ANTI-MORMONS WILL WIN

American Party Slated for Victory by Salt Lake Mayor.

HE AND COUNCILMEN IN OMAHA

Come to Inspect Streets and Public Works with View of Securing Suggestions of Improvement at Home.

"I do not care to enter into a general discussion of the Mormon question as it pertains to our city and state politics, but I will make this prediction, that the American party—anti-Mormon—will be generally successful in the fall elections which will turn on a three-cornered contest," said Mayor J. S. Bransford of Salt Lake City, who is at the head of a delegation of city councilmen inspecting the streets and public works of Omaha for the purpose of securing suggestions for improvements at home.

In company with Mayor Dahlgren and City Engineer Rosewater the party is riding over the city in automobiles inspecting street paving and other public works and service.

The party has been away from home for several weeks and has inspected city service and methods in a number of cities, including Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Chicago and Kansas City. The principal reason for its trip is the fact that Salt Lake City is in process of developing its lighting facilities. Heretofore electricity has been the only form of street lighting used. A new gas company has recently completed a plant and desired to secure a contract for lighting some of the streets. Under its contract it supplies fuel gas at 90 cents per 1,000 cubic feet and illuminating gas at $1.20 per 1,000 cubic feet.

The Harriman interests have now acquired the street car system of Salt Lake City and are planning improvements which include a large central electric generating plant which will supply electricity for both lighting and power purposes. Heretofore the electric supply has been secured from water power outside of the city and transmitted for several miles, one company supplying lights for both Salt Lake City and Ogden. Because of the low stage of water in summer this power is not as reliable as the coal power plant. The city also is just completing a water system on the gravelly plain and extensive operations are being planned. For all of these reasons it was decided to send a party of councilmen to see how such work is done at other places. Omaha is the last point on the trip and the mayor and his friends will return home Thursday morning.

Mayor Bransford was chosen by the city council to fill a vacancy and his term will expire this fall. He has been nominated for office by the American party and will face a three-cornered fight in the election. He declined to discuss Mormon state politics, but said that in a three-cornered fight the American (anti-Mormon) party would have the best chance of success, if recent elections are any criterion.

Speaking of the growth of Salt Lake City, he said the increase in population since 1900 has been nearly 50,000 and that there is not a vacant house in the town.

MAYOR'S FRIEND WANTS WIFE

Schoolmaster Comes from Crawford County and Must Have Mate.

One of Mayor Dahlgren's former constituents in Omaha is in search of a wife. He is Charles W. Jones, who says he is a teacher in district No. 63, Crawford county, and that his home address is Crawford.

Mr. Jones reached Omaha Tuesday and immediately went to the home of Rev. Frank L. Loveland, pastor of the First Methodist church. He explained that he was in search of a wife and asked for advice. Mr. Loveland referred him to S. P. Morris, secretary of the Associated Charities. He hurried to the city hall and preferred his request to Mr. Morris, saying he desired to leave for home with his wife and that he would be willing to stay in Omaha two days so his prospective wife could become acquainted with him before the ceremony. To Mr. Morris he explained that he had been married, but that his wife had run away with another man and that he found himself so homesick in his country work he felt impelled to secure a helpmate at the earliest possible moment. He said he had references in plenty and had come prepared to convince any woman of his standing in the community and of the seriousness of his intentions, but he had a wife and that before Thursday night.

LICENSE HITS CLUBS HARD

May Force Some to Drop Refreshment Adjunct and Be Met by Others.

Prospects of necessity of taking out a city license for the sale of liquor has created considerable interest in club circles in Omaha and a number of the clubs face a proposition to increase the membership dues sufficiently to raise the $1,000 to pay for the license. The matter has been discussed at the Field club and some of the members favor abolishing the buffet rather than to pay the license fee, while others desire to meet the additional cost by increasing the dues.

The Tet Jot Sokol membership is talking of abolishing the refreshment room and permitting a regularly licensed dealer to have the concession of selling liquor on the premises to club members only. Some members of the Elks lodge have indicated a desire to meet the fee and continue as heretofore. Members of political and social clubs, such as the Dahlgren Democracy club, are still "up in the air." The members are confident that any rule which will include the other clubs will also govern their case and they are inclined to let the larger organizations fight the matter if any fight is to be made. One of the leaders of the Dahlgren Democracy club said:

"If we must take out a license after January 1 to distribute liquor to the members, we will do so, provided we don't abolish the buffet. The matter is one really more important to such clubs as the Turners than to us, for, while we dispense liquor to members it is a very small part of our business and we could maintain our organizations without a single sale feature."

KEEP THE STREETS CLEAR

All indications are now that we will have more people in our city this week and next than we have ever had before during the Ak-Sar-Ben festivities. The streets will naturally be crowded by visitors and our own people. It is therefore necessary that the sidewalks from Chicago to Howard streets on Sixteenth, on Farnam from Thirteenth to Nineteenth and on Douglas from Thirteenth to Seventeenth be kept open for the use of the people; therefore no chairs, seats or other obstructions will be allowed at any of those streets between the points named. All side streets must be kept clear of wagons, vehicles or other obstructions. All heavy wagons loaded or unloaded must be kept off the streets laid out for the parades; during such parades other streets may be used. I also ask those who are using part of the streets on which to place building material to clear this away and clean up so as to make all the room possible.

