Bears in Evidence at Opening of Trade Friday.

CABLES ON WHEAT ARE LOWER

Prices on Corn Erratic and on Outr Webbly, While Buyers Are in Evidence on All Kinds of Grain.

OMAHA, Sept. 27, 1907.

The grain market was easier this morning at the opening and the bears realized a break on lower cables and lower northwest markets. Prices worked to a better tone late on some good buying. Wheat was easier at the start on lower cables and lower northwest markets. Cables were somewhat disappointing to the builts and the pit crowd hammered prices for a short break. Later some persistent buying by commission houses gave the market a better tone and prices railied quickly. September wheat opened at SPije and closed at 1916. OMAHA, Sept. 27, 1907.

ter tone and prices railled quickly. September wheat opened at 89½c and closed at 89½c.

Corn was some lower at the start on some selling and on lower cables. Prices were erratic, sliding up and down easy on all selling and buying. Beptember corn opened at 85½c and closed at 57½c.

Oats were wobbly at the opening and the crowd started to hammer them down, but all long stuff was quickly taken and the market held firm. September oats opened at 50c and closed at 50c.

Primary wheat receipts were 1.121,000 bushels and shipments were 644,000 bushels, against receipts last year of 1.25,000 bushels.

Primary corn receipts were 1.202,000 bushels and shipments of 555,000 bushels.

Primary corn receipts were 1.202,000 bushels and shipments of 650,000 bushels.

Clearances were 59,000 bushels of corn, 1,000 bushels of cats and wheat and flour equal to 225,000 bushels.

Liverpool closed 36d lower on wheat and unchanged to 36d higher on corn.

Seaboard reported 33,000 bushels of wheat and 95,000 bushels of corn for export.

Argentina wheat shipments this week were 565,000 bushels, last week 248,000 bushels, and this week last year 1,200,000 bushels.

Argentina corn shipments this week were 1,471,000 bushels, last week 1,525,000 bushels.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Features of the Trading and Coming.

Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—Weak cables and liberal receipts in the northwest caused a decline today in the local wheat market. Final quotations on the December delivered showed a net loss of 140%5c. Corn was up %37%c. Provisions were 587%c to 12% chigher. Oats were a shade higher.

The wheat market was easy at the opening today, because of favorable crop reports from Argentina and Russia. The weather in the northwest, which was considered suitable for threshing operations, also affected the market in a bearish manner. About the middle of the day, however, the market became strong on lively buying by the cash houses, which was inspired by a low estimate on the Canadian ner. Threshing returns also con-tinued to show fairly liberal yields. The close was weak. December opened %c to % 6%c lower at 99%c to 38%c631.00, sold be-tween 99%c and $1.01% and closed at $1.00. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 256,600 bu. Exports for the week, as shown by Bradstreet's, were equal to $1.50,000 bu. Primary receipts were 1.191,000 bu. against 1.224,600 bu. on the same day last year. Minnespolis, Duluth and Chi-cago reported receipts of 687 cars, against 501 cars last week and 765 cars a year

The corn market was strong all day, because of the wet weather which prevailed over the greater portion of the corn belt. A forecast of lower temperature tonight also strengthened the market. Prices reacted somewhat late in the day, on realizing sales, but the market closed firm. December opened 100 things a 185 cand then advanced to 50 c. The close was at 500 050 c. The close was at 500 050 c. The close was at 500 050 contract grade.

The cats market was dull and firm all day. The strength of corn and unfavorable weather for the crop movement were the chief bullish factors. December opened $250 higher at $24,062%c, sold between $25,062%c and $250 higher at $34,062%c. Sold between $25,062%c and $250 higher at $35,062%c.

The provisions market was fairly strong, on smaller receipts of live hogs and an improvement in cash demand. At the close January pork was up 12%c at $15,32%. Lard was up 12%c at $15,32%. Lard was up 12%c at $15,32%. Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 135 cars; corn, 621 cars; cats, 220 cars; bogs, 11,000 head.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—The bear party in the speculation had good success today in forcing prices of stocks to a lower level and indicentally in forcing some inquication. Stocks were without aggressive support and demand was torpid pending the clearing up of various factors of uncertainty in the situation. This condition left the market open to attack and the bears encountered hitle resistance in the way of buying orders, as they offered prices downwards with growing boldness.

Signature of the second of the into close sympathy with the coppers on account of the possible analogy which may be found between conditions that must be passed through in two trades before a revival shall come. The two classes of United States Steel stocks and Amaga-mated Copper sold at the lowest prices of the year.

The railroad list was inclined to resist the influence of the weakness in the copper for a time, but gave way later with the Harrimans, which were affected by reports current in San Fraucisco that the federal grand jury had found indictments against the Southern Pacific and the Pacific Mail company for violations of the interstate commerce act. A break in Consolldated Gas to lowest price in several years was due to some sympathy with the demoralized condition of the local traction stocks and the disordered conditions of their finances disclosed by the public service commission. The passing of the dividend on American Ice securities asserted a sympathetic effect that stock always holds over the New York public utilities group. Rumors were current of some large financing to be launched soon by the New York Central. Gloomy predictions were made amongst the speculative element of the effects to be looked for in the stock market from the series of public addresses to be made by Fresident Roosevelt next week. Fredictions of colder weather again tonight in the west revived the fears of damendage to the corn crop from frosts before the safety harvested. HOGS—There was no great change in the hog market today. Heavy hogs sold in about the same notches as yesterday, with light hogs possibly a little stronger now and then, making the market as a whole steady to strong in spots. The trade was rather late in opening and not especially active at any time, but receipts were so light that the most of the stuff changed hands in fair season in the morning. The hogs sold largely at $5.50\frac{1}{2}66.0\frac{1}66.0\frac{1}{2}66.0\frac{1}{2}66.0\frac{1}66.0\frac{1}66.0\frac SHEEP-Receipts of sheep this morning were quite light as was to be expected on Friday, only fourteen cars being reported in when the market opened. The official count last night showed the total for the four days of the week to be 104.114. At the close of the market last night practically everything was cleaned up the practically everything of the week to be 104.114. At the close of the market last night practically everything of the week to be 104.114. At the close of the market last night practically everything was cleaned up to the same of the same of the same of the same as yesterday, in fact the lamb market was generally quoted as steady. The market on fat sheep was also quoted steady by most operators, although some of the sales, if anything, looked higher than yesterday. Good 2-year-old wethers sold up to $5.20.

