TRADERS TAKE ALL THEY CAN

Wheat Opens Lower on Lower Cables cost Liquidations Are Heavy-Corn in Weak, but Receipts Gain.

OMAHA, Oct. 1, 1907. Cables came disappointing to bulls and there was little to hold prices.

Traders acted as if they had sold too heavy and were anxious to take all they could back. All grain was soft, however, and the market staid on the decline.

Wheat opened lower on lower cables and there was heavy liquidation.

Prices were easier all morning and continued to sell off.

December option of wheat opened at linued to sell off.

December option of wheat opened at 91%c. and closed at 91%c.

Corn was weak with wheat and sold off on reports of damaging rains.

There was a noticeable gain in the receipts, which gave the market an easier tope. December corn opened at 52c and closed at 524c.

Oats opened steady, but softened con-siderably on heavy seiling and in sympathy with other grain.

December option opened at 49%c and with other grain.

December option opened at 49%c and closed at 49%c.

Primary wheat receipts were 1.227,000 bushels and shipments were 566,000 bushels, against receipts last year of 1.295,000 bushels and shipments of 970,000 bushels and shipments were 471,000 bushels, against receipts last year of 725,000 bushels and shipments were 471,000 bushels against receipts last year of 725,000 bushels and shipments of 513,000 bushels and 140%d lower on corn.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—Wet weather in the northwest had a strengthening effect today on the local wheat market, the December delivery closing at a net gain of 100%. orn was up 1604 cents. Oats were cent lower. Provisions were 2160 5c to to lower.

The wheat market was inclined to be weak during the first few minutes of trading because of selling by pit traders who were bearishly influenced by a decline at were bearishly influenced by a decline at Liverpool Sentiment, however, soon became bullish owing to wet weather in the northwest, where the threshing operations are still in progress. A forecast of additional rain tonight and tomorrow for Minnesota and the Dakotas further strengthened the market which closes 4 strong December.

and the Dakotas further strengthened the market, which closed strong. December opened unchanged to ½ cents higher at 28½ (1983), sold off to 37%c, and then advanced to 26%c. The close was at 28% (1983)c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 27,000 bushels. The world's visible supply, as shown by Bradstreet's, increased 1,250,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 1,27,000 bushels compared with 1,226,000 bushels the corresponding day a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported riceipts of 1015 cars a year ago. Strength of wheat and predictions of wet weather caused moderate firmness in the corn market. Trade was of small volume. Local shorts were inclined to buy while the offerings came largely from commission houses. The market closed firm. Trading in oats was almost at a standstill and prices fluctuated over a small range. Local receipts were more than what had been estimated and this had a depressing effect. December opened 4/2 lower at 51%c, sold between 51% f51%c and 52 cents and closed at 51%c. Local receipts were 250 cars.

were 250 cars.

Provisions were a triffle easier owing to liquidation of October holdings. A 10c decline in live hogs was the chief weakening factor. At the close January pork was 214,05 cents lower at $15.25015.22\footnote{15}_2$. Lard was off 5c at $8,77\footnote{15}_2$. Ribs were down 214,05c at $7.2007.32\footnote{15}_2$. HOGS-There was a little shipping and speculative demand this morning that cleaned up a few of the better grades of hogs, especially the light and butcher kinds, at prices that were not materially different from those which prevalled yesterday. On the other hand, packers were very slow and bearish in their deas and it was late before they got down to business. The trade, as a whole, might be described as steady to unevenly lower, the amount of the declines being in many cases 5c and in extreme cases as much as 10c. It was just about midday before the most of the hogs had changed hands. The bulk of the hogs sold at $5.5006.10, with a top at $6.50, which was 5c higher than anything brought yesterday.

Representative sales;

there being comparatinvely little of anything and nothing desirable carried over. This mornings receipts were small for a Tuesday, but plenty large enough, considering all the conditions. In the first place the quality of the receipts was not overly desirable, the great big bulk of the receipts consisting of fair to medium lambs, with very little that could be called really good. Moreover after two days of almost continuous rainfall, everything was thoroughly wet; the lambs looked like a lot of drowned rais.

As was the case yesterday packers were all out early looking for supplies, and the few loads of desirable killers changed hands in very fair season in the morning at good, steady prices. Lambs that brought $7.10 yesterday brought the same price today.

The barn was full of lookers but they

ar. 10 yesterday brought the same price to-day.

The barn was full of lookers, but they were a little slow taking hold of the feeder sheep and lambs, due in large part to everything being so wet. Still there was a fair trade, and as receipts were compara-tively light, desirable stuff sold, if any-thing, a little stronger, with the general market fully steady.

HORSE OBJECTS TO BATTERY Tears for Tall Pines Under Spur of Electricity-Ralph De Comes Pur Comes to Grief.

A broken window, a demolished screen over a coal hole and strenuous excitement for several minutes at the Midland hotel gave North Sixteenth street something to talk about Tuesday morning.

It was all through Ralph DePuy of the vicinity of Harrison, Wyo., trying to dem-onstrate the efficacy of an electrical spur before a committee of the hotel people, including Proprietor K. C. Scott, and the perverseness of the horse upon which the experiment was tried.

Mr. DePuy is a cowboy and a graduate of Ann Arbor in an electrical course and he conceived the idea that a properly prepared electric spur might be used as | a stimulus to horse activity, in place of the big, cart wheels rowells that are ordinarily used to strip the hide off a refractory broncho when in pursuit of a runaway steer. Mr. DePuy provided himself with a galvanic battery, which he carried in his pocket, and it was attached by wires with the small spur at his heels. It worked all right on the ranch up in the Rawhide Hills and he determined to carry his humanitarian ideas into a patent electric sput with which he was satisfied, like Colonel Sellers, there were "millions in it."

So Mr. DePuy brought his device down to Omaha and gave a private exhibition is front of the Midland hotel. He conceived the idea he would substitute a small storage battery for the galvanic battery and hired a horse unused to electrical currents for the experiment. The horse was asleep and the spur. The animal took notice in an instant and tried to jump through the window into the hotel lobby, then changed his mind and started down the coal hole is front of the main entrance while Mr. De Puy discontinued his lecture and began is hug the horse about the neck. After demolishing the screen over the coal hole the frightened animal tried to offmb s telegraph pole and by this time Mr. DePuy fell off, and the horse struck out north on Sixteenth street on his fore feet, using his hind legs apparently to unbuckle the saddle girth. The last heard of the horse he was still on the road to Blair just a head in front of the thunder storm and asking the lightning to get out of the road as he was in a burry.

As soon as Mr. DePuy recovered consciousness he paid for the broken window and coal hole screen and took the first train for Stoux Falls, hoping to head the horse off.

WHERE TOM HICKEY FAILED He Departs from Object to Sleep Long Enough to Rob

If Thomas Hickey had stuck to his offeinal purpose of finding lodging for the night in a box car, he might now be a free man instead of an inmate of the county jail with a sentence of two and a half years in the penitentiary hanging over him.

He was sentenced Tuesday morning by Judge Troup for breaking into a box car and stealing several dozen pairs of shoes. Hickey told the judge he had arrived in Omaha from Denver on the day of his arrest. He went town to the railroad yards to find sleeping quarters, when he saw shoes strewn along the track, as if some good fairy had thrown them there for poverty-stricken travelers. He tried on a pair and they fit. Then, he says, he gothered up just a few more pairs and cashed them for future use. Then a copper natled him and he divulged the hiding place. He declared he took only a few pairs, but the complaint charged him with stealing between three and four dozen.
