

GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Opening is Strong and Sound Export Basis Obtains. TRADE IS LIGHT WITH IT ALL Put on the Market by Brokers and It is Well Taken.

OMAHA, Sept. 19, 1907. The market opened in a good, strong position this morning, being on a sound export basis and prices were up some. Trade was light and traders were taking moderate profits on spot.

Table with columns: Articles, Open, High, Low, Close, Yesterday's. Rows include Wheat, Corn, Oats, Beans, etc.

OMAHA CASH PRICES

Table listing prices for various commodities like Wheat, Corn, Oats, Beans, etc.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Features of the Trading and Closing Prices of Leading Trade. CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Wheat for delivery passed the dollar mark today and sold at 1.04 3/4.

CORN AND WHEAT REGION BULLETIN

For the twenty-four hours ending at 8 p. m. 16th meridian time, Thursday, September 19, 1907.

OMAHA DISTRICT

Table showing weather conditions for various locations in the OMAHA district.

DISTRICT AVERAGES

Table showing average weather data for the district.

New York General Market

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—SUGAR—Raw steady; refined 4.60; centrifugal 3.50.

Delaware Grain Market

DULUTH, Sept. 19.—WHEAT—No. 1 hard, 82c; No. 2, 81c; No. 3, 80c.

Peoria Grain Market

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 19.—CORN—No. 2 yellow, 54c; No. 3, 53c.

NEW YORK STOCK AND BONDS

Market is Uneasy and Dealings Are Largely Professional. SHARP RISE IN UNION PACIFIC Its Action Due to Cloud of Rumors, All of Them Unconfirmed and Many Palpably Absurd.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The sources from which sprang the bad speculation feeding prevalent in the stock market today would be difficult to denote accurately.

Special movements in individual stocks from time to time have given the market positions of development favoring these properties. Such was the recent movement of the Burlington, which was apparently induced by surmises of a readjustment of control of the Burlington, which would be followed by its growing subsidiaries to such an extent that Union Pacific held the place in the market that was previously held by the Hill stocks.

But the resistance offered by the general list of stocks to the decline in the metal stocks was made a subject of favorable interpretation on the part of the market.

The continued rise in the New York City bonds and the influence on the bond market and was a helpful influence on the whole market.

These quotations are furnished by Logan & Bryan, members New York and Boston Stock exchanges, 112 Board of Trade.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 19.—WHEAT—Higher; No. 1 hard, 82c; No. 2, 81c; No. 3, 80c.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 19.—WOOL—Quiet; No. 1, 1.10; No. 2, 1.05; No. 3, 1.00.

Evaporated Apples and Dried Fruits

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—EVAPORATED Apples—Market is quiet, but prices are firm.

Dried Fruits—Fruit are unchanged

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 19.—WOOL—Quiet; No. 1, 1.10; No. 2, 1.05; No. 3, 1.00.

OMAHA LIVE STOCK MARKET

No Very Great Change in Prevailing Cattle Values. HOGS CONTINUE ON DOWN GRADE Moderate Receipts of Sheep and Lambs, but Steady on Killers, but Steady on Good Feeders.

RECEIPTS: Cattle, Hogs, Sheep. OFFICIAL: Monday, 1,148; Tuesday, 1,148; Wednesday, 1,148; Thursday, 1,148.

Four days this week 11,200 head of cattle were marketed. The following table shows the average prices for the last several days, with comparisons.

INDICATES RANGE OF PRICES. CATTLE: Hogs, Sheep. CHICAGO LIVE STOCK MARKET: Cattle, Hogs, Sheep.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—CATTLE—Receipts, 1,148 head; market steady; choice export, $10.00; fair to good, $9.50.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 19.—CATTLE—Receipts, 1,148 head; market steady; native shipping and export, $10.00.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 19.—SHEEP—Receipts, 1,148 head; market steady; native shipping and export, $10.00.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 19.—PORK—Receipts, 1,148 head; market steady; native shipping and export, $10.00.

ST. JOSEPH LIVE STOCK MARKET

ST. JOSEPH, Sept. 19.—CATTLE—Receipts, 1,148 head; market steady; native shipping and export, $10.00.

