GALA DAY FOR THE Y. M. C. A wo Socials Held in the Evening, One for Boys and One for the Adults.

"Friday the thirteenth" was a gala day at the Young Men's Christian association, The inspection during the day by outof-town visitors was followed in the evening by two socials, one in the nature of a reception for high school boys for the purpose of callsting a larger membership in that department and the other a social for the adult members, held in the big reception lobby on the first floor. Members actual and prospective were taken care of by a reception committee headed by L. D. Mitchell, and an effort was made to acquaint the visitors with each other as rapidly as possible. For the men a program was given. The Young Men's Christian association male quarter opened with a song and several encores and were followed for two or three numbers each by Dr. A. D. Laird with Lis cornet, the Francis Potter string orchestra and Ed F. Thompson, humorist. After the program State Secretary Bailey introduced each member of the office force William Parker, membership secretary told something of the attractions which man and declaring that there would be 2,000 members by 1908.

The social was then adjourned to the gallery of the gymnasium, from where the excess of last year, it has not yet reached crowd witnessed the torture of thirteen unlucky new members who were unfortunate enough to have joined on the thirand this is done. At the second meeting some hustling must be done between now teenth day of the month. They were set to rooster fighting, blindfolded boxing contests and blindfolded races, to the delight and amusement of the spectators and their own discomfiture.

Refreshments followed and in the main obby punch and cakes were served as long as any one cared to stay:

At the boys' reception, which was independent of the other social, a program and a number of exhibitions were given. The quartet and the orchestra gave sev eral selections and E. W. Misener delivered humorous recitations. After speeches inviting the boys to avail themselves of the opportunity to become members, they were escorted to the swimming pool. where fancy swimmers gave an exhibition and then up to the gymnasium to watch the Young Men's Christian association tumbling team

The affair was attended by about 506 nen and boys together and was another successful boost for the organization.

Once Champion, Mrs. Sims Now Preaches Against Cards.

MAKES WOMEN FORGET HOME

Declares the Gaming Table is Priucipal Competitor of Church and Family in Minds of Feminine Devotees.

Once the champion woman whist player of the United States, Mrs. A. B. Sims of Des Moines has turned away from the giltedged deck and is lecturing on the evils of card playing. Once she spent the whole day and part of the night at the card table; now she mounts the platform at every opportunity to tell people that Christianity and cards will not go together.

"The card craze as it prevails among the women of this country is the most serious ompetitor the church has today," she says, It is causing them to abandon home and church interests."

Mrs. Sims was the only woman who appeared on the lecture platform at the Winona Bible conference at Winona, Ind., recently, and her subject was "Card Play-

She was already the acknowledged champion or Des Moines. Her home was filled with hand-painted china, cut glass, buttons and medals won in contests at whist. Mrs. Sims is a niece of Robert Bonner, the New York horseman, who never entered a horse for a cash prize, and Mrs. Sims has never played cards for money.

"It was not uncommon," said Mrs. Shus, for me to begin playing whist at 10 a. m. and continuo at the table until 11 p. m. I belong to Christ church in Des Moines and when I was most active at the card table, I was also trying to do work in the

"I continued to play cards up to Decembe 17, 1906. I had spent years studying whist from a scientific standpoint. I had given as much thought to the game as a minister of a church would give to the Scriptures Toward the close of my card career I declared that I would give up euchre and bridge whist parties, but would never abandon the regulation game of whist. On December 17, last year, the Presbyterian evangelistic committee was holding a campaign n Des Moines and on that date I heard Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman preach on 'Amusements.' When the service was over I was so weak that I had to be helped to a carriage to get home. I made up my mind that I would never touch a card again."
