PRESIDENT'S POLICIES DISCUSSED

Four of Them, He Says, Are Demoeratic; Four Undemocratic, and He Has Not Endorsed Four Other Democratic Doctrines.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.-William J. Bryan was last night tendered a banquet and reception by "The United Democracy of the District of Columbia." Five hundred democrats partook of the $3 dinner and more than double that number participated in the reception and feast of oratory which followed. While the capacity of the Raieigh hotel banquet hall placed a coveted limit on the attendance, the "lid" was completely off as to enthusiasm, and the long speech of Mr. Bryan, like the half dozen shorter ones in his praise which preceded it, afforded opportunity for repeated and continued demonstrations of political accord and personal regard for the guest of Mr. Bryan's Speech Mr. Bryan's subject was 'The Point of View." and his speech consisted of illustrations of the difference in the point of view from which questions are examined, Before taking up the serious presentation of this subject he referred to some of the remarks made by preceding speakers and appropos of Mr. Hagan's suggestion that Tammany tigers would make better playthings for children than Teddy bears, he said that party emblems, as well as political toys, had their places, and he spoke a defense of the democratic donkey. 'The donkey," he said, "is really a better emblem than the elephant for a party. This was impressed upon my mind when visited other countries. I found that the lonkey is a resident of every country, and that everywhere he is serving the people, and that, too, the common people. He is not an aristocrat. Whether you visit the mountains of the west, the densely populated regions of the orient, the fertile valleys of the Nile, or the sacred soil of the Holy Land, you will find the donkeypatient, persistent and always at work. The elephant, on the contrary, is only to be found in certain latitudes, and is seldem seen except on dress parade. If greatness s to be measured by service, instead of by size or appearance, the position of honor must be given to the faithful donkey. As the democratic party is becoming a universal party and is everywhere justifying its claims to the confidence of the people by the service it is rendering them, it is ntirely appropriate that it should prefer the donkey to the elephant for an emblem." Four Democratic Doctrines.

After dealing humorously with the charge that the republicans everywhere were stealing democratic thunder, he proceeded to point out things which the president has borrowed, the democratic doctrines which he has ignored and the undemocratic docpresident has advocated railroad regulation, which is a democratic doctrine, but he has church, will speak and there will be spenot gone as far as democrats would have him go, and the republican leaders are not willing to go as far as the president does. He has taken some steps toward the enforgement of the law against trusts and in this respect has been following democratic doctrine, although he has not prosecuted all the trusts and has not recently made any effort to secure additional anti-trust legislation. Here, too, the republican leaders doctor said he did not know such a requido not support the president's position. The siffon would be allowed. Dr. Connell then president has advocated an income tax; decided turkey must be served and that if this is democratic, but none of the leaders the watch dogs of the city treasury proof his party have yet attempted to carry tested he would pay for the fowl from his out his recommendation on this subject and Secretary Taft, who he has designated as she was gasping her last. Their 8-year-old his heir apparent, is not in favor of an income tax at this time. The president has also recommended arbitration as a means sen banks in the association to take the LUMBER MEN FILE COMPLAINT of settling labor disputes. This doctrine was taken bodily from the democratic platform, but it seems to be as unpopular with the republican leaders as other democratic > doctrines. "Here are four policies which the presi-WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 .- Forty-one lum- dent has endorsed which are distinctly dem-

The president has not recognized the right of the Filipinos to the promise of ultimate independence, although the democratic position on this question has been vindicated by experence. He has not yet endorsed the democratic position on government by injunc tion, but in his last message he intimated that it might become necessary to restrain the use of writ of injunction, if the abuse of this writ continued. He reminds me of the man who went to the theater on a pass. The play was so unsatisfactory that audience hissed and hooted, but the man with the pass kept quiet. Finally, one of the audience asked him why he did not join in the expression of disappro val and he replied. I do not like this play any more than the rest of you do. I am in here on a pass, but if this play gets much worse. I'll go out and buy a ticket and come back and then I will hiss with the rest of you.'

Four Undemocratic Doctrines. "Here are four democratic doctrines tha he has not endorsed and now let me call your attention to some very undemocratic doctrines which he has announced. In the first place, he favors the national incorporation of railroads and other interstate nmerce corporations, and this is in line with his position that the federal governmeht can, through a treaty, interfere with the school system of California. The dem ocrats insist upon the recognition of th right of the state to exercise its constitutionally over domestic affairs. He has recommended a ship subsidy which is so undemocratic that it had the solid opposition of the democratic party and the opposition of a number of republicans from the interior states. He has advocated an asset currency, which is also undemocratic and he has manifested a military spirit entirely out of harmony with democratic ideas and democratic ideals. Here are four positions taken by him which are undemocratic and I may add that the republican leaders have supported him quite enthusiastically in all that was undemocratic and have opposed him quite persistently when he was

ADDRESS BY PEOPLE'S PARTY

National Committee Has Decided to Hold Convention in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 27,-After pro tracted balloting and consideration of the Park Lane Congregational churches will merits of several cities, the national comunite in a service in the Hanscom Park mittee of the people's party late tonight selected St. Louis as the place for the national nominating convention and set April 2 as the date for the gathering. Kansas City, Chicago, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Oklahoma City were discussed. Beside disposing of the convention mat ter, the committeemen behind closed doors, prepared an address to the voters of the untry, which was issued tonight, and in which the "leading figures of the older parties" are complimented for taking up populistic teachings and are welcomed as converts. The address, in part is as follows:

of trade.
Sixteen years ago, the people's party in its first national convention pointed out these defects in our financial system and their remedies. Through good and evil report we have never swerved from the edvocacy of those fundamental truths. We have believed them, and still believe them, necessary to the salavation of the country. Money and land and transportation; these constituted the original trinity of reform held aloft by the people's convention at Omaha.

Omaha.

An adequate currency issued directly by the government and not redeemable by any other kind of money: land held for actual sattlers and not subject to speculation and allen ownership.

Rallroads and telegraphs owned and operated by the government.

Railroada and telegraphs owned and operated by the government.

To these three cardinal principles were added direct legislation through the initiative and referendum, the recall and proportional representation; popular election of the president, vice president, sensions and federal judges. Postal savings banks and the parcels post; and the right of labor to organize, to demand a shorter day and to insist on a fair and just share of the products of its own toll.

These principles are justly known as populistic for the reason that in the adminstration they were first placed in a political platform and first introduced to political discussion, bye he peoples party in 192. The seed sowing of the past has not been in vain. The truth of the Omaha platform now meets the thought of the nation.

The reform work of today was made possible by the sacrifices, the devotion and the loyalty to principle of the Old Guard. The advanced positions taken by the leading figures of the older parties are the result of populistic teachings.

We heartify welcome these distinguished converts and can but wish that they had shown more persistence in following the reform road to the end, and had displayed more stability in advocating our principles in the face of party opposition.

We rejoice in the organization of the Independence league which as overthrowing bossism and trust rule in their most important strongholds. We are cheered by the temperance ways sweeping over the country, which cannot but make happier homes and cleaner politics.

The nation is how in the midst of one of those recurrent but unnecessary financial panies, which result from a faulty system of currency. The blind foily of leaving the nation's money and bence its business and industry, at the mercy of a few speculative gamblers was never so apparent as at this moment.

They, it is who have created the trouble from which we are now suffering.

They it is who are cornering the people's currency to use in stock gambling and are thus holding it from the legitimate channels of trade.
