HARMONY IS WATCHWORD
Republican Candidates and Committeemen Guests of Victor Rosewater.

DOUGLAS COUNTY IS PRAISED
State Chairman and State Candidates Voice Common Sentiment—What United Effort Can Do.

Victor Rosewater, editor of The Omaha Bee, was host at the Hotel Rome Friday night at a complimentary dinner to the republican county committee and to the candidates on the republican ticket. Nearly all the successful state and county candidates were present, and these, with the precinct committeemen, made a total of 110 guests who gathered in the banquet room at the Hotel Rome.

Myron Learned, chairman of the Douglas county committee, acted as toastmaster, and the speakers were William Hayward, chairman of the state committee; Regents Anderson and Coupland, Judge Lee Estelle, Gordon W. Wattles, Sheriff E. F. Brailey, Robert Smith, clerk of the district court; Arthur Critcham Smith, state senator; Charles L. Saunders and Victor Rosewater. The banquet was most significant for the assurance of harmony which were heard on all sides, which showed a united republican party.

"We met tonight as the guests of our esteemed friend," said toastmaster Learned, after the many good things to eat had been disposed of. "We meet to renew friendships which have been made during the late campaign. Man learns the good qualities of his associates in times of adversity. We passed through such a time and have fought for the principles of the republican party and have been successful. Every man on the committee stood by me from the first to the last. We have all been on the firing line and all have done our part and our fight was but a part of the state campaign."

Douglas Surprised All.
"I can assure you all it is most gratifying to me to see this splendid gathering of republicans," said William Hayward of Nebraska City, chairman of the state committee. "I wish to bring to you workers the sincere thanks of the republicans of Nebraska. The republicans of the state are giving the most credit to Douglas county the banner republican county of the state. The utmost harmony is most apparent and it is noticed by all. The result in Douglas county exceeded the fondest hopes of the leaders. When we heard the result, with the large vote, our hearts went out to Douglas county, to whom we owe a debt of gratitude for the time they have spent here."

"I hope the entire state will always vote like you Douglas county does, for we all look to Omaha as the metropolis, and there is nothing to the talk which is heard of the rest of the state being against Omaha. I am a republican partisan and always vote the straight ticket. No democrat can give me more credit than the republicans who are in office in Nebraska except by republican vote. It is not right. The republicans should hold the office. Nine times out of ten the republicans nominate the right kind of men, and we should support them. Every time you let some petty quarrel put a democrat in office you give the party a foothold which will help in the presidential year which will be after this increase of capitalization. Can you tell me what these new securities were issued for?"

Mr. Williams contended that the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company, if it had bought $2,500,000 of water, it had subsequently squeezed it out.

"I cannot agree with you. It looks to me like a plain case of a watering and the company had no right to charge that $6,000,000 in its books to the cost of equipment of the road. It was wrong in principle, and if it was not legally wrong the law ought to be changed to make it so," said Mr. Evans.

Omaha Getting Closer to State.
"It is a great favor to me to meet the fighting force of Douglas county," said C. B. Anderson of Crete, successful candidate for the office of regent of the University of Nebraska. "Just and unjust alike are doing me good against the results in Douglas county. The republicans of the state are proud the fall of Douglas county. We of the state take delight in the political and commercial well-being of Omaha and Douglas county for they set the example for the state and the country is interested. The grain market of Omaha means much to the farmers of the state and the big jobbers of Omaha are getting closer and closer to the merchants of the smaller towns of the state. The results in this county show there is nothing to this criticism of Douglas county and are a glowing tribute to the hard work of the county committee."

Mr. Anderson took occasion to pay tribute to the hard and well directed work of Chairman William Hayward of the state committee and eulogized the state university.

Seed Bearing Fruit.
"I have been long interested in agricultural pursuits and the features of the University of Nebraska has attracted my attention. That part should be developed, for even Omaha is dependent on the agricultural resources of the state," said Governor Coupland, the other regent-elect who had come down from Elkhorn on the occasion. "The seed sown thirty years ago through the editorial columns of The Bee by Edward Rosewater is giving forth its crop today. Officials must stand for good government in the past. The vote in Douglas county shows what can be accomplished when the republicans stand shoulder to shoulder. When I received the invitation to attend the dinner I thought I should at least come to Omaha to return thanks. Lincoln said, 'The prosperity of a country is measured by the number of its citizens who have the right to vote.'"

