NEBRASKA FROM DAY TO DAY

Quant and Curious Features of Life in a Rapidly Growing State.

They have a new doctor at Johnson, though it is possible he was out for a lawyer and missed his calling. His name is Skinner.—Auburn Granger.

Signs—When a girl from the country comes to town in the morning, wearing a white dress, white hat and an anxious expression and stands around the dry goods stores, accompanied by a frightened-looking young man in new clothes, she really should not become angry if a newspaper reporter scents a wedding and inquires about it. But she does.—Bellevue Gazette.

Fraternism—Wallace Wiggins, Jud Moore and others went over Sunday and covered Mrs. Ed Miller's house with tar paper (Mr. Miller being gone). With a stick baby and the cold rain pouring in it leaked for busy action if it was Sunday. Such little acts of kindness makes us better, makes the world better and makes the world brighter for those who need our help. A friend in need is a friend indeed.—Platte Valley News.

And Afterwards Comes the Resting Up—When the chicken season opens the lovers of the dog and cat will have the rarest sport that any man ever enjoyed. To expectantly trail a covey of fine birds, with every nerve and muscle at attention, and to finally flush them and bring them down when they flutter up into the air gives a thrill that sets like wine on the blood. And the long tramp across the prairie carrying the gun and watching the dog whets the appetite till the trophies of the hunt become such toothful viands as no king ever enjoyed at his royal feast. The following are liberally and by force break away from their business a little while every autumn to seek this sport in the fastnesses of the prairie and are to be commended for their good sense in not passing up one of the things that makes life worth the living.—Tremont Tribune.

Don't Cuss—Don't cuss the Exeter hotels because they haven't room and food for everybody. The town is booming and short restaurants from a year ago. Don't cuss the lot owners in the burned district for not building sooner. Try to buy a few blocks for quick delivery and see how it goes. Don't cuss the republican party for nominating Hod Porter; you might be a republican party yourself some day. Don't cuss the railroad for hauling a 30-pound hog to Lincoln for 20 cents and charging you 50 cents for similar accommodations; a hog needs a little comfort, anyway, and you dodge the packing house. Don't cuss the school teachers for not making a steaksman out of a fool; consider the question of peddlers. Don't cuss yourself for getting in the state fair jam; think how many other idiots there were. Don't cuss the town board for being too slow about building the water works; the chances are that you never built it—and don't know anything about it.—Exeter Enterprise.

Business Change at Auburn.

AUBURN, Neb., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—A business deal of considerable importance was closed yesterday, whereby Edward Grant of Kansas City, Mo., becomes the owner of the Williams Grocery company's store. ROSE AND PERKINS TO QUIT

Neither Has Time from Official Duties to Accept Places Respectively of Chairman and Secretary of State Committee.

LINCOLN, Sept. 20.—(Special.)—The noticeable absence of Governor Sheldon from the meeting held at the Lindell hotel Wednesday night, at which plans were discussed for the capture of the chairmanship and secretaryship of the republican state committee, has created considerable comment. The governor, it is known, was invited to the meeting but did not attend. After those invited had conferred for a while, a runner was sent to get Judge Reese to attend. The judge, however, was out of the city, so not a single candidate was present at the session, though all the candidates are vitally interested in the organization of the committee. The law provides that the state committee shall elect its own chairman and secretary. This committee will be selected at the state convention, to be held next Tuesday. Governor Sheldon does not believe any one person or set of persons not authorized by law should select the chairman. Some of the state officers are considerably stirred up over the action of the volunteers in assuming to do the work of the state committee. Some of the names of the candidates for re-election next year, and the chairman and secretary selected Thursday will map out the campaign for the coming year, and consequently it is of the greatest importance to these candidates, as well as to the party, that men be selected who can harmonize all factions, and who are big enough to work for the success of the entire ticket rather than of one particular candidate.

At this time both W. B. Rose, present chairman, and Clark Perkins, present secretary, are self-eliminated from the contest, as both are too busy with their state work to permit of their serving. Ross Hammond would suit Senator Burkett for chairman, and also Judge Frost, neither of whom have any special interest at stake at this time, but Mr. Hammond is not sure that he wants the job or could afford to take it. It is likely the candidates will meet Monday and if they do they may make a recommendation to the state committee. Judge Reese said today he would meet with the candidates, but until he did he had nothing to say about a chairman. The state committee has the final say and it may or may not accept the nominees of the candidates.

Successor to Rameiocetti Discussed.

The veterinary board will meet shortly and select a successor to Dr. Rameiocetti, deceased, member of the board and secretary. Governor Sheldon received a report at Omaha last night that one of the bankers became sick at the stomach after riding the "green horse" at the den, and he intends to vote for a man qualified to doctor up said horse so he will not have the same effect on him.

School District Saved Cash.

Ed Lawrence, bond clerk in the office of the auditor, has saved school district No. 9, Thurston county, just $217.50 by catching an error in a bond issue of $800 sent in by the trustees to be registered. The bonds were for $100 each and ran from one to ten years after 1909, at 5 1/2 per cent. Each coupon called for $100 and the interest, instead of for the time the bond ran.

