6,860 ACRES, HAMILTON CO., KAN. SOMETHING GOOD.

> A money maker. It is cheap —to speculate on or to keep and let it grow in value. IT lays against a railroad and a station and a postoffice.
> It has living water fed by springs that never go dry.
> It is not deep to water and water can be had over it at less than 50 feet.
> I'll is a fine body of land in solid sections.

IT has several hundred acres alfalfa land.

It is I miles from Coolidge, imiles from Syracuse and 8 miles from Holly. Holly has a sugar factory.

It can nearly all be watered from the Amity canal and several hundred acres from the frontier ditch. The Amity lands, just a few miles west of this are selling at from $75 to $100 per acre.

IT is likely that as the Amity canal has a surplus of water on account of its five large reservoirs, and the land is not requiring as much water as formerly, the water will, before long, come down the canal a few miles more, so that this land will be watered. IT has perfect titles and an abstract for each section. It has good rich soil and nearly every acre can be armed. IT is without question the stute of Kansas. IT is no trading proposition, but 1/2 cash will take it; bal-nace to suit purchaser. Price 95.30 per acre. If cut into smaller tracts would self-double the price asked.

The following article appeared in one of the evening papers: "Regimental Quarter-master Sergeant Winterberger, at Fort Crook, has formed a foot ball team and is thirsting for gore." Such is not the case at present. In the first place the team is only partly organized, owing to two of the members (officers) being on temporary leave of absence. The article in question will, no doubt, to a certain extent, cause more or less inconvenience, as to chailenges, before the team is competent to cope with others of considerable practice.
