TROUTMAN CASE IS DISMISSED

Judge Denies Him an Accounting of Carnival Funds.

Filed on August 18, and continued on one pretext after another until Friday, the suit of E. A. Troutman for a division of profits of the Council Bluffs Street Fair and Carnival company was dismissed, after an all-day hearing, by Judge Macy of the district court. Troutman, who was formerly secretary of the carnival company, alleged that Treasurer H. Van Brunt had in his possession $16,000 undivided profits of the company. In his petition Troutman also demanded a receiver for the company. Troutman alleged that the articles of incorporation of the company, filed in 1904, were never legally adopted, and that a new organization was effected in 1906, of which he did not become a member. To Troutman's plea that the receipts, originally designed to be given to the local lodge of Elks, could not be disposed of because of the constitution of that order, the defendant in the suit replied that the money was held in trust for the public, as the stockholders are prohibited from receiving profits.

Ten thousand dollars damages are demanded of the Trans-Mississippi Grain company for the death of her husband, Oscar S. Danielson, by Theresa Danielson, administrator of the estate of Danielson, killed in an elevator at the company's plant in Council Bluffs on May 15, 1907. Mrs. Danielson, in her suit, alleges that his death was directly due to the negligence of the company.

The Milwaukee railway is asked to pay $10,000 damages for the death of John Iverson, in a suit filed Friday by his wife, Sophia Iverson, administrator of the estate. Iverson, while shopping on the tracks on February 7, 1907, was struck and killed by a train. The petition alleges that his death was due to the carelessness of the company, in running the train at the high rate of speed without ringing the bell or blowing the whistle.

Alleging that delay in the shipment of three car loads of cattle, sent to Chicago via the Chicago Great Western on January 19, caused a heavy depreciation in the value of the cattle, which were sold at a loss, James Delanty has filed suit against the railroad, asking $250,000 damages.

Maude Wilson, married to John B. Wilson in Lincoln, Neb., on May 24, 1904, filed suit for divorce in the district court, alleging all manner of abuse, coupled with habitual drunkenness on her husband's part. Mrs. Wilson also asks that the personal property of this house be assigned to her, and that a temporary writ of injunction be issued restraining her husband from interfering with her.

Appealing from an adverse decision in the justice court of John K. Cooper, A. Clark & Co., ask that a writ of attachment be issued against E. P. Rogers, in satisfaction of a $200 debt.

Charging that he signed a release through fraud and misrepresentation, L. P. Nichols has brought suit in the district court to cancel a contract given March 15, 1906, to the Milwaukee railroad, releasing that company from damages from an injury received January 3, 1906. Nichols claims to have been struck by a locomotive.

Club Wants Better Traffic Facilities.
With improved traffic facilities between Omaha and Council Bluffs, as a theme, a number of addresses were made at the meeting of the West End club Thursday night, which indicated that the club expects definite results in the near future.

The coming session of the Interstate Commerce commission in Omaha on October 22, will be taken advantage of to urge the claim for a cent fare across the river. The petition to this effect was prepared and submitted over two months ago, and it is thought it will be acted upon at this meeting.

A resolution presented by General E. F. Test, asking that the Union Pacific install gasoline car service between the two cities over its bridge, was also endorsed.

Memorial resolutions for the late Marvin D. Reed were adopted.

BANQUET OF VETERAN LEGION

Occasion the Celebration of Battle of Cedar Creek.

With the hall gaily draped with autumn foliage and the national colors an attendance of near 500 people and a number of brilliant speakers on the program, the annual banquet of the Union Veterans Legion was held Friday night in Danish hall. The banquet is commemorative of General Sheridan's victory over General Jubal Early, October 19, 1864, and the exercises were presided over by Major W. H. Sperry, only surviving officer of that famous fight.

Following the banquet General Dodge spoke on the subject of "What I Know About Sheridan," and was followed by a number of others, among whom were Judge Carson and Colonel Baker.