I respectfully ask that this order and request be observed and let us all do everything in our power to have our visitors be comfortable and happy while in our city.

JAMES C. DAHLMAN, Mayor. Omaha, September 25, 1907.

ABUSE FROM HER HUSBAND

Woman Says He Humiliated Her and Took All the Money She Earned.

Far from being a blessing to his wife, is Earl J. Blessing, 40 North Fourteenth street, and former democratic candidate for justice of the peace, if the charges which she has filed against him in police court are true, and on which he has been arrested.

Pulling off his wife's stockings and abusing her in the presence of boarders, is one of the things which Blessing is accused of doing Wednesday morning, while hunting for money to convert into popularity.

As a result of Mrs. Blessing's failure to keep her stockings on fourteen hungry boarders are waiting for meals and have joined Senator LaFollette in boycotting the beef trust, and went onto a strictly vegetable diet.

After recovering her stockings Mrs. Blessing went to the police station and told her story to City Prosecutor Daniel. She is a little woman and was neatly dressed in white when she displayed her pinched arms in the attorney's office and told how she had been humiliated by her husband, to say nothing of his having taken the money which her fourteen boarders had paid her in advance.

"Now he's off spending the money for liquor," she sobbed, "and has not a cent to buy me a dinner." Mrs. Blessing has been on a spree for a week and has taken money from me a number of times, which I have earned by keeping a boarding house at 410-412 North Fourteenth street."

MILLARD GLAD WU COMES

Former Senator Expresses Pleasure that He Will Return as Minister.

"I was pleased to read that Wu Ting Fang had been reappointed minister of China to the United States," said former Senator Millard. "While I have retired from politics, I am still watching with interest the development of the far east, and I am sure the presence of Wu Ting Fang at Washington will mean much for the growth of western ideas in China and a more friendly feeling between the people. Mr. Wu is essentially a progressive, not necessarily in the noisy sense of the word, but his every thought has been for the best interests of his country, and, often handicapped by conditions, he always succeeded in creating a favorable impression for the people who sent him to America."

"I met him on several occasions and was always impressed with the straightforwardness of the man and his evident desire to impress the American people with the fact that the Chinese are not what one would imagine from acquaintance with the coolies. He is a good man for both countries and I will be glad to see him back at the post he filled so well."

STANDARD IN LOCAL COURT

Rockefeller Corporation May Be Tried in Omaha.

SENDS CIRCULARS TO OFFICIALS

Adopts Plan of Seeking to Placate Officials Before Whom it Thinks it May Be Arraigned.

The Standard Oil company has set a pace in the fine art of advertising which some alleged experts in that line of industry may do well emulate, but will find difficulty in following. The Rockefeller company shows its fine Italian hand by seeking to placate courts and prosecutors with plausible statements of its interests in litigation. The idea is said to be that of securing a fair trial in the future and that these shrewd circulars are sent to courts and to prosecutors of law breakers only before whom the Standard Oil company of Indiana. As volumes have come to Omaha officials the inference is the Standard believes it will be called on the carpet here.

The presence of several of the local representatives of the Standard Oil company and their attorneys about the federal building corridors during the session of the Standard Oil company of Indiana. The idea is said to be that of securing a fair trial in the future and that these shrewd circulars are sent to courts and to prosecutors of law breakers only before whom the Standard Oil company of Indiana. As volumes have come to Omaha officials the inference is the Standard believes it will be called on the carpet here.

The Standard Oil company recently has sent out a number of pamphlets, some of which have reached the office of the United States district attorney in Omaha, giving the Standard Oil company's view of the recent $25,000,000 fine imposed against that company by Judge Landis of Chicago. The pamphlet is addressed to the employees and stockholders of the Standard Oil company and is issued upon the authority of the directors of the company.

Context of Pamphlet. The pamphlet states: This pamphlet is issued to our employees and stockholders in which we desire to emphasize to them the fact that we are deeply interested in their welfare, the assurance of the company's absolute innocence of wrong doing in any of the prosecutions directed against it in the federal courts, in the matter of the $25,000,000 fine imposed on the Standard Oil company of Indiana. It should be as widely known as possible that this is not a case of rebates or discrimination, but simply the result of a fair trial and the verdict was obtained upon a fair and equitable basis, aided by the rigorous evidence presented against it. The case has been taken on appeal to the higher courts to which we must look for that calm judgment which will remove the rights of the citizen from the field of politics and public clamor. So persistent has been the warfare waged with all the overpowering authority of the federal administration against the Standard Oil company that it has been manifestly difficult to get a fair hearing before the public, or in a large portion of the press, the latter to its great harm swayed by socialistic outcry from below and political pressure from above. Attacks of this kind are aimed at the nation's individual and mercantile life.

Moisset on Oil Rates.

Then follows a long statement by James A. Moisset, president of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, going into detail as to the matter of oil rates in the state of Illinois. The pamphlet also contains a large number of extracts from papers all over the country in which the action of Judge Landis is characterized as playing to the galleries and various other comments treating the fine imposed by Judge Landis with levity and referring to the fine as "an hysterical episode, unjust, blow at a great industry, and the like."

District Attorney Goes to St. Louis to discuss the matter of the possibility of the Standard Oil company being investigated by the present grand jury and would neither deny or affirm that such action might be taken.

"We have received a number of pamphlets from the Standard Oil company since the imposition of the $25,000,000 fine by Judge Landis," said Mr. Goss.
