

The Removal Sale

Which begins at our store on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock must not be mistaken for an "advertising excuse." IT IS NOT. It is a LEGITIMATE method of accomplishing a COMMON SENSE RESULT. On November 1st we will open one of the handomest modern Jewelry Stores in the West in the magnificent new Hotel Loyal Building now being erected on Sixteenth street. We will occupy the Capitol avenue corner. It is our FIRM DETERMINATION to open this store with everything NEW—NEW FIXTURES—NEW MERCHANDISE—NEW IDEAS. The new fixtures are now being made—the new goods have been and are being bought—the new ideas are gradually being worked out. New fixtures in the new store means SELL THE OLD ONES—you can buy our present fixtures very cheap. New store room for us, means BENT THE OLD ONE. Want a store room? Ours is for rent. New goods in the new store means

SELL THIS STOCK OUT

And we propose to do it at prices that have never before been made on high class goods in Omaha—or the West. Think of buying a man's gold-filled open face watch with Elgin or Waltham movement, and have the case guaranteed for twenty years, for $7.75; or a hunting case watch of the same sort for $10. Think of buying a ladies' Deuber gold-filled 20-year guaranteed case watch for $9; or a ladies' SOLID GOLD 14-carat hunting case watch—full 15-jewel, with Elgin or Waltham movement for $17.50. Think of buying a set of solid silver tea spoons, in NEW PATTERNS, gray or bright finish, for $3.50; or a Dresden clock for $5; or a 9-inch gold-lined salad bowl for $2.95. Think of a $12 heavy cut glass pitcher for $6.50; a $9 cut glass cigar jar for $6; a set of handsome cut glass tumblers for $2.95, or an 8-inch cut glass bowl for $2.50. Think of a pair of pearl opera glasses for $3.95, or a $1.50 fountain pen for 75c; and think that these goods and prices are BOTH GUARANTEED—and you'll get an idea of the way we intend to MOVE MONEY instead of Merchandise on November 1st.

and to get breakfast before starting on their daily sight-seeing. The crowds are coming, though. This fact is evident at the railway stations, where every incoming train pours forth a thick crowd of the sturdy inhabitants of King Ak-Sar-Ben's realm, the great corn belt. They are prosperous-looking people, happy in the thought of big crops and great plenty laid up for the winter, and they are coming in to do honor to the king and to partake of his hospitality and to enjoy the good things he has prepared for them.

The crowd is also evident on the streets and in the stores. In the latter the volume of business is reported materially increased in the last day or two. Thrifty people kill two birds with one stone by combining pleasure and business during Ak-Sar-Ben week.

LOVERS' TUB IS JUST TOO CUTE
It's a Dear, So the Girls on the Highway Say.
"O, let's get in this nice, cozy, little round thing," said one of a quartet of girls getting on the merry-go-round in the carnival grounds.

to rotate, while the girls fell on each other's shoulders and giggled with relief. The little round thing is called a "lovers' tub" and is a comparatively new improvement on the old time merry-go-round.

HOW TO DRAW BIGGER CROWDS
Throw Hand Music Farther, Says Prof. S. E. Scott.
S. E. Scott stood in front of the great arch at the entrance to the King's Highway Wednesday evening and listened to the band, which is stationed on top of the arch. Then Mr. Scott went down Douglas street a few blocks, stopped, looked and listened, next he returned to the carnival grounds, went inside and again stopped, looked and listened very carefully.

music to penetrate its down the street to draw the crowds to the carnival. Now, a piece of canvas, stretched to the west of the band would have "the effect of throwing the music to the east. You follow mah reasoning?"

Being informed that his elucidation was clearly heard, Mr. Scott turned from his six feet two and inquired whether action would not be taken at once to make this improvement. He was referred to the board of governors with the promise that his suggestion would be given to the world through the medium of print.

STAR OUT OF THE BIG SHOW

Millie, La Blonche Somewhat Bruised Thursday in Slide at Grounds.
"W-o-o-w-o!"

With a whoop like a woman jumping from a bridge to death in waters below, Millie, La Blonche struck the net stretched to catch her, when she made her first daring slide from the northwest corner of the Brandeis building to a point inside the carnival grounds near Eighteenth and Douglas streets, at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

While strong men who started to the frail platform built on the cornice of the big building, to assist the woman get the loop under her hair and safely off the platform, weakened at the last moment, the daring woman called an electrician who was working on the building and accomplished the feat successfully. A crowd of thousands, many of whom admitted they were weak from watching the woman work on the cornice of the building, saw the first performance of the star act.