The wives of the members of Encampment No. 5 and the members of Ladies Auxiliary No. 4 were in attendance.

Sac City Man Takes Poison.

WATERLOO, Ia., Oct. 19.—(Special Telegram.)—A man registering as J. E. Riley, Sac City, attempted suicide by morphine Thursday night at the Logan hotel. He was found by the proprietress, who found him locked in his room by Hotel Clerk Burton. On the table were phials and boxes with the tablets removed, one having contained morphine. A letter enclosing $10 read: "This is for burial expenses and the trouble I cause here." An additional $200 was found in his purse. He was taken to the Presbyterian hospital, where he received medical treatment. He is still unconscious, but indications are for his recovery. Riley is about 30 years of age.

JURY FOR DICKINSON CASE

Defense Is Irene Hydenburg Brought About Her Own Death.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, Oct. 19.—(Special.)—The work of securing a jury in the murder trial of H. B. Dickinson was completed today at noon and the introduction of evidence was commenced this afternoon. In the statement of Attorney Walter McHenry to the jury this afternoon it developed that the plea of the defense is not guilty and it will attempt to prove that Irene Hydenburg of Eldora performed the criminal operation on herself, and that Dickinson called in a physician in an attempt to save her life. It is also claimed by the defense that Dickinson is entirely guiltless of any criminal connection with the death of the wife.

The members of the jury secured in the case are all married men and all are over 40 years old but one. Most of them are men with gray hairs. Irene Hydenburg was a pretty telephone operator at Eldora, she was the daughter of F. B. Hydenburg, who was recently released from the penitentiary on a charge of murdering his wife by the action of the supreme court in reversing his case and remanding it for retrial. On the retrial a verdict was directed for Hydenburg. Hydenburg is in Des Moines attending the trial of the man accused of murdering his daughter.

Dickinson was an insurance agent and was frequently in Eldora and was seen out driving with Miss Hydenburg many times. He was further identified as the man seen with her in Des Moines. He was indicted jointly with Dr. E. E. Gadd of this city, the doctor being accused of performing the operation. The men demanded separate trials, and the state elected to try Dickinson first. Dickinson's wife, ever loyal to him and stoutly maintaining his innocence, was in the court room today and sat beside him. It is expected that she will attend through the entire trial.

J. C. Cain, the man who made the murderous assault on C. W. McGee and J. Johnson, is still at large. Reports have reached the authorities that he was seen at different places in the country last night. These new clues have been taken up and the search continued. It is believed by the authorities that he has established communication with friends and attorneys in Des Moines, and that McGee and Johnson are still alive and the chances for their recovery increased.

Strenuous efforts on the part of Marshalltown secured for that city the next meeting of the grand lodge of the I. O. O. F. and the subsidiary organizations. Des Moines attempted to get this fixed so that the organization would meet regularly in Des Moines. The best it could do was a provision that the organization would always meet in Des Moines unless other provision is made. This year other provision was made by deciding to meet in Marshalltown. The chief business of the sessions of today was routine matters, such as the finances of the order.

At a meeting of the officers of the order as guests of the Greater Des Moines committee the proposition was sprung that Des Moines be made the permanent meeting place and headquarters and that a fine Odd Fellows temple be erected in this city for such meeting place. A great many favored the idea.

At a monthly meeting of the Grant club last night P. F. Paville, United States district attorney for northern Iowa, addressed the club on "Inalienable Rights." He maintained that the government must protect the physical rights of man but his political rights as well. His emphasis was that the government must protect and guarantee to every man freedom in competition.

The Jennie Hugel case and the Charles Thomas case were submitted to Judge Magill. Mount Vernon, Iowa, is county superintendent of Polk county and her case involves the validity of the state uniform teachers' certificate law. The supreme court ruled against her, holding that she was ineligible to hold the office, and she appealed for a rehearing which was submitted today.

