OMAHA, OSL. 18, 1907.

OMAHA, Oct. 16, 1951.

The grain market is experiencing a short setback, due entirely to heavy bedging sales. This is the same action the market has taken ever since wheat left the 900 mark. After all strong advances prices take a resting spell.

Wheat opened weaker, but with no specials are ange in the situation over night. The tong of the market is good and the weakeness is due to profit-taking sales. Speculators are in the market on all weak spots, waiting for further advances. December wheat opened at 85%c and closed at 87%c.

The weakness became more pronounced on lower prices in the northwest. December sold off to $1.04%. The close was weak, with December off it at $1.04%.

Corn opened steady and firm on a good general trade and commission house buying. Trade was slow, though, and acted in sympathy with wheat. December corn opened at $7%c and closed at $6%c.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Lower cables and favorable weather for threshing in the local wheat market. At the close the December delivery was off 1c. Corn was also down 1c. Oats were ½c lower. Provisions were 7½c to 10c lower.

The wheat market opened weak because of declines at nearly all of the European grain centers. Fair weather in the northwest also exerted a depressing influence. During the early part of the day the market was very nervous, owing to the anxiety of shorts, but in the last half of the session the tone became decidedly weak. Decilnes at all of the northwestern markets, due to the favorable weather conditions for threshing and for the movement of the new croy, tended to weaksan the local market late in the day. The market closed weak. December opened %c to ½c lower at $1.05½, and then decilned to $1.04½. The close was at $1.04½. December opened %c to %c lower at $1.05% to $1.05%, sold up to $1.05%, and then declined to $1.04%. The close was at $1.05%. Clearances of wheat and flour were 211.050 bu. Primary receipts were 250.000 bu., compared with 1.019.000 bu. the corresponding day a year ago. Minneapoils, Duiuth and Chicago reported receipts of 620 cars, against till cars last week and 750 cars a year ago. The corn market was firm early in the day but weakened in sympathy with the day but weakened in sympathy with the break in wheat. Small local receipts and higher prices at Liverpool were the chier bullish factors. The market closed weak, with prices almest at the lowest point of the day. December opened unchanged to $2%c. The close was at $2%c. Local receipts were 268 cars, with 88 of contract grade.

Trade in oats was quiet and the market was weak almost all day. The heaviness of wheat was the main factor. December opened &c higher at 55%c, sold off to 54%c, and closed at 54%c. Local receipts were 268 cars, and closed at 54%c. Local receipts were 278 cars.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—The rates for money were dearer in the market today and the supplies were not so pientiful. The belief were dearer in the market today and the supplies were not so piemitful. The belief prevailed that the Bank of England was endeavoring to obtain control of the market and bring discounts to the bank rate level of the possible foreign demand for gold. Copper shares benefited by the improvement in the price of the metals. Americans opened steady and gained strength during the forenoon. Active issues advanced to a point over parity, the support of Wall street yesterday creating a favorable, impression and causing the shorts to cover, Later New York supported the market and although profit-taking caused a slight setback in the best prices the market closed firm. burdens on the taxpayers and business community. Several preliminary meetings have already been held and the Het of eligible members made up. The old exposition board of fifty directors, which proved so successful in carrying on that great undertaking, has been used largely as the model, although no definite plan of organization has been agreed upon.

It is said that similar clubs to this are maintained in a number of other cities and have vindicated their existence so far as to become a vital factor in all public movements. The invitations say that the purpose of the proposed club is to consider all public question that may affect the business interests and all intention to interfere with or duplicate the functions of the various clubs and organizations already here is emphatically disclaimed. The invitations are signed by the names of twelve men who participated in the last preliminary meetings.

PAPER BURIED SCORE OF YEARS

Copy of The Bee Well Preserved Found in the Labor Temple.

A copy of the Omaha Daily Bee, dated June 11, 1886, was unearthed during the repairing of the Labor temple Wednesday and while it was sere and yellow from its twenty-one years' repose, it was well preserved. It consists of eight pages of the regulation size of the evening paper at that time. Since then the name of the evening edition has been changed from the "Daily Bee" to the "Evening Bee," the "Daily Bee" now being the morning edition. Another difference between The Bee of twenty-one years ago and The Bee of today/is the presence of advertising on the first page of the former, the old paper containing almost three columns of display advertising on the front page.

It is significant that the leading editorial in the paper relates to a fight for paving and sidewalk laying which is still going on. The editorial advocates the laying of slagolitibic or other improved sidewalks in place of the wooden walks on Farnam street and suggests that block owners who complain they cannot afford it ought to sell their property and buy acre lots outside of the city.

One of the advertisements front page is for lots in Hawthorn addition between Davenport and Cass streets and Thirty-second and Thirty-fifth streets. The advertisement declares that within a very short time the addition can Lots were selling then for from $700 to $1,000, and the prices quoted for other real estate indicates a real boom was on at the

That The Bee was in the advance guard in the affairs of the party is shown by an editorial entitled, "Let the Issue Be Made," which advocates the nomination of CHICAGO LIVE STOCK MARKET a successor to United States Senator Van Wyck by the state convention. The odltorial declares only in this way can the rank and file of the party be given a voice in the selection of senator. It was only a few years ago that this method of naming candidates for senstor was adopted by the is shown by a comparison of the circulation statement. The statement of the cashier shows the average circulation of the morning edition for the week was 6,604 and for the evening edition 5,821. The average at present is over 36,000 a day.
