OMAHA TESTIMONY.

Mrs. Anna Gorham, 1109 North Eleventh street, Omaha, Neb., says: "In 1899 when I first learned of, and used Doan's Kidney Pills, I had been having kidney complaint for about three years. I had tried doctors and various kinds of medicines, but still backache, headache and dizziness clung to me constantly. When I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, I was so weak that I could not do anything. The improvement they made in my condition was wonderful. They restored me to good health and as proof that the relief was lasting, I can say that I did not have occasion to use them until some few months ago. I then had a slight attack of backache, but a prompt use of Doan's Kidney Pills banished it. They certainly are a preparation of great merit."

The South Omaha bank officials are to entertain the state convention of the Nebraska Bankers' association today. Cars are to be provided to bring the delegation to South Omaha at an early hour. During the forenoon the convention will visit one or more of the packing houses. The Omaha plant will be first visited. At noon lunchcon will be served at the exchange dining hall. The arrangements for this are under the charge of Mr. Folda of the Union Stock Yards National bank. Mr. Folda is preparing to show the South Omaha interests to great advantage. Among things with which the South Omaha bankers wish to impress the convention is the enormous amount of business developed by the packing houses and Stock exchange. One of the most evident proofs of this that can be approximated is that the clearings of the South Omaha banks are a large per cent of the total clearings of the two cities combined. It is not unusual for a South Omaha bank to handle checks and drafts for over $150,000 in a day. These are being constantly sent out and most of the clearings are made in Omaha. A visit to any that time the matter has been in litigation. If Riches should win at the hearing October 3 then it would be impossible to oust him before the expiration of the license next May. The peculiar point in the case is that Riches is required to have a license for a particular building and that the license, once secured, cannot be made to cover a removal. So if he is ousted it would be necessary to secure a new license at the cost of $1,000. Magie City Gossip.

Mr. Taylor said: I think the phrase "street lighting" should be changed to "sidewalk lighting." It is far more important that walks should be well lighted than the street, for it is here that the larger per cent of travel oc-count of trees, is necessarily much darker than the street. The lighting of streets by arcs is most common, due chiefly to two reasons—first, the original cost of installation for a sys-tem that can be controlled from the central station is less than with incandescents; second, the arc lamp was, until recently, the only form of electrical illuminant at all practical for street lighting. Within the last few years improvements have been made that render the incandescent practical for this class of work. The lower of a light to penetrate dark-ness or carry long distances is determined by its color rays. The light from an arc being composed principally of blues and violets will not penetrate nearly so far as that rain can deconstripally of blues and violets will not penetrate nearly so far as that rain can decossing, where a brilliant light is needed and there are no trees to be dealt with, but in the residence districts.

"When my son Walter was three weeks old, eczema appeared on his face. We did not know what it was so went to a doctor who treated him for three months. Then he was so bad that his face * S and head were nothing but one sore and his ears looked as if the were going to fall off, so we tried another doctor. He said he could oure him and we doctored there four months, the baby never getting any better. His hand and legs then had big sores on them and as for his sleeping, we could not think of it, the poor little fellow suf-fered so terribly. First I tied his hands to the orib to keep him from scratching, but when it got so bad I tied him in a shawl or he would scratch himself all shawl or he would scratch himself all bloody. When he was seven months old we tried a set of the Cutioura Remedies. The first application of Culicura let him sleep and rest well, in one week the sorts were gone but it stayed red and sometimes it would itch so we used Culicura for two months, then he had a clear and white face. Now he is two were suit some months old and had a clear and white face. Now he is two years and seven months old and has never had eczema again. Put Through Run and Paddling Till He Faints.

AMES, Ia., Sept. 20.-(Special.)-Notwithstanding the fact that early reports were other side amounts to just as great an item, sent out from Ames to the effect that plus the profits. With these figures at hand this year, there appears to have been a few very severe cases and some are getting At the convention of the Iowa Elks to- initiations yet that are not the most pleasday it was decided to make a bid to get ant. The first case to attract attention the next national convention of the order | was that of Roy Shearer of Gilbert, who was not very strong at all and was somewhat under the weather in addition to this boy who would appeal to the crowd as a bully or it seems who would come in for rough treatment at any time, but he was used so roughly that he was compelled to remain out of school for some days.