Charles Thomas was convicted for the murder of Mabel Scofield and his petition for a rehearing was submitted today. Thomas D. Healy did not appear today to make his oral argument in a case before the supreme court. It was expected that he would take occasion to file his application for a writ of habeas corpus in the case of the attorney of the Illinois Central who was arrested for riding on a pass at this time, but none has been filed. The attorney is still at liberty though technically under arrest. The case is to test the provision of the anti-pass law providing that employers pay railroad agents to devote all their time to the service of the road before being allowed to ride on a pass. It is charged by the railroad that this interferes with the right of contract.

LID CAUSES RIOT AT DAVENPORT

Wholesale Prosecutions Under Liquor Law Cause Lawlessness.

DAVENPORT, Ia., Oct. 19.—(Special.)—Opposition to the "lid" in Davenport assumed almost the proportions of a race war yesterday.

Dr. August Richter, editor of Dr. Democrat, arrested for citing T. H. Kemmerer, plaintiff in prosecution against 20 saloons, demanded trial by jury when arraigned in police court. Public feeling runs so high it is predicted no jury will convict him. His trial was set for next Tuesday.

During the few minutes he was in court several fights nearly broke out. Animal "convulsions" were seen on all sides. The weakest epithets applied to Kemmerer by the crowd, which the court drove vainly to keep in order.

"You're a dirty dog, and a coward," shouted Dr. Henry Matthey, a leading German citizen, to Captain C. W. Neal, attorney for Kemmerer.

At a signal from a ring leader, the crowd prepared to rush Neal. Seeing his danger, he placed his back to a brick wall, and drew an automatic Colt revolver that split nine bullets with one pressure of the trigger. Dashed at sight of the weapon, the riotous mob on all sides fled. He shouted their taunts, the veteran of Vicksburg and Appomattox faced them with unflinching front. Bloodshed was only prevented by the prompt arrival of the police.

Captain Neal was later arrested on information sworn out by Dr. P. Hadenhausen, a prominent German citizen. He is charged with carrying concealed weapons. A jury of old soldiers would pass upon his case about as a jury of Germans on Dr. Richter's.

The "state of Davenport," as it is often termed, was recently brought to partial conformity with the law by liquor laws by prosecutions against 20 saloons, by Neal and Kemmerer. As their legal fees for the prosecutions were $5,000, their motive has been questioned by German residents, and the "lid" has resulted in the bitter feeling which culminated in today's riot.

Creighton Man Seriously Hurt.
CRESTON, Ia., Oct. 19.—(Special Telegram.)—As David Steers, son of Edward Steers, a prominent farmer residing near this place, was preparing to haul a load of potatoes at noon today, his team suddenly started and young Steers was knocked down and kicked just above the heart by one of the horses. The doctors think he cannot live.

Iowa News Notes.
WOODRING—After an illness of several months W. V. Lemon passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. L. Temple, at the age of 74 years.

CRESTON—T. D. Howell, a pioneer citizen, aged 83 years, died Thursday morning at his home in Cretion. He was a native of Missouri. VALLEY—Missouri Valley is having a street fair. It began Monday of this week and will finish on Saturday. Large crowds are in attendance. A carnival company is furnishing the attractions. Although late in the season the carnival is proving a big success.

CHARLES CITY—Judge C. H. Kelley of this city had thirteen liquor sellers before him at Omaha. All pleaded guilty and paid fines. The case of the Waverly doctors, indicted under the anti-trust law tomorrow at Charles City.

CHARLES CITY—Two freight trains came together this morning at Ossian, a town south of Charles City. The result was the derailing and loss of the front of a train of coal and a car of grain. None of either crew was killed, but the engineers and fireman of the coal train, and the engineer and fireman of the grain train, escaped and saved themselves by jumping.

CRESTON—The young "idea" is not being taught "how to shoot" in a number of Iowa county schools. The fall because of the scarcity of the country school means in this, as well as many other Iowa counties, low wages in the districts. The cause the teachers to look for more remunerative lines of work and it is well that these districts will be compelled to raise wages to induce teachers to come.

