NOTES ON OMAHA SOCIETY

Reception for Mrs. Frank Hamilton
Principal Function of Week.

COLLEGE SET MUCH IN EVIDENCE
Young People Make Things Lively with Sorority Parties and Other Informal Affairs While at Home.

The smart affair of Friday and one that stands out prominently as the largest and most elaborate social affair of the week was the reception given by Mrs. T. B. Cumming, from 4 to 6 p. m. In honor of Mrs. Frank Hamilton, who has recently returned from her wedding trip. The rooms were elaborately decorated. Quantities of pink chrysanthemums were used in the drawing room, where the guests were received by Mrs. Cumming, Mrs. Frank Hamilton, Miss Mae and Miss Stella Hamilton. Mrs. Cumming wore a handsome gown of black lace. Mrs. Frank Hamilton her exquisite wedding gown of white satin with trimmings of duchesse lace. Miss Mae Hamilton, a charming creation of white lace, and Miss Stella Hamilton, an attractive toilet of black and white. The dining room was beautifully decorated. Red was used exclusively in the table appointments. A low mound of American Beauties graced the center of the table, while the same beautiful flowers banked the mantle, combined with ferns.

In the large bay window bowls of the same bloom were in evidence. Assisting in the dining room from 4 to 5 were Mrs. J. N. H. Patrick, Mrs. C. F. Manderson and Mrs. Henry W. Yates. From 5 to 6 were Mrs. E. A. Cudahy, Mrs. G. W. Wattle and Mrs. Guy Barton. Assisting then were Mrs. John L. Kennedy, Mrs. Henry Wyman, Mrs. J. E. Summers, Mrs. F. Crofoot, and Mrs. J. C. Wills. In the punch room were Mrs. Wilson Low, Mrs. Arthur Gulou, Mrs. Frances Brogan, Mrs. W. E. Martin and Miss Flora Webster. Assisting throughout the rooms were Mrs. Swartzlander, Miss Ethel Robertson and Miss Mattie Robertson. About 150 guests were present during the receiving hours.

BUSY HUM OF THE NEWSIES

Increased Volume of Noise Makes Business Seem Better.

SCHOOL OUT FOR THREE DAYS

Freedom of Boys on Streets Swells the Army of Little Paper Venders, Who Keep Up Their Din.

Now a morning newspaper may be bought on the streets of Omaha until the evening edition is out, while the evening papers are sold clear into the frosty night, and "La-a-a-st E-d-d-shun" is heard from 6 a. m. until midnight and it is all because the school boys have three long days in which to sell papers before returning to their school room deprivations.

"What is the matter?" "Is it a free?" "Who is hurt?" and similar questions have been heard in the office since early Thanksgiving morning, when the number of newboys selling papers on the street was increased 50 per cent.

"Business is better already," said the business man, as he heard the noisy cries of the newsies. "They have started something and made the business man feel that something was being done by someone, whether my office has taken a cashier's check for a week or not."

Putting the ordinary newboy out of business had a bad effect on business, according to the merchants. The newsies who were sent to school have been greatly missed and the papers have been distributed by men or older boys who sold for an hour or two in the morning, and then went to some other work. The little fellows sell until the last paper is gone.

Raise Other Excitement.
And incidentally the newsies have added to the excitement in other ways. Two policemen are seen around the corner of Sixteenth and Farnam streets, where there was formerly only one and with the sound of voices shouting the "e-d-d-shuns," undertones of "Soak him skinky, it wasn't his pent," are frequently heard and the kids mix in the doorways, tumble about the sidewalks and have a strenuous time in general.

When a nervous citizen was about knocked into the gutter Friday by a pile of boys rolling over each other after a penny, he smelled smoke and discovered that the boys had set fire to the waste paper in one of the trash boxes, and several stood around it warming their fingers on the heated tin.

"While these kids are in school," said the Old Inhabitant, "things move along in a calm sort of way, but you don't want to be led into the belief that the newsies don't have influence. I heard a stranger say a white back that Omaha was a dead one. When he took the car here a while ago his trip lost some of its new appearance when a newboy grabbed it and yelled 'carry grip, sir,' and dropped it on the sidewalk. Then he said: 'This is the liveliest town on my beat. Even the kids are falling over themselves to make money and spend all they make subscribing to the Commercial club and various building funds.'

