Where and How to Buy Your New Winter Coat

First be sure of the style-not merely the prevailing style, but style that best sults your own face and figure. In our great variety of new Wooltex models we offer something for everybody. Take the new Marchioness models. Their long, loose-fitting lines are so modified to suit every type of figure that they cannot fail to please you.

Then you must be sure of quality, and all women know "Wooltex" quality for the very best there is. Each bolt of cloth is proved pure wool by acid test before it is made up into any "Wooltex" garment. The same care is used in the selection of linings, so these will prove equally serviceable. And the tailoring-don't forget that Wooltex Style is built into the garment to stay there. The cut is most generous and so accurate that we can absolutely guarantee the fit. The padding is hand molded and the interlinings receive the same careful attention in the cutting as do the outside materials.

If you believe in the best, then you must decide on "Wooltex." Each garment is guaranteed to give satisfactory wear. Come in Saturday and learn what real coat satisfaction is. Wooltex Coats from $38.50 down to $25.00. The place to buy Wooltex Coats is Thompson, Belden & Co. We control the exclusive sale of these garments in this city.

He told Mr. Bryan that his services amounted to 500,000 pounds, but in 1901 it had dropped to 275,000 pounds. This was due, he said, to the differentials imposed by the British government which operated to exclude competition with the British manufacturers. The protective tariff operated to exclude the British from this country. Mr. Harris said that when the American Tobacco company found itself excluded from Egypt it became necessary to have a plant in London.

After holding the Ogdens limited for some time it was sold to the Imperial Tobacco company for $13,000,000. Of this amount $6,000,000 represented the operating plant and the remainder the good will of the company, Mr. Harris said that at the present time the American company manufactures in the United States the goods it formerly imported from Great Britain, and the British company the American brands n England under bonds.

Mr. Harris said that while the companies are losing money in some places the export trade on the whole is profitable and the possibilities of the future are very great. He declared that there has been no restraint of trade either in this country or in England as a consequence of the export trade agreement. The hearing will he continued next Monday.

CIVIL SERVICE RULE IN THE WAY

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 - (Special Telegram.)-Senator Burkett is having quite a warm controversy just now with the Civil Service commission over the appointment of George Elliott, an old soldier, as watchman at army headquarters at Omaha. Major Brad Slaughter, one of the paymasters assigned to the Department of the Missouri, has had some correspondence with Senator Burkett relative to this old soldier, who is janitor of the building, but who destres the position of watchman. It seems that the position of watchman has been filled from time to time by the Civil Bervice commission by appointments from almost everywhere, one man coming from Porto Rico, a colored man from Atlanta, Ga. ,and others from different parts of the

In the last four years some eight or ten different persons have been appointed upon the job, but have been unsatisfactory, even though they have passed the civil service examination prior to being appointed to the

In view of the fact that these civil service appointees have fallen down, Elliott, the old soldier in question, has been compelled to do the work simost constantly without receiving the pay of a watchman and not being on the rolls of the civil service. Senator Burkett, believing that this old soldier shoulld have a chance, has written a warm letter to the Civil Service commission, asking them to put George Elliott on the list of eligibles without the formality of passing a civil service examination, and that the best test of his fitness for the place rests in the fact that he has given satisfactory service as a watchman, while other men have been classed as incompetent. Burket also takes the position that when there are men in Nebraska who are competent, able and willing to fill the position, it would be better practice to give the appointment to a Nebraskan than to appoint some carpet-basger from Georgia, Porto Rice or anywhere else
