

FISH IS GIVEN ORDER

Harriman Crowd Restrained from Voting Illinois Central Stock.

MANY CHARGES MADE IN BILL Allegation that Other Corporations Cannot Legally Own the Stock.

HINTS AT FRAUD AND COLLUSION

Union Pacific Holdings Placed in Names of Clerks and Others.

MAY DELAY ANNUAL MEETING

Chairman is Expected to Move for Dissolution of Order Today—Thirty Per Cent of Stock Affected.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Stuyvesant Fish through its attorneys, W. Leman and Frank W. Culver of Chicago and Edgar H. Farrar of New Orleans, today secured a temporary injunction, which will, if made permanent, restrain the voting at the Illinois Central meeting on Wednesday of 26,771 shares of stock of the Illinois Central in the interests of E. H. Harriman.

Mr. Fish, accompanied by his attorneys, entered the court room of Judge Hall of the superior court at 2 o'clock, but it was not until two hours after that time that they were able to secure the attention of the court and ask for the issuance of the injunction.

Stockholders Back of Petition. The petition was filed by ex-Senator George F. Edmunds of Vermont, John A. Kason of Iowa, Stuyvesant Fish of New York and William H. Emrich of Chicago as stockholders of the Illinois Central Railroad company against that corporation, its directors and stockholders, the Union Pacific Railroad company, the Railroad Securities company of New Jersey and the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York which, combined, hold the above shares of stock.

Mr. Fish, accompanied by his attorneys, entered the court room of Judge Hall of the superior court at 2 o'clock, but it was not until two hours after that time that they were able to secure the attention of the court and ask for the issuance of the injunction.

Stockholders Back of Petition. The petition was filed by ex-Senator George F. Edmunds of Vermont, John A. Kason of Iowa, Stuyvesant Fish of New York and William H. Emrich of Chicago as stockholders of the Illinois Central Railroad company against that corporation, its directors and stockholders, the Union Pacific Railroad company, the Railroad Securities company of New Jersey and the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York which, combined, hold the above shares of stock.

Mr. Fish, accompanied by his attorneys, entered the court room of Judge Hall of the superior court at 2 o'clock, but it was not until two hours after that time that they were able to secure the attention of the court and ask for the issuance of the injunction.

Stockholders Back of Petition. The petition was filed by ex-Senator George F. Edmunds of Vermont, John A. Kason of Iowa, Stuyvesant Fish of New York and William H. Emrich of Chicago as stockholders of the Illinois Central Railroad company against that corporation, its directors and stockholders, the Union Pacific Railroad company, the Railroad Securities company of New Jersey and the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York which, combined, hold the above shares of stock.

Mr. Fish, accompanied by his attorneys, entered the court room of Judge Hall of the superior court at 2 o'clock, but it was not until two hours after that time that they were able to secure the attention of the court and ask for the issuance of the injunction.

Stockholders Back of Petition. The petition was filed by ex-Senator George F. Edmunds of Vermont, John A. Kason of Iowa, Stuyvesant Fish of New York and William H. Emrich of Chicago as stockholders of the Illinois Central Railroad company against that corporation, its directors and stockholders, the Union Pacific Railroad company, the Railroad Securities company of New Jersey and the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York which, combined, hold the above shares of stock.

Mr. Fish, accompanied by his attorneys, entered the court room of Judge Hall of the superior court at 2 o'clock, but it was not until two hours after that time that they were able to secure the attention of the court and ask for the issuance of the injunction.

Stockholders Back of Petition. The petition was filed by ex-Senator George F. Edmunds of Vermont, John A. Kason of Iowa, Stuyvesant Fish of New York and William H. Emrich of Chicago as stockholders of the Illinois Central Railroad company against that corporation, its directors and stockholders, the Union Pacific Railroad company, the Railroad Securities company of New Jersey and the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York which, combined, hold the above shares of stock.

Mr. Fish, accompanied by his attorneys, entered the court room of Judge Hall of the superior court at 2 o'clock, but it was not until two hours after that time that they were able to secure the attention of the court and ask for the issuance of the injunction.

Stockholders Back of Petition. The petition was filed by ex-Senator George F. Edmunds of Vermont, John A. Kason of Iowa, Stuyvesant Fish of New York and William H. Emrich of Chicago as stockholders of the Illinois Central Railroad company against that corporation, its directors and stockholders, the Union Pacific Railroad company, the Railroad Securities company of New Jersey and the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York which, combined, hold the above shares of stock.

Mr. Fish, accompanied by his attorneys, entered the court room of Judge Hall of the superior court at 2 o'clock, but it was not until two hours after that time that they were able to secure the attention of the court and ask for the issuance of the injunction.

Stockholders Back of Petition. The petition was filed by ex-Senator George F. Edmunds of Vermont, John A. Kason of Iowa, Stuyvesant Fish of New York and William H. Emrich of Chicago as stockholders of the Illinois Central Railroad company against that corporation, its directors and stockholders, the Union Pacific Railroad company, the Railroad Securities company of New Jersey and the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York which, combined, hold the above shares of stock.