On her way to the Brandeis building, Millie, La Blonche asked for some one to assist her get started on the cable. A husky contractor and carpenter finally agreed to accompany the woman to the platform and hold her until she slid off the platform into the air, with no hold except the loop through her hair.

Standing on the cornice the carpenter contemplated the work he would be required to do. He thought of the little woman being shot through the air on the tight cable, slanting to the earth so abruptly that it seemed like dashing the woman to the pavement. Then he saw the police surgeon and the police officers at the net where the woman would strike with enormous force. It was too much for the contractor. He said he would climb the flagpole on the tower of the federal building, but he would not be a party to sending a woman to her death, nor would he work on the platform.

Then a little electrician on the roof slid over the edge into the window and came out on the platform with the woman. The crowd cheered. Many realized what had happened.

In an instant the electrician had the woman hanging by the loop, which passed under her hair, and held her in mid-air. A shot was fired and the woman in white shot through the air to the ground below.

The act is not without its dangers. On the cable half way between the top of the big building and the pavement, Millie, La Blonche waves her handkerchief at the crowd. The second later she raises her hands above her head, grasps the loop and unfurls it from her hair. She hits the net holding firmly by the hands.

BEYSDORFER WATCHES HIS SHIP
Failure of Water Supply Prevents Ascension Thursday.
"Shiver my timbers," said Navigator Baysdorfer of the Ak-Sar-Ben airship, giving a hitch to his trousers, a habit which sailors have, "this boat may not leave the earth today, but it will be ready to pour into those sulphuric acid tanks at a faster rate."

Inconveniences in the water supply prevented the Baysdorfer-Yager airship from sailing Thursday afternoon, but Navigator Baysdorfer will make up "MUGGY," the ship's boat, at 6 o'clock Friday morning, ascend the rigging, feel of the atmosphere and leave the harbor Friday afternoon without fail.

The brig, known as the "Baysdorfer-Yager airship," but which Ak-Sar-Ben visitors have named "Sam" for short, was made in Omaha by the daring navigators, after whom the ship is named. Its trial trips were at Dietz park and it has had a number of successful journeys. The makers are Omahans and have several new devices for steering the ship. Instead of using a rudder, the ship will climb through the air by shifting the propeller on a knuckle joint. Navigators of the saturated ambient declare the brig, known as "Sam," has every possibility of making any number of successful voyages.

At 9 o'clock Thursday night Navigator Baysdorfer ascended the rigging and inspected the ship. There was a cheer. Before 10 o'clock Muggy, the ship's boat, was asleep by the ship. When the bell rang at 11 o'clock Navigator Baysdorfer was happy, as the gas was pounding in fast and he was singing:

"Oh, I am the cook and the captain bold,
And the mate of the Samson bold,
And for sunshine bright and air that's light,
I'd really give a fig."

Roon after the navigator's song he was called to sign a contract with President Waltho, wherein the navigator, being the party of the first part, agrees to make one or two trips to the land where all faces stand ajar in pleadings for good weather, and if in the sun shines too hot will hang an awning on the sun.

At dawn Friday morning as the paper went to press Navigator Baysdorfer was asleep by Muggy, the ship's boat. Both had monkey wrenches in their hands, and Muggy used a gasoline tank for a pillow.

The Burlington announces a special train from Creston, Ia., for next Wednesday for the big electrical parade. The special will leave Creston at 6 a. m., and returning will leave Omaha at 10:30 Wednesday night. The Burlington will also run two trains from Omaha to Lincoln immediately after the parade, the first to run through to Lincoln without a stop under the second to stop at all intermediate points. A special train will also run to Plattsmouth immediately after the parade Wednesday night.

ROOSEVELT BEFORE AK-SAR-BEN
Governor Sheldon Will Be with President Instead of King.
Governor Sheldon will not be able to attend the coronation of King Ak-Sar-Ben XIII, as he will be on his journey with President Roosevelt, whom he is to join for a trip down the Mississippi river. Most of the members of his staff, however, will be on hand for Nebraska day at the carnival and for the coronation ball. It is also expected that Lieutenant Governor Hopewell will be present.

DOLLY CASTLE QUITS THE LIONS
Young Woman Leaves Lessons from Having Arms Amputated.
One of the attractions on the carnival grounds is Dolly Castle, the dancer, who was in Omaha at the carnival last year with the Barna-trained wild animal show. After leaving Omaha she went to Denver, with the Barna show, and while there at work with her lions, Prince, the huge beast which she made perform the various stunts, turned upon her and tore her frightfully, so that it was thought for a time that she would die. She has given up the handling of lions as a consequence and is doing her dancing stunts without the aid of lions to make the turn more spectacular.

