FOR JENCKES AND DOUGLAS

Republicans of Fifteenth District Pulling Hard for Both Judges.

UNITED CAMPAIGN IS WAGED

Success or Failure in This Fight Will Have a Vital Effect on the Larger Contest Next Year.

"Douglas and Jenckes and Jenckes and Douglas" that is our ticket, said G. A. Eckles of Chadron, speaking of the race for district judgeship in the Fifteenth district.

"We have picked out two of the best men we had for these judicial positions," said Mr. Eckles, "men for whom anybody might vote and feel that he had performed his sacred American duty in a creditable manner."

Both men will make excellent judges and give to the Fifteenth district a judiciary of which not only it, but the entire state, may feel proud.

Mr. Douglas, as is generally known, is now county attorney, and had served as a member of the lower house in the legislature of 1903 and 1905.

His record is that of a strong, able and aggressive public servant, one on whom the people have found it expedient to depend under all circumstances.

Mr. Jenckes is a thoroughly educated and cultured man, and has no peer as a lawyer in the state. I am a lawyer and have practiced out there for twenty years and I can say to you that Mr. Jenckes and Mr. Douglas are attorneys of high distinction and attainments, eminently qualified for the lofty positions they seek.

Normal Republican Majority. "We have a normal republican majority in that district of about 1,200. There isn't a single reason why this majority should not be turned to the advantage of these two men, Jenckes and Douglas and Douglas and Jenckes. And I believe it will be so far as we have been able to discover there is no disaffection in the republican ranks. One man being promoted is just as much as the other and neither more or less."

"We are determined not to make the mistake republicans have made in previous campaigns in that district of supporting one man to the detriment or exclusion of the other; we are going to carry both through on the subject, and to have neither more than the other. We must have them both. We want every republican in the district to feel the weight of this argument. That he must bear his responsibility in this fight, for the simple reason that it is a part of the fight of the state, when state officers are to be elected, when a president of the United States is to be elected, and in the same way gains a foothold in the Fifteenth judicial district it has made a serious broad into the ranks of Nebraska republicans and laid a big stone in the foundation for possible victory in the state at large in 1908."

This is thought that ought to impress itself seriously upon the minds of our voters.

Democrats Are Awake to It. "If the republicans of the Fifteenth district think for a minute that Westover and Harrington and their friends are not making the most of this precise argument, they are wrong. The whole democratic machine, under the direction of Mr. Bryan, is bending every effort to break down the broad works of the republican stronghold, to gain just one inch of ground wherever it may and it is seeking strenuously for this result in our district. This is why we want to appeal so urgently to our republican friends to stand by Douglas and Jenckes; stand by them, that they may not be carried in that larger fight next year when all the forces of democracy will attack the republicans of Nebraska as in a desperate effort to wrest from them the control of the state for state and national purposes."

"The same principle I am laying down for ourselves out in the Fifteenth district ought to be good enough for the republicans all over the state to follow. We are facing a supreme test of our party's strength, coming up to a crisis that must be met squarely and in the right way, and the only way which we can meet such an issue is to fight shoulder to shoulder, to stand up quarter and compromising on no point."

Other Banks Not Affected. Fifteen bank examiners who were sent out this morning to various parts of the state reported at 11 o'clock that there had been nothing in the nature of a run on any financial institution except the Trust Company of America and that conditions at all other banks and trust companies were normal.

Small Savings Withdrawn. E. C. Bennett was today appointed receiver of the stock exchange firm of Mayer & Co., which made an assignment yesterday. More than 150 persons, mostly Italians, stormed the doors of the Dollar Saving bank, when that institution opened its doors. Police were called to control the crowd.

The Dollar Savings bank is near the Bronx branch of the Knickerbocker Trust company, and the alarm was started by the run yesterday on the Trust company's branch.

At the office of the Trust Company of America a double line of depositors lined up yesterday in the large depositors' waiting room in their funds. All the directors declared that the company would meet all demands.

Investigation of a report that there was a run on the First National Trust company showed it untrue. Although no official statement was obtainable, it was learned on very good authority that the amount of cash deposited with the New York banks by the treasury department today amounted to about $1,000,000.

America had given a statement of its affairs to other bankers with a request for aid, it was also announced that liberal assistance would be given to it today, and also it had in its vaults $2,000,000 in cash with which to begin payment of its depositors should there be any unusual run.

It became known last night also that bankers generally did not regard the position of the Knickerbocker Trust company as very favorable and were inclined to permit it to go into liquidation.

As is usual in time of stress, London quotations on American securities were eagerly awaited today. At 9 o'clock there was from forty to fifty persons at the main banking office of the American Trust company, and at the same time, there was a crowd extending for more than a block from the Fifth avenue office of the Knickerbocker Trust company.

