JOHNSON WANTS SUPPORT

Says County Attorneys Will Not Help Him Enforce Pure Food Law.

EMPLOYEES DISPLEASE GOVERNOR

Insist on Being Subpoenaed Before They Will Attend Barker Insanity Hearing—Rev. Mr. Ferguson Quits Church.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Sept. 27.—(Special.)—Deputy Food Commissioner Johnson is not receiving the support from the county attorneys which he believes the law requires them to give him, in the enforcement of the pure food law and he may appeal to the governor under the derelict officers' act. Mr. Johnson has analyzed milk, cream and ice cream from ten of the largest cities of Nebraska. The result shows a general high grade of butter fat and no formaldehyde or other preservatives was found except at Nebraska City, where formaldehyde is in general use in all milk, cream and ice cream on the market. One ice cream dealer there, so Johnson reports, said he used formaldehyde and had always used it. Johnson certified these facts to County Attorney Livingstone, with instructions to prosecute at once. The county attorneys raised some questions about the requirements of the law and asked Johnson to go to Nebraska City and sign the complaints. Johnson in reply forwarded such affidavits as he believes the county attorney requires. He believes it is not his duty to sign complaints because a few prosecutions that would require repeated trips and attendance at court of his assistants would cripple the work of his office. Attorney General Thompson upholds Johnson's contention in the matter of signing complaints and says this is the duty of the county attorney.

State Employees Demand Subpoena.
As a result of the Barker insanity trial a few of the employees of the state penitentiary are liable to have a taste of the governor's displeasure. Attorney General Thompson asked several of them to appear and testify in a matter, the witnesses named served with a subpoena, though a wagonload of convicts had been sent up to testify in Barker's behalf. Among those who failed to show up today was Dr. Holyoke, prison physician. Mr. Thompson complained to the governor this afternoon at the scene of the state employes. Superintendent Kern of Hastings asylum and Young of the Norfolk asylum came without being subpoenaed.

Rev. Mr. Ferguson Withdraws.
Rev. Mr. Ferguson, who was charged with conduct unbecoming a minister, this afternoon withdrew from the church and the ministry and thus the hearing before a special court of ministers came to a sudden and unexpected close. Ferguson and his counsel claimed the chairman of the court was prejudiced and therefore he permitted the admission of affidavits or evidence derogatory to the character of Mrs. Cross, the woman in the case, and evidence tending to show the good character of the minister in other cities. Ferguson came from California to University Place, stopping only to see his wife. He was at once employed. Just before he reached the Nebraska town stories arrived of his trouble with a woman in California.

The Methodist conference today elected the following delegates to the general conference to be held in Baltimore: J. R. Gettys of Beatrice, H. Worley of Wymore, George I. Wright of Nebraska City. The lay conference was organized by the election of George Spurluck of Cass county chairman and George Tobey of Lincoln secretary.

Consumptive Commits Suicide.
Julius West, who was suffering with consumption, cut his throat and ended his life this morning. The man was living alone in a tent near the state farm, thinking the open air treatment would benefit him. Yesterday he became worse and to those who reached him before he died he said he preferred death to living as he was.

Why Clarke Wants New Trial.
In their brief on motion for rehearing Judge Strode and W. H. Crow, for Harrison Clarke, the murderer, assert that the speeches of the county attorney of Douglas county at the time of the trial were sufficient to influence the court to grant a reversal. They assert that he told the jury they should bring in a verdict that would be satisfactory to the people of the community. That the people of the community were misled by the county attorney's statements that had taken place was asserted, and this statement of the county attorney only added fuel to the flame. They assert, also, that the statements of the county attorney in demanding the death sentence for the negro make the case reversible. The statement with which they contend is as follows: "It has been said that there is no such thing as life imprisonment, and it has been said that life imprisonment means no more than ten years in the penitentiary because of pardons that may be granted."

Delegates to Deep Water Meeting.
Governor Sheldon has appointed the following delegates to the Deepwater convention to be held at Memphis on October 1 and 2: Colonel C. J. Miles of Hastings, Sherman Saunders of Bloomfield, Hon. M. L. Fries of Arcadia, Hon. C. B. Dempster of Beatrice and Charles L. Marshall of Douglas.

FLORAL PARADE—BIG SUCCESS
Decorated Autos and Carriages Big Attraction at Beatrice.
BEATRICE, Neb., Sept. 27.—(Special.)—The flower parade yesterday afternoon at the anniversary celebration was a glorious success and several hundred beautifully decorated automobiles, carriages and bicycles appeared in the procession. The committee of awards voted unanimously that all who participated were entitled to great credit for their work and prizes were awarded as follows:
Bicycle—Truman Rogers, first.
Automobile—W. W. Black, first; George Harris of Blue Springs, second.
Carriages—Mrs. E. J. Shinn, first; double carriage, occupied by Mrs. A. B. Linsinger of Wymore; J. B. Mumford of Beatrice, and many others.
Twenty carriages occupied by old settlers formed part of the parade. Among the pioneers were Daniel Freeman, the first homesteader, who grasped the hand of W. J. Bryan during Mr. Bryan's address at the high school grounds; Mrs. Charles of Sioux City, who made the trip up the Missouri in the boat Hannibal in 1837, and who formed the little colony that first settled in Beatrice; C. M. Murdock of Wymore, a resident of Gage county since 1837; Judge Broady of Lincoln; Judge J. B. Raper of Pawnee City; J. B. Linsinger of Wymore; J. B. Mumford of Beatrice, and many others.
Thousands of people spent the remainder of the day and evening throwing confetti and enjoying themselves, as carnival visitors usually do.
In spite of a cold, drizzling rain the in-

