really make a market. For the week the receipts show very little change as compared with the previous week, but a very heavy gain over the corresponding week of a year ago. The market on all kinds of cattle has suffered a severe reverse, the unsettled conditions prevailing in financial circles being reflected in the live stock markets.

in spite of the fact that receipts of cattle this week have been large, the supply of beef stetrs was at no time heavy. Still the demand on the part of packers was extremely light, so much so in fact that had it not been for the support given by outside buyers it would have been a hard matter on some days to have tonud an outlet for the receipts. As it was, prices broke rapidly here in common with the markets at all other selling points and at the close of the week fat cattle are generally right at 50c lower than a week ago. As a matter of course, there has been more or less unevenness so that while some kinds of cattle and some individual sales have not shown that much decline, others have shown still more.

What das been said regarding the market on beef steers would apply in large part to cows and helfers, with this difference, that the receipts of the latter have part to cows and helfers, with this difference, that the receipts of the latter have been large all the week. It was the heaviest decline experienced in a long time and it is safe to say that cow stuff is selling at the lowest point touched this year. The sharp decline in the market seemed to induce pretty free buying on the part of feeders. In fact a good many would-be feeder buyers have been holding back waiting for a break in prices before filling their orders and many of them took advantage of the opportunity offered this week. But in spite of free buying, the market on feeders at the close of the week is generally? lower, with some kinds undoubtedly 6. lower, with some kinds undoubtedly 6. lower, on the other hand, strictly choice or fancy cattle have in some cases shown comparatively little loss. Considering the large receipts of feeders a very fair clearance was made.
