TO CURE A COUGH OR COLD. The following formula is a never-failing remedy for coughs or colds: Two ounces of glycerine, one-half ounce of Concentrated oil of pine, one-half pint good whisky; mix and shake thoroughly each time and use in doses of a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful every four hours. This, if followed up, will cure any cough that is curable or break up an acute cold in twenty-four hours. Other oils of pine are insoluble and are likely to produce nausea and cannot give the desired results.

OMAHA IN THE LEAD ON OATS

Jumps from Twelfth to Fifth Primary Market of the World.

MORE CEREAL MILLS ARE NEEDED

With Means of Consumption Gate City Will Lead in First Place on All Grains Before Very Long.

From twelfth place among the primary oats markets of the United States two years ago, Omaha crept up to fifth place in the total receipts, and was only kept from fourth place in September by Peoria, where the receipts were only 184,999 bushels greater than the receipts of the Omaha market, according to the report of the Department of Agriculture, received at the grain exchange Wednesday. Receipts at St. Louis, Minneapolis, Chicago and Peoria were larger than the receipts at Omaha. All other markets fell far short of the receipts at this market. During the first nine months of 1907 the oats receipts were 3,975,000 bushels; 1906, 2,660,000, while in 1907, 5,761,000 bushels. In oats shipments Omaha ranks fourth, the shipments of the Chicago, St. Louis and Minneapolis markets being greater than at this market. The shipments from Omaha in nine months up to October 1 were 10,419,000 bushels, as compared with 7,471,800 bushels last year. Cereal Mills Needed. Most remarkable has been the growth of the oats market at Omaha, and grain dealers believe the time is opportune for making every effort to secure cereal mills for Omaha. It is estimated that with two or more large mills located in Omaha, the receipts of oats would be increased and Omaha would probably rank third among the oat markets of the world. As a corn market the record in both shipments and receipts, has been maintained throughout the nine months of 1907, with the following showing as compared with other primary markets:

Table with columns: Receipts, Shipments, and various city names like Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha, Peoria, Kansas City.

While showing gains constantly in both oats and barley, the wheat market in Omaha maintains a high place, and for September ranked sixth among the primary markets, showing a gain in receipts of 141,000 bushels over the same month last year and an increase of almost 2,500,000 bushels for the first nine months of 1907 as compared to the same months last year. The receipts of wheat for nine months of 1907 were 7,584,000 bushels and the shipments 6,121,000. The September receipts were 885,000 bushels.

CITY AND STATE COLLIDE

Authorities Clash Over Treatment of Diphtheria at Deaf and Dumb School.

The development of diphtheria at the institution for the Deaf and Dumb has resulted in somewhat strained relations between the superintendent of that institution and the city health authorities. When the disease was discovered the physicians at the school desired to use anti-toxin in small doses on all of the inmates of the institution. The superintendent objected because of the cost, saying the funds placed at his disposal by the school for the last legislature would not permit the expenditure necessary. Then other cases developed until there were eighteen in the house. Then the physician of the school consulted Health Commissioner Crowell, who was advised to use the anti-toxin regardless of the cost to the superintendent. This provoked some discussion, the result being that Sunday the health commissioner ordered the school placed under quarantine. It was later found that after the quarantine had been placed on the building, teachers left the house and went home, returning to school the next day. Then the health commissioner notified the superintendent that any person leaving the institution would be arrested. While Governor Sheldon and members of the board of visitors were in Omaha Tuesday they visited the school, where all of the precautions taken by the physicians and the desire of the superintendent were discussed. It was suggested that an inspection be made to ascertain if the general health of the children could not be improved by inspection. For some time it has been the opinion of visiting physicians that the majority of the children were affected by diphtheria. In speaking of the subject with the governor, a physician called a child to him to show adenoids, and found the child affected by diphtheria, although he had shown no symptoms until his throat was seen. The physicians now have full swing at the school. No more children will be received until the hospital is free from disease. It is expected that this will be in about six weeks. Two children sent from Columbus to the school are being held at the Detention home until their parents can send for them.

PRECINCTS FAIL TO REPORT

Douglas and Chicago Omit Making Returns on Two Propositions Submitted.