Oakleigh Thorne, president of the Trust Company of America, was at his place of business early in the morning. He made a statement to newspaper reporters, who called on him, to the effect that the institution was all right. "We have plenty of cash on hand. We are facing the situation calmly."

Examinations of Accounts. A committee of accountants representing the bankers, who have taken the whole financial situation in hand, went into the offices of the Trust Company of America at 6 o'clock this morning and began an exhaustive examination of its books and the securities held in its vaults as collateral on loans. This committee expects to finish its labors by about 11 o'clock and at that time will report the result of its findings. It was learned on unquestioned authority this morning that if this report bears out statements made by officers of the institution last night verbally as to its condition, aid will be extended in whatever sum may be required to pay off depositors, who demand their money. Every preparation was made to meet every demand, through on the subject, and to have neither more than the other. We must have them both. We want every republican in the district to feel the weight of this argument. That he must bear his responsibility in this fight, for the simple reason that it is a part of the fight of the state, when state officers are to be elected, when a president of the United States is to be elected, and in the same way gains a foothold in the Fifteenth judicial district it has made a serious broad into the ranks of Nebraska republicans and laid a big stone in the foundation for possible victory in the state at large in 1908."

balloons which left St. Louis Monday afternoon passed over this city between 6:45 a.m. and 7:00 o'clock this morning. One was positively identified as the German balloon Pommer, which was seen at Cleveland, O., yesterday afternoon. Another was positively identified as the English balloon Lotus II, which passed over Wheeling, W. Va., yesterday traveling eastward. A note dropped from the German balloon and picked up by a man on his way to work reads: "Am 1,000 feet in the air and have traveled 1,000 miles. Am trying to make Atlantic City."

The other balloon was not identified, but was traveling in a northeasterly direction, and unless they meet with some accident they will land on the coast within a few hours. The balloons were seen by people in all parts of the city.

In some sections the crowds watching the balloons were so great that street traffic was interfered with. The French balloon report came from Bryn Mawr, ten miles west of this city, at 6:20 a.m. The balloon, Holmsport, all suburbs of this city, next reported a balloon. The first New Jersey town heard from was Beverly at 6:30. Hightstown, N. J., also saw one of the balloons. All of the balloons seen in this vicinity continue in a northeasterly direction.

A telephone message from Woodbury, N. J., says that a balloon passed over that place at 10 a.m. The anchor was out and it looked like the occupants were about to make a landing. While the balloon was not positively identified, it is believed to have been the same as the one which was seen in Philadelphia.

Traveled Close to Ground. YORK, Pa., Oct. 23.—A balloon passed over York county between 5 and 6 o'clock this morning. It was traveling eastward. When seen about five miles south of this city it came within forty feet of the ground. But one man was seen to have seen it. It alighted at one point, but later drifted about for a while, hunting for a favorable current and arose to a considerable height and continued its eastward flight.

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—The following message was received here this morning: DOVER, Del., Oct. 23.—This message was dropped from the balloon "Lusitana" at 5 minutes past 10 o'clock at a distance of about 5 miles.

VON ABERCROMBIE AND HEIDEMAN. WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—A balloon, described as a very bright pink, passed over Rockville, Md., sixteen miles from this city, at daylight today. It was traveling very slowly.

message received today says that balloons passed over Wilmington, Del., this morning. The weather here today received a dispatch from Major Hersey, reporting his landing in the United States balloon at Caledonia, Ont., at 5:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon and that he probably would leave for Milwaukee tomorrow.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., Oct. 23.—A balloon passed over this city between 5 and 6 o'clock this morning. It was traveling eastward. When seen about five miles south of this city it came within forty feet of the ground. But one man was seen to have seen it. It alighted at one point, but later drifted about for a while, hunting for a favorable current and arose to a considerable height and continued its eastward flight.

REMARKABLY EFFECTIVE

A Noted Doctor's Prescription Checks an Acute Cough in a Day and Cures Chronic Coughs.

The wonderfully healing powers of pine have been known for ages, but the comparatively new form of pine product which has the quality of being soluble, which is now being generally prescribed by doctors, is known to the profession as Concentrated Oil of Pine. A Philadelphia lung and throat specialist declares that the formula in which he now uses the Concentrated oil of pine has produced remarkable results, often entirely curing a severe cold in twenty-four hours. This formula is very simple and the ingredients can be obtained at any good prescription drug and mixed at home. It is as follows:

"Mix a half ounce Concentrated oil of pine with two ounces of glycerine and a half pint of good whiskey. Shake it thoroughly each time, and use in doses of a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful every four hours."

The Concentrated oil of pine comes put up for medicinal use only in half ounce vials which are securely sealed in birchwood plainly labeled.

The boxes are air tight and thus retain the original ozone, as well as protecting the fluid from atmospheric changes. Care should be taken not to get any of the patient medicine imitations using similar name and package.

