Omaha Duluth CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS Features of the Trading and Closing

Prices on Board of Trade,

CHICAGO. Nov. II.—Higher prices for wheat at all Europeein grain centers, and also at Minnespolls and Duluth, caused a alrong market in wheat here today. At the clear the December delivery was up 3%c. Corn was to higher. Outs were the figher. Provisions were 1.2%c to 5%.

The wheat market open 1 strong because of advances at the officipal markets of advances at the officipal markets of Europe. An active general demand with its evidence here all day. Senjiment became more buillish toward the middle of the season because of the advances in the Europe. An active general demand was in evidence here all day. Sentiment became more builts toward the middle of the session because of the advances in the northwostern market, and because of immense clearances of wheat and flour of the session because of the advances in the northwostern market, and because of immense clearances of wheat and flour of the session and near the high point of the session and hear the high point of the day. Lecember opened to the market closed strong and near the high point of the day. Lecember opened to the to this her at $15,000 May sold between $1,000 and $1,000 and $1,000 and stoked at $400 May sold between $1,000 and $1,000 and the visible supply increased $6,000 hu. And the visible supply increased $6,000 hu. Primary receipts were $8,000 bu. against $1,7,000 bu. on the same day last year. Minneapolis, Dufuth and Chiengo reported receipts of $60 cars, against $20 cars last week and $50 cars one year ago.

The corn market was strong all day, chiefly because of the sharp advance in wheat. An advance of id at Liverpool was an additional hullish factor. Despite the favorable conditions for the movement of the crop, the receipts continued small. The principal demand earne from shorts. The market closed strong. December opened $400 kers of contract grade.

Outs were in fairly active demand by anorts, because of the strongth of wheat and corn. The market was strong. December opened by ligher at $1500 kers of contract grade.

shorts, because of the strength of wheat and corn. The market was strong. December opened by higher at 175c, sold between 47c and 485c and closed at 475c. Local receipts were 125 cars.

Provisions were strong because of higher prices for live hogs. The market was also affected by the light weight of hogs recently received here. At the close January pork was up 25c at $18.25. Lard was up to at 48.15. Ribs were 5c higher at $7.125c. Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat 5c cars; corn, 124 cars; cats. 15 cars; hogs. 12.000 head.

NEW YORK, Nov. II.—There was apparent some increase in the buying of stocks in the early part of today and commission houses reported that orders had come to them from sources that had been quiescent for several weeks. It was supposed that there were some ventures on margin such as have been precluded ever since the financial conditions first became acute. It was obvious also, that closing up, of uncovered short contracts played a past in the upward movement of prices.

Observers in the beard room were confirmed in the impression formed last week that the actual supply of stocks in the markyt was scarce. In one or two high-grade stocks the impression received practical confirmation in attempts to secure small blocks by successive advances in the bid cent.

F. g. 6s. 55 stocks the impression received practical confirmation in attempts to secure small blocks by successive advances in the hid by many points without bringing out any offerings. Low prices in the period of the crisis, of course, represented the sacridees by borrowers of money, who had to have means to repay lognes on any terms. Now that urgent necessities of that character have been provided for, it becomes manifest that the large bulk of holders of securities feel no disposition to sell them at present prices. The buying did not follow up the advances with any animation and the market sank into alimost stagnant conditions after the buying had spent its force. Conditions near Wall street are working out to the satisfaction of the banking and financial authorities, and the field on which most interest centers is receding more and more remotely from the immediate financial center. All eyes scan the horizon for signs to tell how far the reaction may have to go. in good scason in the morning with price generally steady with last week's close, a far as the desirable kinds were concerned far as the desirable kinds were concerned. The market on steers was very slow to open. Packers seemed to be inclined to walt for reports from other selling points before doing very much, and hence the forenoon was well advanced before buyers and sellers got together on a trading basis. The trade was slow throughout with the feeling very weak.

When the beef steers did sell they generally went at prices that were logistic lower than last week's close. At the close

When the beef steers did sell they generally went at prices that were logifical lower than last week's close. At the close the market was still weaker, some cattle selling late at less money than was offered for them early.

The market on stockers and feeders was very slow throughout the whole session, and at a late hour there were still quite a number unsold. Speculators carried over from last week about a thousand head of cattle, expecting light receipts and a good a number unsold. Speculators carried every from last week about a thousand head of cattle, expecting light receipts and a good demand today. In this they were disappointed and hence were very poor buyers of the fresh receipts. Liberal offerings and a light demand made prices 10% loc lower than last week.

With feeders the situation was not so

With feeders the situation was not so encouraging. The trade opened slow and dull and was very much of a drag all the merning. It was well along toward midday before enough bubiness was transacted to talk about.

In fact it was a good deal of a "catch as catch can" market so far as the feeders were concerned. Salesmen, who happened to have something that just suited a huyer, got out in pretty satisafetory shape, while less designable kinds, aspecially vid. this, proken-mouthed ewes, were extremsly hard to sell at any price.

FOUR HUNDRED DOLLARS MONTH

Sumber of Telegraphers at Westers Union and Postal Made as Much as This During Strike Pertod.

It's an aid and smity overworked proverb-that one about the ill wind that blows nobody any good. But it must be drafted into requisition in this story because it is such a perfect fit.

to go out on the strike show conclusively to whom the Ill wind of the strike blew

"We thought we never would get our home paid for," said one of the older Western Union men. "I had always worked as steadily as I could, though I was sick a few weeks now and then With doctor bills and high prices every where I just couldn't seem to pull clear of that balance of $700 that was left on our home. Then came the strike. For-tunately, I was in good health and I just buckled down to it. I had been earning $88 a month working nine hours a day and six days a week. I began putting in fourteen hours a day and seven days a week and I made $340 the first month of the strike. The next month I did nearly as well and now we have our home free from debt and a nice little nest egg in the bank. Bring on your strikes. If the thing had first lasted a little longer I'd probably been getting into the fight with Pisk and Harriman for control of Illinois Central or I might have come forward during the money flurry in Wall street and deposited a few millions just to restore publie confldence."

Many Buy Homes. Some of the operators put their extra money into property. There are several who made the first payment on homes which they can now easily handle on the installment plan by paying each month only as much as they formerly paid for rent. The strike gave them the few hundred dollars necessary for the first payment. "Several of our men have bought property with the money made during the strike." said Superintendent Williams of the Postal company. "We have men here who averaged $400 a month during the strike, which lasted, you know, from August 10 to November 1-nearly three months. We called seven hours a day's work and for that the operators received double the wages they had received be fore the strike for a nine-hour shift. Some rolls, Bullac; creamery, Re.

Soon, Sa Latest Reports Indicate.

Latest advices received at local Army readquarters from the Thunder Butter country, the scene of the Uto Indian troubles, show the indications all point to a speedy settlement.

Colonel Frank West was still at W 'te Horse with the two squadrons of the Second cavalry, but he is in constant communication with Major Sibley at Thunder Buttes by courier. White Horse is the end of the telephone line that connects eastward with Cheyenne agency on the Missouri river and is about thirty miles from Thunder Buttes.

Supplies for the troops were being forried across the Missouri between Forest City and Cheyenne agency. The river here is about 1,000 feet in width and the ferriage process is necessarily very slow. Post Commissary Sergeant Edwin E.

Lear and Sergeant Arthur Morehouse of the hospital corps from Fort Riley passed through Omaha Saturday enroute for Get tysburg. S. D., the present base of supplies, for duty in the field with Colone Frank West's command.

Supplies are being shipped to Gettysburg from Omaha and other points as rapidly as possible. These include feet and forage and wagen transportation for the use of the command.