NO NORTH CENTRAL PARKWAY

Boulevard Project Knocked in Head by Park Board.

LAND TOO VALUABLE FOR HOMES

Prolonged Delay of Appraisers in Making Report Has Part in Bringing About This Result.

At its session Friday morning the Board of Park Commissioners put a quietus on the North Central boulevard project. This action was the result of a number of causes. Commissioner Cornish, in the resolution by which the mayor and council were requested to suspend work on the scheme, recited that the action was taken because of the long delay of the appraisers in making their report; the announcement that they would make no report until their fees as appraisers had been guaranteed; the fact that since proceedings were inaugurated a number of people had built substantial homes on the tract desired, entailing a cost of more than $40,000; that such improvement was of greater value to the immediate neighborhood than any form of boulevard, and that litigation might follow an attempt to take land without taking the buildings, which would have to be destroyed should the city take the land. The resolution was adopted by unanimous vote of the members present, President Craig, E. F. Berryman and E. J. Cornish.

The superintendent of parks reported the use of more than $500 worth of tar on the boulevard, for the purpose of making them dustless. Experiments are to be continued and a piece of roadway will be given a test with tar under the same conditions as when tar was used for the purpose of determining the relative value of the mixtures.

The mayor and council were requested to inaugurate proceedings for the acquisition of a tract of land between Twenty-seventh and Chicago streets, and the Central boulevard as a rest park. Property owners in the vicinity have pledged themselves to pay the cost of this improvement.

Payrolls were allowed and it was stated that with the payment of November bills the board had an available cash balance of but $90 to run it through December.

G. F. PORTER IS FOUND DEAD

Minneapolis Attorney and Theater Man Dies at Hotel from Heart Disease.

George F. Porter, a wealthy attorney and theater man of Minneapolis, was found dead in his room at the Paxton hotel at 10 o'clock Friday morning. Had been suffering for some time with heart trouble and there is no doubt in the minds of his friends and acquaintances this was the immediate cause of his death.

Mr. Porter was in Omaha on business. He was a large stockholder in the Burwood theater and in the Sullivan & Curdsine, circuit of theaters of which the Burwood is one of fifty-seven. He attended the play at the Burwood Thursday night and complained to Manager Rescoe Homan before going to his room of a pain in his heart.

He has a wife and child traveling in the south and may be in Cuba at this time. He was 39 years of age. His body was taken in charge by the coroner and as he carried large insurance a postmortem examination will be held. The body was taken to Minneapolis last night by Edward B. Mast, who is connected with Mr. Porter's law firm in Minneapolis and accompanied him to Omaha Thursday. It was Mr. Mast who found him dead. He had an appointment with Porter and as the latter did not come at the appointed time he went to Porter's room and found him lying in bed in his night clothes.

LOCAL MERCHANTS PROTEST
Insist on Ordinance Regulating Sale of Bankrupt Stocks by Outside Brokers.

A number of merchants of the city interested in the pending ordinance to regulate the sale of bankrupt stocks by peripatetic merchants in Omaha called upon Mayor Dahlman to talk over the most important features of the measure. The ordinance will be up for consideration before the council committee of the whole Monday, December 2. There will be a meeting of the council next Monday as that day will be devoted to tax equalization matters. The mayor expressed sympathy with the movement and there is little doubt the ordinance will be approved if passed.

HOW TO OVERCOME WEARINESS
Keeping the Temper, Hot Baths and Plenty of Sleep is the Formula.

Home-keeping cares and business of all kinds have their hard days, but perseverance and determination to not worry will make one overcome the worrying habit and will make new women of us and make life worth living. Indulging in a fit of temper not only changes the features for the time, but it makes one so unhappy. We all have some temper, but the one who has it under control is the one who wins in life. The great Sarah Bernhardt said the way to keep young was to not worry and to take plenty of hot baths and get plenty of sleep. "When I'm tired I take a hot bath," she said, "and when I'm nervous I take a hot bath and massage and sleep."

When you are low-spirited or depressed take a hot bath, rub off briskly with a coarse bath towel, dust with a good talcum powder and sleep for two hours in a darkened room. If you try this, get up and look in your mirror and you will smile with delight at the changed face which greets you. It is a woman's duty to look as well as she can and to retain her loveliness in every way as long as she has her faculties. Think over this question.
