Treasurer Brian Desires to Hold What Cash He Has on Hand and There ta No Complaint About His Action.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Nov. 24 - (Special.) - Employes of the state received their warrants during the last few days just the same as though there was no bank flurry on, but they are getting very little money on the warrants. Treasurer Belan is anxious to hold on to what cash he has on hand and in payment of the warrants he gives a check. As a matter of fact, the holder of the warrant could force the treasurer to register the same unless the cash was forthcoming, but so far no one has shown disposition to start anything and all are taking what is offered them by the treasurer without even discussing the matter.

The officials of the State university sent over yesterday for the salary warrants for the teachers and employes, but Deputy Auditor Cook refused to deliver any except those which were for work done in October. There is no money on hand in the temporary university fund with which to pay these warrants, and they have to be registered and then draw interest. Mr. Cook figured there is no reason why the state should issue the warrants in advance and then have to pay interest on them. They will not be delivered until the last day of the month.

Canvassing Board Meets Today. The State Canvassing board will meet tomorrow to canvass the returns of the recent election, made by the various county elerks. Owing to the fact that several county clerks failed to mail in duplicate election returns to the secretary of state, as requested, the officical returns cannot be published until the board meets tomorrow. The board will be delayed some by reuson of the county clerks failing to act, as the members will have to fill in the missing counties on the tabulation made from the duplicate returns, and will also have to total the vote cast for the various candidates. This heretofore has been done in advance from the duplicate returns.

Lid Goes on in Hall County. GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Nov. 24 -- (Speclal.)-For the first time in many years every saloon in the county was closed today, rear doors having hitherto been open. The action is the result of an agitation which began late in the summer and resulted not so much from the management of the saloons in this city, which are generally conceded to be in the hands of as good a set of men as are in the busness in the state, barring one or two exeptions, as from the Sunday excursions and the reported behavior of the crowds attending resorts along Wood river. Agriculture, has been experimenting for plant. Seeds and cuttings from Ceylon, India, China and Japan have been tried with varied success. It was found that the climate of South Carolina is apparently an ideal one for tea cultivation, and year after year congress appropriated a sum of money to continue the efforts toward making tea culture commercially successful in this country. It is now some thing over twenty-five years since the first attempt in this direction was made under the suspices of the then commissioner of agriculture. From the first it was readily seen that the tea plant would thrive in America, but not until a year or two ago was American tea placed on the market. Today there are half a dozen or more varieties offered to the tea drinker, and the quality is excellent. But it is the "tabloid" tea which is the novelty. Summerville farm is sending out small tin boxes of tea compound made into tublets, each of which is sufficient to make one cup of the cheering beverage. The box itself is in the form of a cube, about two inches on each surface, and contains enough tea to furnish an ordinary family for a month. The Department of Agriculture has distributed a great many sample boxes, and it is believed this new form of compressed tea will be widely used as soon as its merits become known. In the meantime, tea culture is being extended in Texas and Florida, and the prospects are that the United States will, before many years have passed, become independent of the countries of the orient for the "component part of chief value" for afternoon gatherings in the drawingcooms of the socially elect.
