr. B. H. Robison of Omaha was elected president of the organization and a member of its executive committee. Mr. Robison also had the honor of responding to the address of welcome from Mayor Bookwalter of Indianapolis. He said: I appreciate more than words can express the hearty welcome extended by Mayor Bookwalter to the members of this convention. He has spoken the principles, the facts and the sentiments that govern this body. We appreciate the hearty welcome extended to many of us by the mayor. I especially in coming back to our native state. Any man who has ever associated with the citizens of Indiana knows what a home-like welcome means. I do not feel that words of mine can add to those so fittingly spoken by the mayor. I can only say in behalf of this convention, composed of forty-four companies, but representing policyholders carrying more than $60,000,000 of insurance, that he has expressed our principles and our sentiments. These companies have been organized during the last decade for the most part; only three or four of five date their origin to the first decade. That work has been accomplished during five years by many of the companies now comprising this organization. Six hundred and thirty millions of policies. A sacred trust, and it is felt as such by the officers gathered here in an educational capacity, who feel that the facts, the sentiments and the principles spoken by the mayor should govern this body. He has expressed the sentiment that governs and should govern our actions.

BASCOM H. ROBISON President Bankers Reserve Life Company, President and Member Executive Committee American Life Convention.

It is the railroad that suffers most from tramps, and it is also one thing without which the hobo could not continue his existence. He must keep moving, for no community will endure habitual idleness and a long stay in any one town would be sure to get him a long jail sentence. He cannot pay his fare to keep moving, so he steals his rides. If ride-stealing can be prevented vagrancy will receive a death blow and it is upon this peg that the effort to diabolize the army of vagrants is to be hung. Naturally enough, the railroads have always been anxious to stop the ride stealers. The tramps often steal valuable packages of freight, damage cars, interfere with signals and switches and sometimes attack and injure trainmen and employes. But it has been impossible to make much headway against ride-stealing because the hobo, if arrested, rarely gets a harder sentence than an order to get out of town quick—which means that they jump the

Omaha Clothing and Furniture Company Expanding

The Omaha Clothing and Furniture Company is making some extensive improvements in its store building. Mr. Rosenthal, on his return from New York said that owing to the large increase of business and to keep in touch with the wave of prosperity, he had decided to put some $2,000 of improvements in his store front. A new plate glass, with a new entrance for their ladies' department, will be one of the new features of the building.

Staten to Act

The superintendent of police of one of the large eastern railroads says that the greatest blow to vagrancy would be a law passed by the legislature of every state making it illegal to trespass on the right-of-way of a railroad. At present, in Pennsylvania, the tramp cannot be punished for simply being on the property of a railroad, though he can be punished for stealing rides.

If you lose any money, or your pig dog, or your Sunday amble, you should say something about it in the want columns of the Bee. Many thousands of honest people read these columns every day, and there will be pretty large chances in your favor if you mention your loss to them. Of course, every Omaha recognizes that the Bee is the "Lost and Found" medium of the city.
