Another Globe Trotter—Frans Emrsvon Kirekas, a native of Finland, was a visitor at the city hall Tuesday morning. He is making a pedestrian trip of five years in America and has spent three years on his journey. He came from Wyoming.

Plowing and seeding for winter grain has continued up to the present time, but is about finished. The winter wheat crop generally is in fine shape, although rain would be acceptable. In some places not more than half the wheat which was stacked has been threshed, although the putting up of the stacks and wild hay is completed.

An investigation of the claim of the Des Moines company developed that they had no such mark had ever granted them on the ground that such an exclusive right could not be granted under the patent laws as "buffalo cat" was a natural product and hence was not patentable.

London Bit on Manchuria—Gets Bonds from Orient that Prove Dead Weight, Says J. D. Wells.

J. D. Wells, formerly of New York, but who for the last two years has resided in Toronto, Canada, has arrived from the east with R. H. Robinson, president of the Bankers Life Insurance company. Mr. Wells was vice president of the Mutual Reserve Insurance company of New York when Mr. Robinson was state agent here for that company. He has spent the summer in London in the interest of a Canadian railroad, for which he secured the government charter. Owing to the condition of the London money market he was unable to dispose of the bonds to London brokers at a satisfactory figure.

London money loaners got bit on the Manchuria bonds and until they recover on those they will be in no shape or mood to go into anything else, no matter how good it looks," said he. "They invested $50,000,000 in these Manchuria bonds and they were guaranteed by the government, and, of course, will eventually be paid. But financiers of other countries are afraid to buy them and until the government that issued them takes them up the money of London loaners will be tied up in them."

Mr. Wells is considering a proposition to take charge of the Bankers Life's eastern business. Heretofore the company has not tried to extend its business any further east than Iowa, but are now about to extend into several states east and north of Iowa. Mr. Wells visited Omaha twelve years ago and is much impressed with the growth of the city since that time.

Two New Incorporations—For the purpose of putting on the market a movable car sign the Interstate Mobile Car Sign company has been incorporated. Ferrin, Elia Saunders, Warwick Saunders, Jr., and Theodore Kharas. The D. E. Johnson company has incorporated to manufacture stock tonics and foods. The capital stock is $250, and Dwight E. Johnson and M. E. Johnson are the incorporators.

Bookbinders Claim Victory—Bookbinders of Omaha who went out on a strike, demanding an eight-hour day, October 1, claim they have practically won out in their fight. They affirm over one-third of the employers in Omaha have met the demand and many of the bookbinders have returned to these shops to work. At a meeting held Monday evening a binder from Iowa who had gone to work in a shop as a strike breaker agreed to quit work and return to his Iowa home. He refused to stay in Omaha and allow the union to keep him.

Committee Cannot Fill Places—In a suit to swap places as general manager of Great Northern and Burlington Roads.

Frank E. Ward has been appointed general manager of the Burlington lines east of the Missouri river, to succeed J. M. Gruber, who resigns to take the position of general manager of the Great Northern. As Mr. Ward was formerly general manager of the Great Northern it amounts to simply a trade in general managers by these two Hill lines. The announcement of this change puts to rest all rumors, which have been afloat as to the probable successor of Mr. Gruber. Mr. Ward is a man who has risen in the ranks of the Hill lines, having formerly been stenographer to Mr. Hill.

J. M. Johnson, assistant to the vice-president of the Missouri Pacific, in general charge of traffic and R. M. Flippin, assistant freight traffic manager with headquarters at St. Louis, spent Tuesday in Omaha inspecting the Missouri Pacific terminals. They have been making an inspection of the Missouri Pacific line west of the Missouri river and their trip extended to an inspection of the work of building the Western Pacific, the Gould line from Salt Lake City to Caspisco.

TALK OF THE POLITICIANS

Elevator Conductors Feel They Are Brunt of Democracy.

TARGET FOR THE HOT SHOTS

City Hall Men Think They Are Getting the Short End of the Stick in the Preliminary Survey.

Elevator conductors at the city hall seem to feel they are being made to bear the brunt of the democratic campaign. The first time they felt this way was when they were asked to contribute $14.80 each to the campaign fund out of wages of 45¢ a month. Their protest resulted in a reduction of the levy to $5, which has now been paid. The second cause of their sorrow came Monday when under the direction of the mayor a democratic conference was held in the city hall. As a conference the meeting was a decided success from a democratic standpoint. About 150 city employees were present and the situation was canvassed with the object of getting out a full registration, but the numbers of the unregistered was what troubled the elevator conductors.

Four meetings were in progress at the city hall at one time. The fire and police commission was holding regular session, the Water board met in special session, the Board of Education was meeting and Mayor Dahman had his conference. Under the circumstances the custodian of the hall wanted both elevators to be in operation an act unprecedented after 4 o'clock in the city hall for years. One of the elevator conductors had made arrangements to go to a ball and when stopped in the act of donning his ball gown and told to report for duty his devotion to the principle of democracy suited a rude shock, but business came before pleasure, although he did take occasion to remark that he thought the party which overworked city employes in the interests of politics was in small business and that the elevator would quit work at 9 o'clock despite all of the forces of the city.

At the conference reports indicated such apathy among democratic voters that it was decided to make a personal appeal to all democrats. Letters and postal cards are too slow, so a house-to-house canvass will be made to get out the voters Saturday.

South Omaha politics are interesting the candidates to a greater extent than those of Omaha at this time. At least two of the democratic nominees have found it necessary to make special trips to the Magic City to repair fences, which they are told are damaged by the efforts of some of their associates to get votes at their expense.