HUGHES STATES HIS POSITION

Governor of New York States That He Is Not Seeking Any Office.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Governor Hughes tonight made a declaration of his attitude towards the presidential nomination, when, in course of an address at a dinner given in his honor by the republican club, he said:

"I do not seek any public office. I have not sought nor shall I seek, directly or indirectly, to influence the selection or the nomination of any candidate for president, with reference to the election of any delegate to any convention, there will be no suggestion nor thought of influence, protest or reprisal in the executive chamber."

It was at this same club that Mr. Hughes announced his acceptance of the gubernatorial nomination, and his appointment, particularly with reference to the legislation which has been accomplished for the state and other important measures with whose creation and support he has been identified. Additional significance was given his speech tonight by reason of the fact that he took occasion to refer to his position in regard to the fusion of the republicans and the Independence league on the New York county ticket.

Governor Hughes' declarations were greeted with loud applause by the 2,000 club members and guests who attended the dinner. The governor's pronouncement that he was not seeking any office, was a direct rebuff to the suggestion of anyone in the selection of delegates to the republican national convention met with the particular favor of his audience, which signified its approval by prolonged cheering. This was only one of a series of demonstrations which began from the moment he entered the banquet hall and continued throughout the evening.

MAGILLS ARE ACQUITTED

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Magill Found Not Guilty of Murder of First Mrs. Magill.

DECATUR, Ill., Oct. 19.—Jury tonight on instructions of Judge Cochran returned a verdict acquitting Frederick Magill and his wife, Fay Graham Magill, of the charge of murdering Mrs. Pet Magill, the first wife of Magill. In his instructions the judge said the state had failed to prove the corpus delicti. The verdict was greeted with cheers despite the fact that the crowd in the court room hurried forward and offered congratulations to the Magills. The jury afterward filed by and each shook hands with the defendants.

On May 21 last Mrs. Pet Magill was found dead in her home at Clinton, Ill., and a coroner's inquest was held. Her death followed her death shortly after she had been suffocated by chloroform. On July 5, in Denver, Colo., Frederick Magill, her husband and Miss Fay Graham, a young woman, who had been a close friend of the family, were married. Four days later in San Diego, Cal., Magill and his second wife were arrested on a charge of murdering the first Mrs. Magill. They were brought back to Clinton and secured a change of venue to this city. In the trial the state claimed that Magill and Miss Graham by their conduct had driven Mrs. Magill to suicide and were, therefore, guilty of murder. The defense introduced letters written by Mrs. Magill shortly before her death in which she complained of unbearable headaches and constant "nausea" of husband's relatives. Witnesses also testified that Mrs. Magill had often talked of committing suicide. In a letter to her husband, written the day before her death, Mrs. Magill asked him to marry Fay Graham in case anything should happen to her. Magill and his wife were charged with murder. MORE CARNEGIE HERO AWARDS

Largest Sum $5,000 Goes to Andrew J. Hodger of Santa Fe, Kansas.

FITTSBURG, Oct. 19.—The regular meeting of the Carnegie hero commission was held this afternoon in the Carnegie building this city, and tonight P. M. Willmot, the secretary, announced that twenty-four persons throughout the country had received awards for bravery.

The number is the largest in the history of the commission. With tonight's awards, 128 persons are now in the possession of all the awards. The largest of these, which was recently purchased, is what is known as a "complete military captive balloon," with all appurtenances. It has a capacity of 20 cubic meters. An ordinary spherical balloon, with a capacity of 2,000 cubic meters, is not so easily developed. It will be filled with coal gas and used for preliminary instruction of officers and enlisted men of the Signal corps in the elementary principles of aeronautics. On its trial trip this balloon made a successful journey from Washington to Harrisburg, a distance of 144 miles, in four and one-half hours.