Mr. Fish, accompanied by his attorneys, entered the court room of Judge Hall of the superior court at 2 o'clock, but it was not until two hours after that time that they were able to secure the attention of the court and ask for the issuance of the injunction.

Stockholders Back of Petition. The petition was filed by ex-Senator George F. Edmunds of Vermont, John A. Kason of Iowa, Stuyvesant Fish of New York and William H. Emrich of Chicago as stockholders of the Illinois Central Railroad company against that corporation, its directors and stockholders, the Union Pacific Railroad company, the Railroad Securities company of New Jersey and the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York which, combined, hold the above shares of stock.

Mr. Fish, accompanied by his attorneys, entered the court room of Judge Hall of the superior court at 2 o'clock, but it was not until two hours after that time that they were able to secure the attention of the court and ask for the issuance of the injunction.

SUMMARY OF THE BEE

Tuesday, October 15, 1907.

Table with columns for dates (1907, 1907) and days (SUN, MON, TUE, WED, THU, FRI, SAT) with numbers 1 through 5.

THE WEATHER. Forecast till 7 p. m. Wednesday: For Omaha, Council Bluffs and vicinity—Tuesday, no important change in temperature.

Table with columns for Hour and Degree, showing temperature fluctuations from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

DOUBTFUL. Chicago court grants temporary order restraining H. Harriman and his associates from voting 258,771 shares of Illinois Central stock at the annual meeting to be held Wednesday.

Presidents of a number of western railroads agree with President Robert Mather of the Rock Island when he speaks in favor of federal control.

Loans made by P. S. Trainor from Standard Oil money are being traced in the inquiry in New York.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Clegg makes ruling that beverages containing more than normal per cent of alcohol are subject to special tax.

George G. Ware's case has reached the United States supreme court.

President Gompers has asked that all candidates for judicial position be placed on record on government by injunction.

Decision of Judge Thompson in the presman's strike case is not yet ready.

Missionary bishops for the western states are appointed at the Episcopal convention.

Railroad employes of England favor a general strike.

Crown prince of Germany begins work in the ministry of the interior.

Porto Rico refuses to pay expenses of federal troops.

Under a ruling of the officials of Italy, a railroad strike will now become punishable through criminal laws.

Social democrats are winning the elections in St. Petersburg.

Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria-Hungary is not improving as much as some reports indicate.

Great Britain has turned down an envoy of the pretender, Sultan Mulid Hatig.

Presists in France are thrown out of their parishes by force.

More Standard Oil company's oil has been rejected at Ashland and a company expert is on his way west to investigate.

Fire does $45,000 damage to the Fremont Normal school, with insurance of only $20,000.

Attorney general makes move in express case remanded to state court to test date of law going into effect.

Assistant United States Attorney Harry Cohn of Alaska discusses the resignation of Judge Wickersham.

Omaha's fourth annual horse show begins at the Auditorium.

MOVEMENTS OF OCEAN STEAMSHIPS. YET ARRIVED. Sold. YET DEPARTING. Certain. Unbr. DOUBT. Vaidated.

JUDGE WILL TAKE MORE TIME Decision in United Typothetae Case Will Be Delayed by the Court.

THOSE LOANS MADE TO

Comptroller of Standard Oil Explains

LOSSES IN MONEY WAS DIVERTED TO HOLD SUBSIDIARY COMPANIES—TRANSFER BOOKS MISSING.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Alfred H. Brainard, comptroller of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, and many of its subsidiary companies, was questioned today when called as a witness in the government's suit against the oil combine, concerning large loans made to James McDonald by the Anglo-American Oil company.

Testimony was given last week that the Southern Pipe Line company had loaned over $3,000,000 to Mr. McDonald and that the books of the company showed that it had never been paid back. Mr. Brainard said that he was the American secretary of the Anglo-American company and that Mr. McDonald was the managing director in London. He was asked concerning loans made by the Anglo-American company of $2,175,000 in 1905 and $1,475,000 in 1906 to McDonald. Mr. Brainard said that the loans had been ordered from London and that he did not know about them.

"It is not a fact that this money was furnished Mr. McDonald that he might hold either the Manhattan Oil company of Ohio, or the Security Oil company of Texas."

"I do not know," replied Mr. Brainard. Mr. Brainard was asked concerning the loans made by the Southern Pipe Line company of over $3,000,000 to P. S. Trainor. Mr. Brainard said it was likely that Mr. Trainor reported his loss to the Standard Oil company and that the Southern Pipe Line company reimbursed the Standard for the losses and charged the amounts to the account of P. K. Trainor. Mr. Brainard said he thought the losses were incurred by Mr. Trainor in the purchase and sale of oil. Mr. Brainard said he knew nothing about the loan made by the Standard Oil company of New York, aggregating $2,175,000, in 1905, to "interests other than Standard Oil."

He said that account came to him from the treasurer's office. William G. Rockefeller might know something of the loans, the witness said.

Mr. Brainard said he did not know where the transfer books of the liquidating trustees, which Mr. Kelogg has been desirous of obtaining, could be found. Mr. Brainard was excused and Mr. Hampton, first vice president of the Standard Oil company of Kentucky took the stand.

