

EAST IS NOW THE RADICAL

Corporation Regulation More Stringent Than in the West.

BURLINGTON FILES PASS LIST

Decision Handed Down by Supreme Court on Scavenger Tax Case Involving Property in Omaha.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—If Nebraska had some of the laws that the state old case has in force we would surely be called "pops" and other names...

General Manager Holdridge Has Forwarded to the Railway Commission an Additional List of Persons Who Receive Transportation Without Paying Full Price for the Same.

Miss Eva Thompson, a sister of D. E. Thompson, and C. D. Mullen and E. G. Bohanan of Lincoln, officers of his insurance company, are named as the possessors of annuals issued on eating house contracts...

One feature of the present report is that it contains the names of a dozen Nebraska Telephone company officials who get annual Burlington passes. The existence of these courtesies was suppressed by the Burlington utility.

About fifty time passes have been issued by the Burlington, besides the annuals, to a number of persons in this and other western states in addition to all names reported on the lists filed heretofore.

Charges of fraud have been made before State Auditor Searle against the Board of Education in school district No. 27 of Garfield county, in connection with a special election held recently to vote $500 bonds for the building of a school house.

The request is made by the Burwell lawyer that the bonds be withheld from registry until a showing can be made in opposition. Auditor Searle will not approve the issue until he has investigated the facts.

In the case of John W. Burke versus the City of South Omaha, the supreme court today filed an opinion holding that a city is responsible for acts of neglect upon the part of employees engaged in repairing streets.

A new feature in the scavenger tax law is passed upon by the court in the case of the Prudential Real Estate company against Thomas F. Hall, which comes from Douglas county. The case grows out of the confirmation of a sale of Omaha property made to D. C. Patterson trustee, March 15, 1906. The decree included a considerable amount of special taxes and assessments and the property was bid in by Patterson for $50. Hall became the owner of the equity after the sale and Fred Rebeck was his tenant.

On March 16 of the February term, the order confirming the sale was entered and on the twentieth day of the same month and term Hall filed motion to set aside and vacate the confirmation.

The sale was vacated for review by the court, Hall depositing $500 as a guarantee that he would bid that amount. The first assignment of error is relative to the trial court setting aside the confirmation of sale. The court holds that the power of the district court over its own judgments during the term at which the judgment is rendered is discretionary and is not subject to review.

Judgment Against Railroad. For the third time the supreme court has handed down an opinion in the case of John F. Parkins against the Missouri Pacific Railway company and has again affirmed a judgment for $1,458.09 obtained by the plaintiff in the district court of Sarpy county.

In an opinion the supreme court lays down the doctrine that a city of the second class cannot by ordinance prohibit innocent card playing in a place of business. The power to enact and enforce such an ordinance must be specifically conferred in the charter of a municipality and there is no such power conferred in the charters of cities of the second class.

To Enforce Child Labor Law. No further immunity from prosecution under the child labor law should be granted the packers and other large manufacturers in Omaha, South Omaha and Lincoln, as Labor Commissioner J. J. Ryder views the situation.

South Omaha Must Pay. In the case of John W. Burke versus the City of South Omaha, the supreme court today filed an opinion holding that a city is responsible for acts of neglect upon the part of employees engaged in repairing streets.

and the wheels will not begin to turn and the knives will grind the beet into pulp. The crop, owing to the good ripening weather of the last six weeks of the growing season, is said to be an excellent one, giving a fine quality of beets, and the season is expected to be a very profitable one, both for the factory and the farmer.

It was a writ of habeas corpus, and the understanding that has been existing between Mr. Morgenstern and Mr. Engles for some time, but is probably more or less accounted for as a counterclaim for the investigation had this spring upon the complaint filed against Morgenstern by County Attorney Lambert for the setting of the fire which destroyed Mr. Engles' lumber yard here on May 15, 1907.

YORK—Harry Handoff's father signed his bail bond for $1,000 and he is now out until next term of district court, when he will be tried on the charge of stealing a horse and buggy tied in front of the Presbyterian church in York. Harry Handoff is 28 years old and comes from an excellent family. The night he stole the Barr horse he drove his horse and buggy to York, and after tying the same, he telephoned his people that he was going away and for them to take his horse back and they took the Barr horse and buggy and drove to Hebron, Neb., and from there to Hastings, and leaving the horse, he returned to York. Harry confessed and when asked why he did this he could not explain and does not realize what he has done.

NORTH PLATTE—The civil engineer who has been employed to lay out and plat the new town of Bignell, about twelve miles east of this city, states that his directions are to lay twenty-four blocks only, and adjoining these five-acre tracts will be platted and the rest of the land bought by the Lincoln Development company will be divided into eighty-acre tracts. This does not indicate the foundation of a town intended to be the division terminal for a railroad like the Burlington, and North Platte people do not believe that the Burlington railroad can do otherwise than locate the division terminal, shops and other railroad improvements here at North Platte.

NORTH PLATTE—The Union Pacific railroad is having a great deal of trouble with the large quantity of coal which has been piled here along the switch tracks in large quantities. Fires from spontaneous combustion have been repeatedly breaking out, and during the past few days caused hundreds of such fires to start in these coal piles. The loss to the company is great, not only because of the amount of coal consumed by the fires, but because of the expense of the great labor required to dig down to the fires and put them out. The fires always occur in the lower portion of the piles of coal. Some 20,000 tons of coal have been stored here, but the fires are becoming so numerous that the company is offering to end this difficulty.

NORTH PLATTE—The city council some weeks ago employed the Home Directory company to prepare a city directory of North Platte and to number all the houses in this city. For several weeks here North Platte doing this work and the work is now practically complete and the material ready to hand over to the publishers. The directory company announces that the population of North Platte is between 5,200 and 5,300, which is a great increase over the census of 1900, which gave North Platte 3,840. This directory company has established a complete numbering system of the city of North Platte, according to the ordinance passed by the city council in that respect and 95 per cent of the houses in this city will have steel enamel number plates placed upon them.

NORTH PLATTE—The agents of the different insurance companies have received from A. G. Besen of Omaha a new rate book for North Platte. The insurance rates contained in this new rate book are from 20 to 300 per cent higher than the former rates in vogue in this city for several years. In one instance, on a business property, the rate was raised from $1.25 a hundred to $3.17 a hundred. This rate of rates affects only the business portion of the city, but the increase is so radical that serious complaint is being made by those affected, and a number of insurance agents here announce that they can and will place insurance at the former rates in non-business insurance companies. It seems that only the trust insurance companies are bound by the new rates. One insurance agent here made a calculation and states the losses paid by all insurance companies during the last twenty years in North Platte have only been 25 per cent of the total premiums collected here, and this is true in spite of the fact that there have been a number of serious fires during that time and one in particular which wiped out a large portion of this city.