As usual toward the last of the week the demand for feeders was far from brink, buyers having the habit of going home before the close of the week, thus leaving the market without as good buying support. In spite of this there was quite a large demand especially from parties buying to fill orders so that the desirable stuff sold at steady prices. When the market closed there was nothing of any consequence left in the way of desirable sheep or lambs, either killers or feeders.

Two years ago we met Miss Patricia

Two years ago we met Miss Patricia O'Brien one afternoon in her dressing room, when she was making up preparatory to leading the grand entrance of the chorus in the musical comedy she favored with her services. She was charmingly natural on that occasion, and took us into her confidence without reserve, although she dealt with matters chiefly pertaining to the theater. We learned some of the secrets of the dressing room in which the chorus ladies get on their war paint, and we also gathered some pearls of wisdom from the mouth of one, albeit these same pearls were encased in an exterior wrapper of language so eruptic as to be unintelligible to any save those wise ones who have learned the technique of the theater completely. But all that Miss O'Brien said on that occasion was so pertinent, some of it even a trifle impertinent, that when it was known that she intended to take us into the family circle, and let us see how she really lived with her folks, the invitation was most alluring.

Miss Stahl's Great Triumph. That's why we crowded the Boyd theater ast night; and that's why this morning. if we enjoy Pat O'Brien as a member of the chorus we honor her as the one levelheaded member of the O'Brien family, and as a girl with a heart as well as a head, and the moral courage that led her to dare even worse than death for those she loved. Pat O'Brien may or may not be a type; she is something that we all ought to be glad to think can exist.

Miss Stahl's creation has been praised so much that all that seems necessary here is to follow the example of the indolent churchman. He nailed the prayerbook to the headpost of his bed, and on retiring each night indicated the location of the sacred volume by a jerk of his thumb, and said: "Lord, them's my sentiments." Anything good that has been said of Miss Stahl in "The Chorus Lady" is hereby endorsed. She shows much capacity as a comedienne and considerable genuine dramatic power. The climax in the third act is reached most successfully, but with the art that conceals artifice, and in the fourth act the anticlimactic effect is minimized by the intelligent pursuit of naturalism. The great comedy scene in the second act, the dressing Cattle and Sheep Steady—Hoga Strong room of the chorus, is well effectively done But it was at the close of the tragic third for Mrs. O'Brien. She lends a bit of Omaha flavor to the affair by her strong facial resemblance to our one-time celebrity, Prof. Patsy Fallon. Mr. Lucas and Mr. Byrne, as lead and heavy, are good. The others make up a strong support for the star. The plece was splendidly staged at the beginning and is offered in its original setting.

The Boyd theater was filled last night by an audience that waxed enthusiastic from the start and left the house after giving Miss Stahl the seldom-placed distinction of a call after the final curtain-glad they had all met Patricia O'Brien at home as weil as in her working clothes. The engagement lasts till after Saturday night, with a matinee on Saturday afternoon. "The Cat and the Fiddle" at Krug. "The Cat and the Fiddle," a musical extravaganza in three acts was an attraction that filled every seat in the Krug theater Thursday night and kept the audience well entertatined throughout. The plot deals in witches, fairles, departed spirits transformed by the witch of the Eye Land. A shipwreck brings a party of tra-velers to that strange place called the Eye Land, but the witches are unable to cant their spell over the travelers as long as a large cat which the latter have stays near. After many weird experiences the shipwrecked travelers are transported home across the sea by an airship. The stage affects are ingenious and new surprises are continually sprung. Some clever specialties are introduced. The chorus girls are prettily costumed and sing with much spirit. The performance will be repeated Friday and Saturday, with usual matinee.

HANSCOM WILL IS FILED Son and Two Daughters Share Equally in the Prop-

The estate of the late Andrew J. Hans-com, estimated to be worth close to $1,000,-900, will be divided equally among the The document is short and it provides that after the just debts and the funeral expenses are pald the residue shall go to the son, James Duane Hanscom of California, and the two daughters, Mrs. Harriet Georgia Pritchett of Omaha and Virginia 4.000 C. Pritchett of New York City. The will 3.250 nominates the two daughters as executives, without bond. It was in Mr. Hanscom's handwriting and was dated in Omaha on June 5, 1899. Frank Murphy and Ben B. Wood, both deceased, were the witnesses.

With the will was a petition signed by Mrs. Pritchett in which she declined to act as executrix and asked the alppointment of her husband, George E. Pritchett, as executor, without bond. The petition estimates the value of the property at more than $200,000, but it is believed by real estate men who are acquainted with the estate that it will run close to the uillion mark, if not above it.

bitious boy that ever came to town, and a Bee want ad will find him. Those who use this very inexpensive method of finding help always have the best help. Those who put the window usually get the boy they don't want and imagine all other boys are the