Commission Saves Woman's Cash.

Mrs. F. A. Draper of Cedar Rapids, Ia., is under obligations to the State Railway commission for saving her $4.55 which she said had been charged her by the Union Pacific for storage on her baggage. Mrs. Draper took the advice of the commission when returning home from Frexley, Colo., and bought her ticket to the first station in Nebraska, Barton. This was to get the benefit of the 2-cent fare law. When the train reached Barton, it did not stop and she was obliged to get on at Big Springs. When she finally got to Barton, it there was charged against it the $4.55. Mrs. Draper took the matter up with the commission, which wrote to the general baggage manager of the Union Pacific. Today the commission received a letter from that official stating that the charge was looked into and the matter found the facts as related by Mrs. Draper, and he assured the commission she need not pay the money.

Abby Succeeds Bailey.

Dr. S. F. Abby of Fairmont was chosen this afternoon by the State Board of Health to succeed Dr. Bailey of Lincoln, a member of the State Board of Health secretaries. The compensation is paid out of the fees of the office.

Crematory to Be Presented.

Food Commissioner Johnson has ordered the arrest of the manager of the Alderman Crematory company, which operates at Des Moines, Iowa. He will be charged with not stamping his cans with the weight, as required by law, and of neglecting to pasteurize his cream, though the printing on the packages says the cream is pasteurized. Mr. Johnson has filed a complaint with Clay county and has ordered the county attorney of Clay county to institute rigid prosecution.

Sheldon Goes to Keokuk.

Governor Sheldon has accepted the invitation issued by the city of Keokuk, Ia., to assist in entertaining President Roosevelt. October 1, Mr. Sheldon will join the presidential party and will also visit his plantation in W. Vassie, Miss.

Mercury Makes Quick Drop.

After several days of oppressive heat a cold wave invaded southern Nebraska this morning. The mercury was reported as low as 40 degrees in southwestern Nebraska. No frost was reported.

Capital Briefs.

Attorney General Thompson has prepared the answer for the State Railway commission to be filed in federal court at Omaha next Monday at the time the application of the railroad companies for an injunction is heard. The answer will not be made public until that time.

After the hearing of the injunction suits at Omaha next Monday the State Railway commission, a member of it, will take a whirl at the Missouri Pacific again to see if its recommendations are being carried out according to agreement.

C. Charles Jones, driving an automobile with this angle tacked on its back, "No hills too steep; no sand too deep," was fined fifty dollars and costs by Police Judge Cosgrave this morning for exceeding the speed limit. Jones was fined $100 when the assessment was made and demanded a receipt. As he talked too saucy, Judge Cosgrave took his money and refused the receipt. Jones lives at Beatrice and is the first man that ever got too fast for Lincoln.

WE DO NOT CLAIM

to sell all the good clothes sold in Omaha—but we do claim that all the clothes we sell are good clothes.

Not only must every garment we sell be cut to fit properly—from the best fabrics—with due regard to the various style-points demanded by correct dressers—but it must be made by skilled workmen in such a manner as to guarantee its good looks until laid aside—over a dozen of the best makers vie with each other to produce such garments for us—but perhaps the greatest wonder is that we sell them at prices usually asked for inferior goods—but so it is—if you don't know it ask some friend who trades here.

ANOTHER POINT TO REMEMBER is that when a lower price than our's is quoted it is not for the same class of merchandise—not by several degrees of value.

Vacancy on Ticket Filled.
BLOOMFIELD, Neb., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the republican county central committee held in this city yesterday, F. C. Marshall, present county superintendent of Knox county, was appointed to fill the vacancy on the republican ticket caused by the death of J. C. Elliott, candidate for clerk of the district court. Mr. Elliott was drowned near Center before the holding of the primary election, and it is the case which puzzled the secretary of state as well as a large number of attorneys. The appointment by the committee is the only way that the republicans could have a candidate for district clerk on the ticket.

Dahlman at Chadron Fair.
CHADRON, Neb., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—The Dawson county fair opened yesterday with tremendous crowds. One train from the east brought in ten cars. A special train from Crawford brought a large crowd. The principal features are the fine display of corn, fully matured, and Mayor "Jim" Dahlman's old settler speech. The pioneers were pleased, as well as astonished, that "Jim" could speak like the governor does. Fine local races entertained the people. Captain Sweet, a pioneer settler on the "Gumbo," had the finest precinct show from Whitney and it equaled any display ever made from ground not irrigated.

Anti-Treat Prosecution Falls.
PLATTSMOUTH, Neb., Sept. 20.—(Special.)—The first case under the anti-treating law was tried before Justice Archer today. Clyde Jones testified that Henry Burroughs treated four persons to beer in the saloon of Hendricks and gave the bartender a fifty-cent piece to pay for the same, and the latter rang up twenty cents. The saloon keeper and returned thirty cents. The accused of accepting a treat, testified that his statement was not true. The judge decided that the preponderance of evidence was for the defendant. Three of the cases were withdrawn.