NEBRASKA FROM DAY TO DAY

Quaint and Curious Features of Life in a Rapidly Growing State.

Yes, it has come, and laid a heavy hand on everything in its reach. Where all was life Monday, Tuesday morning hung limp and lifeless. Yes, Jack Frost has spoiled the watermelons for this year—Platte Valley News.

Joint Affairs—Two Landams young women got off No. 5 the other morning and, as usual, were immediately gathered in by that enterprising gentleman, F. E. Reader of the Kimball Land company, who proceeded to take one of them on a homestead. The other had one in Dakota and couldn't take one here, though she "wished she could." And so does Reader.—Kimball Observer.

Nature Fake—A. H. Carter's parrot is about as intelligent a bird as one can find. His cage hangs near the telephone, and a few days ago he was seen to put his head in a can that was in his cage and say, "Hello!" In a few minutes he removed his head and to the surprise of his listeners, said: "Good bye, good bye, Bernie!" It is not known who he was talking to.—Win-stide Tribune.

Carrying Coin—Men have various ways of carrying money. Grocers, butchers and millers carry it in a wad. Bankers in clean hills, laid full length in a pocketbook.

Brokers only fold the bill once, doubling the money, as it were. The young business man carries it in his vest pocket. Farmers and drovers in their inside pockets, whether it is $50 or 15 cents. Printers usually carry their money in other people's pockets.—Beaver City Times-Tribune.

Steer Was Crazy—Monday Joe Cady and two or three helpers drove in a bunch of cattle which had been sold to Roberts. On the way in a fine steer went crazy and drove the drivers. They finally tied him to a tree and left him. That evening Bob Gantleman went out with his dray and succeeded in getting him a piece farther toward town when he again balked and was tied to a tree and left. Next morning he was dead. The verdict was "an aggravated case of brain storm."—Platte Center Signal.

dustrial parade, in which over 100 floats appeared, was given this afternoon at 4 o'clock. All the manufacturing and other commercial interests of the city were represented, including the postoffice force, with nine floats; high school, with historical floats, and the commercial travelers. The game of ball between the United Commercial Travelers' teams of Hastings and Beatrice was won by the former; score, 7 to 1. The celebration was concluded to-night, and it was the biggest and most successful affair ever held in the city.

Nebraska News Notes.
BEATRICE—Rain fell in this vicinity Friday, which was a great benefit to the land for fall plowing.
BEATRICE—Fred H. A. Beatrice horse, won three straight heats in the 2:12 pace at Emporia, Kan., yesterday.
BEATRICE—Chief of Police Fitzgerald has been appointed trustee officer to see that the children attend schools.
BEATRICE—A heavy rain visited this section last night. The moisture will be of great benefit to the winter wheat crop.
BLUE HILLS—The heaviest rain for three months fell here last night and still continues. Farmers can now put in their wheat. It is cool and a frost is expected after the rain.
BEATRICE—J. B. Smith, proprietor of the Jersey dairy at this place, yesterday secured first, two second, three third and four championship prizes on his herd of Jersey cattle at Kansas City.
BLUE HILLS—The teachers of the Blue Hill public schools were given a day off Friday to visit the Hastings schools. This gave the school children a chance to attend the county fair at Bladen.
PLATTSMOUTH—Deputy Game Warden R. W. Hyers has been spending considerable time with a shotgun hunting along the Missouri and Platte rivers and through Cass county looking for violators of the law.
BEATRICE—John Morris, living seven miles southwest of Beatrice, died at an advanced age yesterday morning. He was 79 years of age and unmarried. The remains were taken to Lewistown today for interment.
BEEMER—The first killing frost in this vicinity came Wednesday. The weather has been clear in this part of the state during the last month for corn to ripen and this frost will only hasten the maturing process.
PLATTSMOUTH—Because the boilers would not furnish sufficient heat in the Burlington shops, Master Mechanic Heine and H. T. Batton exchanged a few complimentary words and Mr. Batton tendered his resignation.
PLATTSMOUTH—H. M. Long, residing a few miles southwest of this city, has sold more than $250 worth of peaches in a year, but says the yield was only about one-fourth as much as usual, and he intends to cut down about one-half of the trees.
BEEMER—John Nellor, a business man of