Failure of precinct election boards to make proper returns will delay the completion of the official canvass of the vote cast at the last election from one to two days and will entail that much additional work on the board. Trips will have to be taken to Douglas and Chicago precincts as the boards in those precincts forgot to make any returns of the vote on the questions authorizing the county board to expend money for the erection of a Detention school and a tuberculosis ward. The board or a representative of it will have to visit these precincts and open the machines. In seven precincts in Omaha also no returns were made on either of the propositions in recording the vote will make it necessary to reopen the voting machines. In these cases the trouble is declared to be due to carelessness or incompetency of officials. With these errors to correct the count probably will not be finished until Friday.

LOCAL PREMIUM ON CURRENCY

One Banker Expresses His Views on the Plan Adopted by Lincoln Banks.

"I read the suggestion in The Bee of the banks to modify their rule against specie payments to allow withdrawals of cash to the extent of one's deposits, but it does not appeal to me," said a well-known banker. "I have read that that plan has been pursued in Lincoln and some other places, and it may be working well there because of the limited amount of business, but I do not believe it will be wise for Omaha to do it. It is establishing separate currency accounts, banks would be making a distinction that would tend to send currency to a premium. We are satisfied with the course of affairs locally, which shows steady improvements and we are helping it along by responding to requests for currency by regular customers to the extent of legitimate demands. We are receiving cash deposits right along although, of course, in no such volume as heretofore, but the amount of cash deposits is steadily increasing and I think that by going along as we are now we will come to a specie basis as soon as any city of our class."

UPDIKE MILL TO BE DOUBLED

Capacity May Be Doubled, as Business is Growing.

COMMERCIAL CLUB WANTS THIS

Will Confer Soon with the Owners on the Proposition to Make the Plant as Large Again as Now.

To double the capacity of the flour mill in Omaha is the plan now being considered by the Updike Grain company. The consumption in Omaha is 1,000 barrels a day and this is the Updike mill capacity. The plan will be taken up shortly by the Omaha Commercial club and some plan developed whereby the Updike company can be induced to double the capacity. That the Updike company is willing to do its share in the scheme is shown by the fact that it has secured an option on the lot adjoining the mill and will go ahead if the present plans carry. "The mill has ground along in spite of the fact that little grain was coming to Omaha," said N. B. Updike, "and we are getting more orders for flour than we are now able to fill. Early in the game we had an order for two cars of flour to Chicago and these were filled, and today we just received another order for two more cars from the same place."

"When asked concerning the report that the capacity of the flour mill was to be doubled, Mr. Updike said: "That matter is to be taken up shortly and as soon as it is shown the people of Omaha will take the present output of the mill locally we will at once double its size. The people should take considerable local pride in the big mill, and I think they do. The matter of the quality of the flour is up to us, and if we don't give the quality we would not expect Omaha to buy a sack. There is no reason why, with the splendid wheat of Nebraska coming to us and with the latest known machinery, we should not be able to turn out as good flour as any mill on earth, and we intend to do it."

An ideal location for law offices

A building opposite to the court house and next to the city hall is particularly convenient for members of the legal profession. The fact that one of the court rooms is in the Bee Building, also makes it a most satisfactory location. With a lawyer, time counts for so much, that any saving which can be made in going from the office to the courts is a distinct advantage.

THE BEE BUILDING

with its beautiful court, attractive entrance and corridors, is a pleasant place in which to have an office. A lawyer, particularly, should be in a fire-proof building, where he will know that his books and records are safe. Then, too, he does not wish to be annoyed by poor service and the Bee Building, with its well trained help, has an organization which gives uniformly satisfactory service.

We can offer a few very choice offices at this time. The time to look them over is before some one else has taken the one you want.

For office space apply to R. W. BAKER, Sup't, Room 418 Bee Bldg.

Gall Stones Removed

WITHOUT THE KNIFE OR PAIN

I will give you an absolute guarantee to remove gall stones and the elements in the system which produce them within five days without the use of a knife and free from pain. You can see a sufferer from gall stones you know this is a broad assertion to make, for never before until my new method was perfected, were they successfully removed without the use of the knife. An operation means much pain and suffering, and so often a repetition of the operation. My new formulated method not only removes the stones, but rids the system of the cause that produces them.

In my regular family practice here I have successfully treated all cases that have come to me. If you are a sufferer, write me for further information and I will also be pleased to refer you to my former patients.