CHEAP POWER IN OMAHA
Samson's Seal of Approval Attracts Attention at the Grounds.
Far above the illuminated entrance to "Beautiful Bagdad" is the big argument in nearly a thousand electric lights why people should come to live and enter business in Omaha. In white lights are the words:

COME TO OMAHA—CHEAP ELECTRICITY.

King Samson signs this in red lights and places his official seal on the invitation. The seal is a picture of King Samson and the sign has been erected by the Omaha Electric Light and Power company and is one of the most extravagant pieces of electrical work ever displayed in Omaha. The signature of Samson is one of the wonders of the carnival.

SOLDIERS WILL BE IN PARADE
Sixteenth, Fresh from Philippines, to March for King.
The Sixteenth infantry, fresh from the Philippines, will appear with its full complement of officers and band in the daylight parade Thursday afternoon. The regiment has just returned from the Philippines and is now quartered at Fort Crook, and will be its first appearance on the streets of Omaha. The people of Omaha and vicinity will take this occasion of giving the regiment a royal welcome to the city. The Sixteenth infantry band is a band of great renown and will be given a place of honor in the line of march.

SUITABLE FOR GIRLS AND WOMEN
Proper Boarding Places for Visitors to the Festival.
Girls and young women coming to Omaha for the festival will be directed to safe boarding and rooming places by agents of the City mission. Superintendent Miss Mangan said a helper to the Union depot Thursday where the work was started. A careful list of boarding and rooming houses has been prepared and the agents will care for hundreds during the coming week.

MILBURN ADVISED TERMINAL
National Transit company operated the pipe line between Unionville and Bayonne, N. J., which is now operated by the Standard Oil company of New Jersey. Mr. Payne said that he received monthly reports from the pipe line companies concerning the cost of operations. These reports were kept in the office of the controller of the Standard Oil company. The Standard Oil company had purchased the pipe line from the Standard Oil company.

"Who purchases oil for the Standard company?"
"Joseph Seep," said Mr. Payne.
"Has anybody else other than the Standard delivered any oil at Unionville?"
"I do not think so," answered Mr. Payne.
Mr. Payne said that the National Transit company issued certificates to shippers for oil dispatched over its pipe line. As far as he knew the company had never delivered any certificates to shippers for delivery of oil at New York, Philadelphia or Marcus Hook.

"When Mr. Seep purchased the oil the order is placed under the account of P. S. Trainer," said Mr. Payne.
"I do not know who Mr. Trainer was, but had seen him at the Standard's offices in New York."
He said that no schedules of tariffs were published on oil delivered from the Ohio river to Toledo.
The witness developed from the witness that the Standard filed no tariffs for the delivery of oil at Coraopolis, O., Warren, O., or Bradford, Pa., where there were independent refineries and where the Standard had pipe lines.

"The witness filed a single independent refinery in the United States to which a single barrel of oil can be shipped under these tariffs?" asked Mr. Kellogg.
Mr. Payne said that he could not say, as he was not familiar with all the tariffs filed, whereupon Mr. Kellogg handed him a list of the tariffs to the Interstate Commerce commission.
Mr. Payne was cross-examined by Mr. Milburn, who developed an outline of the pipe line system. Mr. Payne testified that the pipe line of the Standard Oil company ran from Unionville to Bayonne, N. J., and that the delivery point of which for years has been at Unionville. He testified that the New York Transit company built its tanks at its terminal in Unionville as a receiving station and that the Standard Oil company of New Jersey built a pumping station at Unionville to pump its own oil and that the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, to its refinery in Bayonne. The New York Transit company is now organized under the pipe line set as a common carrier. The pipe line from Center Bridge to tidewater, Mr. Payne said, was private and belonged to the Standard Oil company of New Jersey. Mr. Payne said that the National Transit company's terminal was at Fond Grove and that there, as at Unionville and Center Bridge, the company had established a delivery point. From Fond Grove to Baltimore, said Mr. Payne, there was a private pipe line owned by the Standard Oil company of New Jersey.

SABOTEUR SERVED ON MOFFETT
CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—James A. Moffett, president of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, has been served with a subpoena commanding his presence before the federal grand jury next Tuesday to substantiate his statement that other shippers have been as guilty as the Standard Oil company of accepting rebates.

HEPBURN MAKES HIS REPORT

Bankers Receive Commission's Action on Currency.
CHANGES DECLARED IMPERATIVE
Banking Laws of United States Are Such that Business Far Exceeds Provisions Made for It.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 26.—The report of the currency commission of the American Bankers' association was read today before the body meeting here by A. Barton Hepburn.