Another case that was probably the worst case that has appeared at the college for some time past, was that of a young man whose name has not been made public. A crowd of sophomores took him, in company with several freshmen, one evening for a stroll in the country. A swift speed was kept up all the way and some distance out in the country the boys were put on the run. This was kept up for some time until the young man who was not feeling well that evening fainted completely away. It is said that the young man himself holds no grudge against the fellows who did it, but attributes the entire result to his condition on the evening of the occurrence. He is somewhat inclined to think that a few members were rather rough with paddles they used upon him, however. When he fainted the offenders planned to call a physician, but finally got him somewhat revived with cold water and did not call medical aid. They carried him to a nearby farm house, where he was kept during the night, and he himself did not know what had happened to him until the next morning. The report went out at first that the bunch of sophomores ran in relays against him in an attempt to sweat him. This is not true, but they saw long before he gave way that his condition was not normal.

A third case somewhat similar to the one two or three years ago was that of a young man who is rooming in the city of Ames. The crowd had already hazed him twice and attempted to do the trick a third time. This young man was no fondling and had a notion that the play had gone far enough. Accordingly he drew a revolver on the crowd and they retreated. An occasion of this kind two or three years ago resulted in a student being quite badly shot. This young man did not have occasion to shoot anyone after showing his inclination to do so if they continued to molest him, but it is rumored that the crowd have made their boasts that they will get him yet, and should they attempt he may bring his revolver into play.

Iowa News Notes.

ATLANTIC-Cass county farmers have begun to worry about the continued drouth. There has not been a rain for two weeks and pastures are drying up, wells and streams running low and the ground is too dry to plow. The corn is ripening fast, in many cases too fast, and in the city the dust is two inches deep in most places. nost places.

IOWA CITY-Miss Tatsu Hoki of Tokio, Japan, registered at the university today. She is a college graduate seeking to do post graduate work. She is the first Japa-ness woman to enter the State university of Iowa, although numerous Japanese men have attended that institution in the past. One of the Tokio men of the summer sea-son of 1307, Choyloi Kondo, induced Miss Hoki to come to Jowa City.

New Bottling Plant Opens. The Jetter Brewing company will open its new bottling plant Monday morning. This building has been in the process of erection all summer. The last of the machinery was set in position this week. The capacity of the new machinery is 34,000 bottles per vention at Waterloo, the second Wednesday when he entered school. He was not a day. This is represented by 150 barrels of beer. The machinery consists of the latest patterns in bottling machines, which are propelled by eleven motors. The plant furnishes its own electrical power. The beer is piped to the bottling works from the large tank collars in an underground system. Martin Jetter expressed much satisfaction yesterday afternoon over the completion of the work. Special attention will be given to visitors who wish to see the new plant in operation. Rushing Work on Sewers.

The National Construction company is busy installing machinery on the big sewer contract. It is hoped that the lower section of the tunnel may be completed before cold weather, so that the work in the tunnel section may continue all winter. It is now proposed to work at both ends of the tunnel. To give room for another crew of workmen a shaft will be sunk at Fifteenth and Monroe streets to the level of the proposed tunnel and the earth will be lifted by hoist and the work proceed in both directions from the foot of the shaft. This will be a great advantage unless water in large volumes should be encountered. In that case the cost of steam pumps would be considerable. The tunnel will be nearly 2,000 feet long when completed. The inside diameter is eight feet.

Police Court Busy.

Several tedious cases were tried in po lice court yesterday involving a number of contentions. The first was the case of Charles Tracy, who was arrested by the city building inspector, W. A. Mc-Clintock, for alleged interference in the performance of the inspector's duty. This occurred September 9. McClintock testified that Tracy had abused him, using vile language. The court fined Tracy $5 and couts.

The second case occupied the entire afternoon. Frank Viga and his brother-inlaw, Stephanski, had two men named Ordrowski and Koweleski arrested for assault and battery. The two latter men gave Stephanski a beating while Viga was out calling for the police. The quarrel arose over the price of board charged by Viga. Judge King imposed a fine of $10 and costs on the principal offender. The other was fined $5.

In the case of John Riches against the Live Stock National bank, newly organized, which case involved the possession of the McDonald block, where the new bank proposes to open business. John Riches, through his attorneys in the supreme court, secured a stay of execution on the writ of ouster which Sheriff McDonaid was to have served and which had been issued by the district court. This stay holds good until October 2. when the case will come to hearing be-building and gave Rickes notice to vacats. Riches refused to go, and since
