ALIENS ARE RUSHING HOME Twelve Thousand Steerage Passengers Will Leave New York for Europe Today.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.-The extraordinary rush of aliens to Europe continues unabated and eight steamships sailing tomorrow will carry over 12,000 steerage passengers. Nearly all transatlantic liners scheduled to sail within the next two weeks have been booked up because of the flood of applications. The steamship President Lincoin, sailing next Thursday, will break all records for the number of steerage passengers carried by one ship. This steamer will take 5,600 passengers in the steerage for Mediterranean points, which is about 500 passengers more than the vessel could ordinarily accommodate.

Berths will be made up between decks and, as it is more profitable to carry steerage passengers than freight, several tous of freight will be left behind and the space used for passengers. The best previous

Archbold, rice president of the Standard Oil company, declared tonight in a speech at the annual dinner of the New York Alumni association of Syracuse university that if he had thought that there was any taint on his money he never would have offered a dollar to the Syracuse university. The principal speaker of the evening was Chancellor James R. Day, who delivered an address on "Syracuse University."

When a toast was proposed for "Chancellor Day and the Man Behind," there were also cheers for John D. Archbold. who took the occasion to make a speech. Mr. Archbold said:

"There has been a slight reference to tainted money this evening. I wish to say that if I thought there was any taint on my money I would never have offered a dollar of it to Syracuse university; my conscience would not have allowed ms. I could not have asked God's blessing on such a