Played an Essential Part.
"When we were in the harvest fields, I was permitted to carry the water," said G. W. Wattles. "And so today I am only a private and am still carrying the water, so to speak."

"I must pause to congratulate our host on his splendid banquet, which will do so much for the united republican party and also to congratulate the men who are the workers in the republican party. The republican party knows but one machine, and that is composed of the duly elected representatives of the party as elected by the people, and if the party is always led by that machine we will always win. Put aside all factionalism in the ranks and you will keep in the lead. It is an honor for any man to belong to this great party, which has always stood for equality of rights. Lincoln said, 'The prosperity of the republic depends on the idea of equality of opportunity,' and the leaders following Lincoln have put the party where Bryan can not assail it."

"It matters not who the candidate may be, we are sure of success if we follow the party banner and using the right of pretending to be constitutionalists, or of breaking with the extreme right. The ques-

CONFERENCE AT WHITE HOUSE
L. P. Morgan and G. F. Baker Spend Hour with President.

FINANCIAL OUTLOOK DISCUSSED
Big Banker Says it is Better, but Refuses to Talk of His Interview with Chief Executive.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—J. Pierpont Morgan and George F. Baker, the latter president of the First National bank of New York arrived here yesterday for a conference with Secretary Cortelyou of the Treasury department. At 10 last night Messrs Morgan and Baker, accompanied by Assistant Secretary Robert Bacon of the State department went to the White House to see the president.

The object was not divulged but was believed to be in relation to the financial situation. Upon leaving the White House at 11:25, after being with the president an hour and a half, Mr. Morgan on being asked what the developments were replied the conditions in New York were reassuring. He said that everything possible was being done to relieve the money situation. He said his object in coming to Washington today was to see Secretary Cortelyou before going to the White House and called upon the president to pay his respects.

Many Subscriptions Received.
The secretary of the treasury stated last evening that subscriptions to the 3 per cent certificates were being received in large numbers and that the issue was already a successful one. In addition to subscriptions from individuals, many of the national bank depositors in the crop-growing sections of the south and west are availing themselves of the opportunity to purchase the certificates, receive a large proportion of the proceeds as a deposit on approved securities and increase their circulation to the amount of the registered certificates, in the discretion of the secretary of the treasury. The beneficial results of the issue will be felt in the near future.

Aid for National Banks.
National banks entitled to do so will be allowed to increase their circulation by depositing currency for treasury certificates, which, however, will be retained in the treasury as security for the increased circulation. Simultaneously the secretary would redeposit with the purchasing bank, on state, municipal and railroad securities, 75 per cent of the amount of currency put up for certificates. As an illustration, it is said that a bank wishing to increase its circulation by $100,000 would deposit that amount of currency, when it would be allotted $100,000 in treasury certificates. These would be retained in the treasury as security for the $100,000 additional circulation. Of the $100,000 in currency paid in for the certificates, the secretary would immediately redeposit with the bank 75 per cent, or $75,000. By the transaction the bank would pay in $100,000 and receive $100,000 additional circulation and a public deposit of $75,000.

The secretary also stated that a bank not entitled to additional circulation could put up currency for certificates and receive in return as a public deposit 75 per cent of the currency as deposited on approved state, municipal and railroad securities. As to the purchase of treasury certificates by individuals, the secretary authorized the statement that persons who were hearing money would be encouraged to invest in the certificates.