Proposed Currency Plan.
The currency plan recommended by the commission may be summarized as follows: 1. Any national bank having been actively doing business for one year and having a surplus equal to 10 per cent of its capital shall have authority to issue credit notes as follows, subject to the rules and regulations to be determined by the controller of the currency: (a) An amount equal to 40 per cent of its bonded-currency circulation, subject to a tax at the rate of 2 1/2 per cent per annum upon the average amount outstanding. (b) The further amount, equal to 15 per cent of its capital, subject to a tax at the rate of 4 per cent per annum upon the average amount outstanding in excess of the amount first mentioned.

The same reserves shall be carried against credit notes as are now required by law to be carried against deposits. It provided a 5 per cent guaranty fund, from which to redeem the notes of any defaulting bank; it provides numerous remedies for the controller of the currency. It seeks also to provide such increase at the instance of the issuing bank in response to the increased demands of business which accompany periods of business activity, as to provide for the retirement of such notes as the amount of such demands. It seeks to provide such increase at the instance of the issuing bank in response to the increased demands of business which accompany periods of business activity, as to provide for the retirement of such notes as the amount of such demands.

Regulating the Issue.
By basing the amount of the proposed issue of credit currency upon the bonded-currency circulation of the banks, the value of government bonds, now so largely owned by the banks, is preserved and protected. It is neither conservative nor radical; it seeks to enact upon existing laws simply changes which will admit of increased bank-note circulation in response to the increased demands of business which accompany periods of business activity, as to provide for the retirement of such notes as the amount of such demands. It seeks to provide such increase at the instance of the issuing bank in response to the increased demands of business which accompany periods of business activity, as to provide for the retirement of such notes as the amount of such demands.

World Not Aged Speculation.
It is assumed and asserted in some quarters that such a currency would reduce greatly to the advantage of the speculative market in the city of New York—Wall street. This is quite erroneous. The New York clearing house has a clearing house of its own, based upon the same principles as the clearing house for cotton, wool, sugar, produce, exchange, cotton, exchange, all the exchanges dealing in commodities, as well as all the various agencies of considerable magnitude in the city of New York, have a currency of their own, the currency of the clearing house, or currency in any form, is practically unknown in the city of New York. The present banknotes are not available for such purposes. The present banknotes are not available for such purposes. The present banknotes are not available for such purposes.

TIRED AND SICK YET MUST WORK

"Man may work from sun to sun but woman's work is never done." In order to keep the home neat and pretty, the children well dressed and tidy, women overdo and often suffer in silence, drifting along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have help to overcome the pangs and aches which daily make life a burden.

It is to these women that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, comes as a blessing. When the aches, there are dragging-down pains, nervousness, sleeplessness, and reluctance to go anywhere, these are only symptoms which unless heeded, are soon followed by the worst forms of Female Complaints.

VOLIVA SINGS SWAN SONG
Leader of Zion is Unable to Carry Project Farther.
HAS NOTICE TO VACATE OFFICE
Receiver Hately Asks Him to Move from Publication Plant—Loses Option on Southern Lands.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Wilbur Glenn Voliva, who successfully grasped the reins of government from Zion City from the hands of John Alexander Dowie and expected to reign in his stead after the death of Dowie, last night announced to 1,000 of his followers in that city by many factions, that he had given up the fight there. At the same time he announced that he had lost the option upon land in New Mexico, where he expected to found a new colony, but would buy property adjacent to Zion City and found the colony there. The speech of Voliva was his swan song so far as Zion City is concerned. He said that he had received formal notice from John Hately, receiver of Zion City, to vacate the premises, which he has used as offices and the publication plant of his official paper within thirty days. He said that he would get out and would not pay another dollar to the receiver. Voliva was bitter against Mr. Hately and branded his receiver as persecution. No explanation of how he lost the option on the lands in New Mexico was vouchsafed by Voliva. It was generally understood that he had failed to receive the financial backing he had expected.

New Branch Nineteenth in Point of Membership and Gaming Past.
The Omaha Young Men's Christian association is now nineteenth in point of membership in the United States. Secretary Wade reported last evening that the Philadelphia Central association, which was formerly nineteenth, had been passed. The City of Brotherly Love boasted 1,320 members. The Omaha association attained 1,321 yesterday. Now let St. Louis look to its lands. The central association there has 1,320 members. This number will be passed today by the Omaha association, says the secretary. Members have been coming in at the rate of twenty a day for some time. As October 1 draws near, when the membership rate advances from $10 to $15, the number who want to join increases daily. Secretary Wade expects to pass several other cities in point of membership and have 2,320 members by October 1.