ST. JOSEPH LIVE STOCK MARKET

ST. JOSEPH, Sept. 19.—SHEEP—Receipts, 1,148 head; market steady; native shipping and export, $10.00.

IN THE FORUM OF THE PEOPLE

Casey and Grogan Bemoan Rise in Necessities of Life. EVEN DIAMONDS ARE HIGHER At Sorenson Lays Down Profound Argument for Never Catching Another Man's Runaway Hat.

"I see by 'th' Red Rag," said Mr. Casey, "as he dropped his pig to light his pipe that all his necessities as life are going up."

"That is 'th' news," asked Mr. Grogan. "Sure, 'th' Rag said last night the diamonds are up 50 cents, and the pig before it silk underwear. Only Monday I saw 'th' diamond was a smart one, an' 'th' pig frocked like a diamond case to anybody but a misanthrope. No body but Jawn D. can afford to give an' don't see how anybody is covin' to be 'th' fool for 'th' childer."

"An' now," went on Mr. Casey, "I see in the Rag today 'th' laundry is about to raise 'th' price of 'th' fried shirts to 17 cents. It's nothin' but robbery. A man with $1.00 a day can't stand all this proverty."

"Don't do that; don't ever try to catch another man's hat," remarked Alfred Sorenson, the will-be senator, to his friend John O. Yeiser, as the latter made a dive for a hat that was howling down Parnass street.

It was a strange thing for Colonel Sorenson to say, and Yeiser was surprised. "No, don't be surprised at me," said Sorenson, "that's a thing in which untold thousands of our fellow citizens can remember the time when I, too, would try to catch another fellow's hat when the wind was carrying it far, far away, but that time has passed. I was going down this very sidewalk a few years ago on a day much better than this. A fine hat came rushing by on the edge of the brim. The owner was a block in the rear. I made just one dive and seized the hat which I returned to its owner in safety. But in the interval my own hat, which happened to be a brand new one, had been blown away, and I was hard on its way toward the goal of destruction. I say destruction advisedly for when I recovered the hat it was absolutely worthless as far as wearing was concerned. My friend, whose hat I had advertised, was not so fortunate. 'To bad, old man, sorry I can't help you.' 'No, John, don't ever run for the other fellow's hat.'"

Speaking of the manner in which honest men are being treated, said a business man who had just moved into another domicile, "I believe the real estate agents and the moving van people are in cahoots. At any rate the van people have hoisted their prices from $1.50 to $1.80 an hour. So that if you have any goods to be advertised, you had better get them moved before you don't. In other words, if your landlord raises your rent you might as well grin and bear it, for if you happen to be fortunate enough to get a cheaper house the mover will stick you. It's a case of advertised, or you'll have to pay, or of that kind. I don't know what you can do, but I believe if you don't, your own red and blue will end up on yellow."

"I preach the gospel of advertising Omaha in the east by individual effort," said a business man, "I do not like to see an advertisement, for I do not like to see one undertaken, but I believe the city could get a lot more advertisement than it has. If its citizens would do a little more talking when they are away from home. Let them take a little more time to talk to the advertiser, and they would have a better chance of getting a better price for their goods. I believe if you don't, your own red and blue will end up on yellow."

Dakota Wesleyan's Opening

MITCHELL, S. D., Sept. 19.—(Special)—Dakota Wesleyan university yesterday began the fall term with an attendance of students that was highly gratifying to President Nicholson and the faculty.

Little Fellow Leaps from High Free

A squirrel that lives in a big tree near Charles Metz's house at 560 South Twenty-first street is so "sassy" that he jumped from the fence to a woman's arm the other day. She screamed and he ran for his life, but the poor squirrel was so terrified that he fell from the topmost bough of his tree. It was perhaps the first time in months he had been frightened. There is no more fearless squirrel in Omaha. He hopped up on the porch and frisked about the cats and will him. He is a great favorite with the little daughter, Fred Metz, who takes pains to drive bad dogs away from the squirrel tree.