JOHNSON WATERS THE STOCK
Mayor of Cleveland is Accused of Indulging in High Finance in Brooklyn.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—William M. Evans, while investigating the affairs of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company for the Public Service commission today, declared that Mayor Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland and his friends, who formerly owned the Nassau Electric Railway company of Brooklyn, had watered its stock to the extent of $2,500,000 and then sold it to the Brooklyn company. This was alleged to have taken place in a reorganization of the Nassau company in June, 1899. Questioning Timothy S. Williams, vice president of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company, about the reorganization of the Nassau company Mr. Evans said: "On that reorganization I find that they increased their bond issue by an additional $2,500,000. They made an entirely new issue of preferred stock of $5,000,000, they therefore having no preferred stock, and to the previously existing $5,000,000 of common stock they added $7,500,000, making a total of new issues of $12,500,000, and your acquisition was after this increase of capitalization. Can you tell me what these new securities were issued for?"

Mr. Williams contended that the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company, if it had bought $2,500,000 of water, it had subsequently squeezed it out.

"I cannot agree with you. It looks to me like a plain case of a watering and the company had no right to charge that $6,000,000 in its books to the cost of equipment of the road. It was wrong in principle, and if it was not legally wrong the law ought to be changed to make it so," said Mr. Evans.

OMAHA HIGH SCHOOL NOTES
Junior Class Elects Officers and Priscilla Alden Society Gives a Play.

The junior class of the high school held its first meeting after school Friday, when officers for the year were elected. Principal Waterhouse presided, and except for a senior demonstration at the beginning of the meeting, the proceedings passed off quietly and without any important questions being raised.

The speeches nominating Sam Carrier and Don Wood for president were particularly strong and well received; in fact, all the nominations aroused much enthusiasm among the supporters of the various candidates, and were a good indication of the close character of the balloting that followed. The other nominees were as follows:

Vice president, Gretchen McConnell and Geraldine Gifford; secretary, Ruth Lindley and Ruth Waterhouse; treasurer, Sigurd Larmon and Coe Buchanan; sergeant-at-arms, Phil Lehmer, Uarda Scott, Howard Roe, Alice Woodworth, Max Floward and Frederick McConnell; class teacher, Mrs. Fleming.

All students having between fifteen and twenty-two points were allowed to vote, and in every case the student's record was looked up in the office card index before his ballot was placed in the box. In this way a fair, orderly election was secured, without much trouble or delay.

The result of the voting was as follows: President, Don Wood; vice president, Geraldine Gifford; secretary, Ruth Lindley; treasurer, Sigurd Larmon; sergeant-at-arms, Howard Roe and Alice Woodworth.

The election of Mrs. Fleming as class teacher was declared unanimous. After the election President Wood took the chair and made a brief speech, after which the meeting was adjourned.

The Priscilla Alden society, one of the girls' literary organizations, held a program meeting in the gymnasium Friday afternoon, when a college play was rendered by Beas Fleming, Jennie Spence, Bessie Ladd, Blanche Marshall, Helen Potter, Alice Buchanan, Helen Wright, Edna Ballard and Ethel Koss. The program was in charge of Beas Townsend, and music was furnished by Bessie Ladd and Jennie Spence.

T. W. McCullough, managing editor of The Bee has been secured to speak on newspaper work before the tenth and eleventh grade English classes, December 2. The students are very enthusiastic over this instructive branch of the English work and anticipate an interesting talk.

DEBATE IN THE RUSSIAN DUMA
Octoberists and Monarchists Disagree on Best to Carry.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 23.—Up to a late hour last night no agreement had been reached between the Octoberists and the monarchists regarding the text of the address in reply to the emperor's speech opening the Duma, which that body is to discuss tomorrow.

The Octoberists propose a draft couched along the lines of loyalist platitudes. It contains distinct references to the Octoberists' manifesto to his majesty, and mentions the legislative powers conferred on the Duma as the foundation of a renovated regime in Russia.

The address proposed by the monarchists is colorless compared to that adopted by the first Duma, yet a large section of the conservatives, including M. Furiakovitch, insist that the function of the present Duma is mainly consultative and consequently they demand that the emperor be addressed as an autocrat, implying that he has full power to withdraw the concessions which he has made. The Octoberists face the dilemma of either justifying themselves by expunging all reference to the Octoberist manifesto, thereby surrendering the party banner and losing the right of pretending to be constitutionalists, or of breaking with the extreme right. The ques-

A Voice From The Stomach
A Bloodless Fight Between a Tablet and a Habit—The Tablet Wins.