OMAHA AS WINTER RESORT

City May Attract Panhandlers of Dookies When New Court House is Built.

"What, make Omaha a winter resort and invite all the tourists of the tomato can, coffee pot and pinhead dinners, to spend the winter in the most extravagant quarters in the west?" said the architect, as he looked over the plans for the new court house. "The accommodations there did not suit them. But when the new court house is erected and the county jail placed on the fifth floor, it will not be hard to get the tramps. In such a scenic jail they would love to spend the winter. Between reading the pages of 'One-Eye Dick the Wanderer' and 'Widow in the Country' the boys could look out to the east and see thirty miles of the Missouri river, which would seem like the Hudson to them in the winter time. Across the river in the distance the white spires of churches in country towns of Iowa could be seen and beautiful glimpses of country in America. Looking toward the north, they could peer over the top of the city hall and watch the Winnebago Indians on their reservation, see the smoke of camp fires arising in the woods and watch the redskins playing the crores. They could look into Mayor Jim's mansion and see in town with the frame-up which will be made during the winter, to slip Jim the governorship."

"Only one view in America would surpass that from the fifth story of the court house, and that would be from the top of the Antlers hotel in Colorado. Bankers Life Insurance company. Mr. Wells was vice president of the Mutual Reserve Insurance company of New York when Mr. Robinson was state agent here for that company. LOCAL PLUMBERS NOT SCARED

J. B. Rahm Thinks Action Against Alleged Trust Will Not Affect Omaha.

J. B. Rahm, former president of the Central Supply association, has gone to Chicago to attend a meeting of the association.

Mr. Rahm is manager of the United States Supply company in Omaha and a prominent member of the association. The alleged plumbers' trust, against which the attorney general of Ohio has filed a quo warranto suit in that state.

The United States Supply company, wholesalers and jobbers of supplies for plumbers, has been active in the work of the association, and claiming that the Central Supply association was organized for the purpose of dealing with the railroads, charging a uniform price for drayage and maintaining a uniform price for supplies among all the dealers in plumbers' supplies. The Omaha concern takes the position there has been an attempt on the part of the Central association to fix arbitrary prices, but that the object of the association is simply to prevent price cutting. This has made the price of plumbers' supplies uniform with all concerns in Nebraska and it is admitted competition is simply a matter of salesmanship.

Besides maintaining a uniform price the members of the Central Supply company have found it convenient to charge a customer drayage on orders from warehouses to freight houses. No f. o. b. business goes with the Central Supply association and members are compelled to charge a uniform price for drayage.

VAN ETEN STILL HOLDS ON

Claims Possession Because Chicken Coop and Cupboard Are Not Moved from Place.

In spite of the fact his household goods are piled up on the sidewalk in front of his place at Twenty-first and Harney streets, David Van Eten declares he is still in possession. He called at the sheriff's office Tuesday and served notice on them he was not yet disposed because they forgot to carry off the place a coop of chickens and a cupboard. The goods still remained piled up on the sidewalk Tuesday morning. Mr. Van Eten has taken no legal steps yet to redress what he declares to be the wrongful act of the sheriff in throwing him out under orders of the court, but he has threatened to go into federal court for relief.

Henry E. Jones of Tampa, Fla., writes: "I can thank God for my present health, due to Foley's Kidney Cure. I tried doctors and all kinds of kidney cures, but nothing done me much good till I took Foley's Kidney Cure. Four bottles cured me, and I have no more pain in my back and shoulders. I am 62 years old, and suffered long, but thanks to Foley's Kidney Cure I am well and can walk and enjoy myself. It is a pleasure to recommend it to those needing a kidney medicine." FIVE HUNDRED TIMES MORE

Rate of Increase of Price of Lots on South Thirty-Fifth Street.

Forty-one years ago Claus Sievers, a Douglas county farmer, looked upon the lots at 113 South Thirty-fifth street with scorn and wondered whether anyone in Omaha would ever want to live that far out in the country. They were worth less than $10 then, but Tuesday Mr. Sievers paid $5,000 for the lots and house of William A. Smith. The sale was made by G. S. Benavara. Mr. Sievers has a beautiful home near 34th street, but may later occupy the Smith home which he has brought.

LOST ALL HOPE OF CURING HUMORS

Member of U. S. Ordinance Corps Had Skin, Scalp, and Blood Trouble—For Four Months Tried Various Remedies with No Lasting Effect—Permanently Cured and Says:

"CUTICURA REMEDIES ARE UNEXCELLED"

"About a year ago I was a sufferer from skin, scalp, and blood humors. For four months I used various remedies prescribed to me for my treatment, but they gave only temporary relief and then the distressing blood humors were back as usual. I finally lost all hope of getting cured of this ailment. But a friend induced me to give the Cuticura Remedies a fair trial. He had been troubled with the same disease and said he had been permanently cured by Cuticura. So I got the whole treatment, consisting of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent, and after I began the treatment I could see and feel that it was a success. The Cuticura Remedies are certainly of great value as it cleanses the system of all humor germs and makes digestion easy. I used two complete sets of the Cuticura Remedies and I can say this much, that I was permanently cured by them. I want to say further, that these Remedies are unexcelled in curing the worst forms of skin and scalp humors. S. D., Phillips, Ordinance Corps, U. S. A., Rock Arsenal, Rock Is., Ill., Nov. 22, 1906."