Woman is Fatally Hurt

ST. JOSEPH, Sept. 19.—Mrs. Thomas E. Barrett of Sandy City, Utah, was probably the most unfortunate woman to be killed by a train in the history of the state.

The woman was killed by a train at Sandy City, Utah, on the morning of September 18. She was 45 years of age and was traveling with her husband and two children. The train was traveling from Sandy City to St. Joseph.

The woman was killed by a train at Sandy City, Utah, on the morning of September 18. She was 45 years of age and was traveling with her husband and two children. The train was traveling from Sandy City to St. Joseph.

The woman was killed by a train at Sandy City, Utah, on the morning of September 18. She was 45 years of age and was traveling with her husband and two children. The train was traveling from Sandy City to St. Joseph.

The woman was killed by a train at Sandy City, Utah, on the morning of September 18. She was 45 years of age and was traveling with her husband and two children. The train was traveling from Sandy City to St. Joseph.

The woman was killed by a train at Sandy City, Utah, on the morning of September 18. She was 45 years of age and was traveling with her husband and two children. The train was traveling from Sandy City to St. Joseph.

The woman was killed by a train at Sandy City, Utah, on the morning of September 18. She was 45 years of age and was traveling with her husband and two children. The train was traveling from Sandy City to St. Joseph.

The woman was killed by a train at Sandy City, Utah, on the morning of September 18. She was 45 years of age and was traveling with her husband and two children. The train was traveling from Sandy City to St. Joseph.

The woman was killed by a train at Sandy City, Utah, on the morning of September 18. She was 45 years of age and was traveling with her husband and two children. The train was traveling from Sandy City to St. Joseph.

Woman is Fatally Hurt

ST. JOSEPH, Sept. 19.—Mrs. Thomas E. Barrett of Sandy City, Utah, was probably the most unfortunate woman to be killed by a train in the history of the state.

The woman was killed by a train at Sandy City, Utah, on the morning of September 18. She was 45 years of age and was traveling with her husband and two children. The train was traveling from Sandy City to St. Joseph.

Woman is Fatally Hurt

ST. JOSEPH, Sept. 19.—Mrs. Thomas E. Barrett of Sandy City, Utah, was probably the most unfortunate woman to be killed by a train in the history of the state.

The woman was killed by a train at Sandy City, Utah, on the morning of September 18. She was 45 years of age and was traveling with her husband and two children. The train was traveling from Sandy City to St. Joseph.

The woman was killed by a train at Sandy City, Utah, on the morning of September 18. She was 45 years of age and was traveling with her husband and two children. The train was traveling from Sandy City to St. Joseph.

The woman was killed by a train at Sandy City, Utah, on the morning of September 18. She was 45 years of age and was traveling with her husband and two children. The train was traveling from Sandy City to St. Joseph.

The woman was killed by a train at Sandy City, Utah, on the morning of September 18. She was 45 years of age and was traveling with her husband and two children. The train was traveling from Sandy City to St. Joseph.

The woman was killed by a train at Sandy City, Utah, on the morning of September 18. She was 45 years of age and was traveling with her husband and two children. The train was traveling from Sandy City to St. Joseph.

The woman was killed by a train at Sandy City, Utah, on the morning of September 18. She was 45 years of age and was traveling with her husband and two children. The train was traveling from Sandy City to St. Joseph.

The woman was killed by a train at Sandy City, Utah, on the morning of September 18. She was 45 years of age and was traveling with her husband and two children. The train was traveling from Sandy City to St. Joseph.

The woman was killed by a train at Sandy City, Utah, on the morning of September 18. She was 45 years of age and was traveling with her husband and two children. The train was traveling from Sandy City to St. Joseph.

Woman is Fatally Hurt

ST. JOSEPH, Sept. 19.—Mrs. Thomas E. Barrett of Sandy City, Utah, was probably the most unfortunate woman to be killed by a train in the history of the state.

The woman was killed by a train at Sandy City, Utah, on the morning of September 18. She was 45 years of age and was traveling with her husband and two children. The train was traveling from Sandy City to St. Joseph.