At the age of 22, Clarence had good digestion. He had gastric juice that could dissolve doughnuts and turn appleskins into good blood corpuscles.

At the age of 24 he began to be profuse about the waist and lean backwards. He also began to cultivate several habits. His new-found pride he began to think it his duty to gorge himself on everything, the good and the bad, for appetite feeds on appetite—and every good thing is abused.

His pictures showed that he took on weight after he put his collar on.

At the age of 25 Clarence married and went to boarding. On top of all this, he attended supper sippers and wine dinners, which reduced the size of his collar from 14 to 15. With still abiding faith in the strength of his body he gulped his meals, and chewed them afterwards.

At the age of 28 Clarence began to hear an inward voice—a warning from the stomach. After each meal, he would feel bloated and belching became a habit.

He began to be a light eater—and a heavy thinker. He tried to think out a cure, for now he would sit down at his meals, and he would be absolutely disgusted at the thought or sight of anything to eat.

He would sit down at his meals without the trace of an appetite, just because it was time to eat.

He would often feel a gnawing, unsatisfied "stitching" feeling in his stomach, even after he was through eating, whether his meal was well cooked or not.

And he suffered a good many other things with his stomach that he could not explain, but that made him grouchy, miserable, out-of-sorts and generally sour on everybody and everything.

Finally he read an account, something like this, about the truly wonderful results obtained from Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in all cases of stomach trouble, dyspepsia, and so on. He bought a 50c box at the drug store, and took the whole box. When he started, he had little faith and less appetite. When he finished he had absolute faith—and more appetite, and more good cheer. Things began to taste different and better to him.

Now he has no more dyspepsia, no more indigestion, no more loss of appetite, no more nervousness, no more burning sensation, heartburn, nausea, eructations, bad memory, or loss of vim and vigor.

Remember, one ingredient of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest for you 2,000 grains of food, just as it did for Clarence.

This relieves your stomach of the work of digesting until your stomach can get strong and healthy again. Your stomach has been overworked and abused. It's fagged out. It needs a rest.

Let Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do the work of your stomach. You will be surprised how fine you'll feel after eating, and how instinctively good everything will taste to you.

Here's the call of the stomach now! There's a world of good cheer in one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets—at any drug store, etc.

WOMEN SUFFRAGISTS IN FIGHT
Herbert Gladstone Howled from Platform in Leeds and General Row Follows.

LEEDS, England, Nov. 23.—The woman suffragists today virtually compelled Herbert Gladstone, secretary of state for home affairs, to abandon his attempt to address a meeting here. The intervention from the "suffragists" became so persistent that Mr. Gladstone declared he would no longer struggle against such tactics and brought his speech to a sudden close. One of the suffragists thereupon tried to take possession of the meeting. While she was speaking a free fight broke out between the men and women of the audience. Mr. Gladstone and his wife beat a speedy retreat and the chairman declared the meeting closed.

SUNDAY QUESTION IN COURT
Application for Injunction to Prevent Courts from Acting on Closing Law.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Nov. 23.—Application was made to the supreme court this afternoon by counsel representing the Kansas City theatre owners and cinema dealers for a writ of prohibition to prohibit Circuit Judge Wallace of Kansas City and Prosecuting Attorney Kimbrell from prosecuting, and the grand jury from indicting the plaintiffs for operating theaters and selling cigars on Sunday. The application is based on the alleged illegal selection of the grand jury by Judge Wallace. The supreme court is expected to act on the application during the afternoon.

RADIUM WILL COST LESS
Austrian Scientists Discover Method Which Will Reduce Price to $1,000,000 an Ounce.

VIENNA, Nov. 23.—Great success has attended the experiments to cheapen the cost of the production of radium which have been made at the imperial academy of sciences of Vienna.

Nearly three grams of radium have been extracted from ten thousand grams of pitchblende at one-third the cost of previous production.

Radium has been exceedingly costly of production, it was estimated not long ago that an ounce would cost not less than $2,000,000.