It is also said to be a splendid specific for rheumatism and lumbago. For this purpose it is taken each night and morning. No family medicine chest should be at any time without this powerful remedy.

NEBRASKA FROM DAY TO DAY

Quaint and Curious Features of Life in a Rapidly Growing State.

Something Accomplished—There is one thing we want to do, and that is to recommend Andy Hart for cleaning up the old pump. For ten or fifteen years we have been harping on the subject, and to have the dream fulfilled shows us. Red Cloud now has a plant that cost $50,000, and to have it look like a piece of unworked machinery is too bad. We hope to have the plant kept nice now.—Red Cloud Commercial-Advertiser.

Doin's in the Bissell Family—We were amazed Tuesday morning to see Frank Bissell, his shoes highly polished with stovs blacking and wearing Davis' derby hat, rushing to the depot to catch the morning train. (One who would not have surprised us if it had been Dr. Holm). About a half hour later we noticed Mrs. Bissell and her mother, Mrs. Seavey, going slowly to the depot, and have been informed that Mr. Bissell was only going to accompany his wife to Omaha to the Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodge. Mrs. Seavey accompanied them to York, where she will visit—Webb-Messenger.

Not a Financier—A resident of the city informs us that he has lived for twenty-four or twenty-five years in some houses in the city, renting the same for a continuous time. He sat down a few evenings ago and counted up his bunch of receipts, which he had preserved for the whole length of time, and was astonished to learn that he had paid the owner of the property enough during the time to pay for the property three times at what is now being asked for it on the market, and then have a neat sum in the bank to purchase a lot on which to build a home of his own.—Hastings Tribune.

Nature Fatale—Last Friday night the entire neighborhood in the northern portion of the city was disturbed by an animal, which is puzzling everybody as to what it can be. It has been seen by a number of people, and it is always the case, their descriptions vary. What is going home Friday evening about 10 o'clock, August and John Cloldt and Fred Lindeman saw the "critter" come out in the road in front of them from among the trees, and they, having a gun, took a shot at it, which frightened it, but did not seem to have hit it. Later in the night, W. D. Messersmith heard a commotion, and looking out saw a beast jump over the fence larger than a calf and run down the road. Since that time he has not been able to find his dog, which was always at home before. During the same night the same animal, it is supposed, mangled a big dog for William Howard in such a manner that it had to be killed. W. C. Hamilton reports that the same evening something whipped two bull dogs at his place and made them run and whine to get into his house, they being good fighters, too. Andy Kerns had a dog at its kennel, which had been killed and eaten the same night, leaving nothing but the bones and the chain by which it was tied. What the animal can be is the question which is giving nervous people great concern.—Flemington Journal.

CANDIDATES ADDRESS STUDENTS

Coming Regents Speak at State University Convocation.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—C. B. Anderson and George Cowdell, republican candidates for Regents of the State university, spoke at convocation at the university this morning. The future regents were well received and made a most impressive impression. Mr. Cowdell said in part: "Mr. Chancellor, Members of the Faculty, and Students of the University: As a representative of the agricultural interests of Nebraska, I can say that I am pleased to have the privilege of bringing a word of congratulation to you as an appreciation of the work that this institution has done and is doing. Its reputation is of the highest order, and it is giving to the state a number of its plans and carried to success their work. Nebraska owes a debt of gratitude to this institution."

What is and should be the attitude of the people toward this institution? From the point of view of the state, it is one of love and solicitude for its well-being and upbuilding, especially in its work among the more advanced and thinking people of our state, for they realize and are realizing that there has radiated wide and that influence has been for the benefit of the state, which if but into the hands of the state would be a debt that the state owes to this institution.

To the faculty of this school I bring a warm greeting from one of the friends of the state. It has been to me a pleasure of the highest order to have had the opportunity to come in contact with the men who are and have been instructors here, to come in touch with them and have not only met them, but this institution to my heart.

Robt Former Employers. CHEYENNE, Wyo., Oct. 23.—(Special.)—Joseph Holman, ex-manager of the New York Store, was arrested early this morning, charged with the theft of $500 from the safe of the establishment. He resigned as manager of the store several days ago and was supposed to have departed for Chicago. Last night he unlocked the front door of the place with the key he had not turned in when he quit, manipulated the combination of the safe and stole a sack containing about $500. This morning it was found that the store after said safe were both open and that $500 was missing. Suspicion at once attached to the ex-manager and he was quickly located and arrested. Two hundred dollars of the stolen money and the sack in which the coin had been placed were found in his rooms. Confronted by this evidence he confessed the theft and said the missing $500 of the stolen money had been lost in gaming. He will plead guilty when arraigned in the district court. The arrest of Holman caused much astonishment, as he has been generally liked and trusted during his residence in Cheyenne.