SPECIAL TAX ON BEVERAGES

Internal Revenue Commissioner Rules Alcohol in Usual Quantities Brings Liability.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Commissioner of Internal Revenue Capers has rendered a decision relative to the manufacture and sale of alleged medicinal alcoholic compounds where on analysis it is found that the same alleged medicinal compounds are suitable for a beverage.

Stating up an elaborate opinion, the commissioner holds as follows: "That a special tax is required for the manufacture and sale of alleged medicinal alcoholic compounds or for the sale of malt extracts manufactured from fermented liquors, the drugs used in the manufacture of which are not sufficient in amount or character to render the product unfit for use as a beverage; or, in case of cordials, extracts and essences, in which the amount of alcohol is greater than is necessary to preserve the ingredients, or to extract the properties of the oils, and hold same in solution."

"Manufacturers of alcoholic medicinal compounds, malt extracts, flavoring extracts, essences and soda water syrups, who wish to avoid liability for special taxes must satisfy themselves that their products are within the limits herein defined, and those who put out alcoholic compounds of doubtful medicinal value, or containing a sufficient quantity of alcohol, must do so at the risk of being required to pay special taxes for the manufacture and sale of same."

FAIRBANKS AT CONFERENCE

Vice President to Attend the Annual Meeting at Vermilion.

VERMILION, S. D., Oct. 14.—(Special.)—Methodist ministers and their wives and laymen and their wives from all over the state began arriving today for the annual Methodist state conference, which opens tomorrow evening, and will continue in session through Monday forenoon. It is expected that nearly 350 ministers and laymen will come for the week, many of them bringing their wives. Accommodations have been provided for all, and no trouble will be experienced in securing lodgings and meals.

Naturally Vermilion people are looking forward with a great deal of pleasure to the visit to the State University city of Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks on Saturday, October 19. He will be met at Elk Point by a committee of laymen and business men and on arrival in Vermilion will be taken to the home of Beth Ely, at 229 the university band will march to the Ely residence, and the vice president will be escorted to the university campus, where, if the weather is permissible, he will deliver an open-air address. That evening at the armory he will speak to the Methodist laymen and their friends.

TYPEWRITERS MAY LOSE JOBS

Columbus Man Invents Machine that Writes Six Thousand Words an Hour.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Typewriter girls may find their occupation gone if what is said of a new invention turns out to be true. It is exhibited at the business show now in progress in Madison Square garden and it is an automatic typewriter, run by compressed air and capable, it is said, of writing from 5,000 to 6,500 words an hour for twenty-four hours at a stretch. The inventor is A. McCall of Columbus, O.

OPERATIONS ON MINE LEADER

John Mitchell Left in Weakened Condition as Result of the Ordeal.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 14.—Vice President Lewis and Secretary Wilson of the United Mine Workers of America, returned today from La Salle, Ill., where they left President John Mitchell. Two operations for appendicitis and hernia were performed on Mr. Mitchell yesterday. Both were successful, but left the patient in a much weakened condition.

You can help advertise Omaha

By sending to your friends or customers copies of the handsome edition de lux of

THE OMAHA SUNDAY BEE

Omaha — The City of Beautiful Homes.

OCTOBER 20, 1907.

The Bee has undertaken the immense work of publishing eight pages of pictures, printed on high-grade paper, showing Omaha's handsome residences, parks and boulevards. To make people outside of Omaha realize what a beautiful city we have will be an advertisement which will do Omaha unlimited good. The Bee wants there to be one copy in everyone's possession, so the price has been made 5c per copy. So mailed for you. Please send your order as early as possible. SEND COPIES TO ALL YOUR FRIENDS.

EMPEROR SLIGHTLY BETTER

Reports from His Bedside Indicate that He is Considerably Easier.

VIENNA, Oct. 14.—Optimistic accounts of the progress made by Emperor Francis Joseph were received from Schoenbrunn castle this morning. Though his night was repeatedly disturbed by bad fits of coughing, the emperor felt considerably eased when he arose somewhat later than usual, and seated himself in his chair, and his mood was noticeably more cheerful. Dr. Herzel, the imperial physician, who examined the emperor carefully today, found that the patient's expectation was abundant and that though the inflammation continued, it had not increased. His majesty manifested more interest in affairs of state than in recent days and it is hoped that any steps contemplated for transferring part of the official business to other shoulders and insuring the smooth running of the state machinery can be postponed for a few days, even should it become necessary at all. Archbishop Francis Ferdinand, who is in constant touch with the foreign minister.

If the emperor's condition does not become any worse perhaps it will suffice if the baron, in his quality as minister of the imperial house, concludes the necessary negotiations with the Hungarian government to accept the carrying out of the recently concluded arrangements between the two governments providing for their shares in the common expenses of the dual monarchy.

The optimistic official opinions expressed regarding the emperor's health are not confirmed from the best informed private sources, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of the patient's speedy convalescence. The imperial physicians, it is stated, desire to move the emperor to another and more suitable room, but he steadfastly refuses to permit them to do so. The only new source, whence it is persistently stated that the inflammation continues to be a bad symptom and does not give promise of