FRUIT GROWERS IN SESSION

Opening Session Brings Out a Larger Attendance Than Usual.

FINE DISPLAY OF PRODUCTS

Reports Indicate That Strawberries and Grapes Were the Most Profitable Crops During the Season Just Passed--Apples Short.

With an attendance of over forty, the largest at any preceding opening session. General George Von L. Meyer was demi-the Southwestern Iowa Horticultural so-onstrated at a meeting of that organizaclety began its thirty-second annual meetdisplay is arranged in the hall on the sec-

Successful Strawberry Growing" by D. A. Rupp of Bidney and Robert McKensle of this city. They showed that this season had been a remarkably profitable one for strawberries throughout the twenty-five counties in southwestern Iowa, and that from $100 to $200 an acre could be made by growing this kind of fruit. The speakers advocated the matted row system of planting, and said that results showed that the Senator Duniap, Beder Wood and Crescent were the best varieties to grow.

In his annual address, President F. P. spencer of Randolph spoke at length on apple growing. The spring, he said, was of such a character as to practically elimfinate all apples but a few varieties. He spoke with feeling on the death of George Allingham, manager of the Council Bluffs Grape Growers' association, and a committee consisting of the president, Rev. G. G. Rice and Robert McKenzie of this city was appointed to draft sultable resolu-

Announcement was made that J. P. Jackson, treasurer of the society, had removed from Glenwood to Big Springs, Neb., and his resignation was referred to a committee, as was his annual report. Reports on Fruit Conditions.

The following directors made reports of the condition of the fruit crop in their respective territory: D. B. McCalla, Clafinda; George A. Van Houten, Lenox; P. H. Young, Garden Grove; J. H. M. Edwards, Logan; James McGinnis, Griswold ind N. C. Wragg, Waukee. The trend of the reports was to the effect that the fruit mp in southwestern lows had been generally light, with the exception of strawberries; grapes had been the best paying crop; reaches had been very light, except seedlings; plums nearly a complete failure, and the same was true of gooseberries and currents; the crop of summer and fall apples had been light; winter apples were scarce, only about 40 per cent crop, but prices were still soaring and those fortunate enough to have a good crop of winter apples would reslike a handsome profit. During a general discussion on "Orchard-ing" it was stated that farmers did not in the present day pay as much attention to their orchards as they did in past years, with the result that the farm orhards were rapidly deteriorating and that orchards were more and more getting into the hands of commercial growers.

At the evening session, at which there was a materially increased attendance. Hon. A. T. Flickinger delivered the addecre of welcome on behalf of the city and the fruit growers of Council Bluffs and vicinity. The response was made by George Van Houten of Lenox in place of Director J. H. M. Edwards of Logan, who was unable to be present.

Fruit Display Fine. The fruit display, in the opinion of experts, is a splendld one for a bad year. Every variety of apple grown in this sec tion of lows is on display. Twelve long tables were covered yesterday with the exhibits, the fruit being arranged on plates The display of large, luscious looking apples is a most tempting one. W. M. Bomberger of Harlan, secretary of the society, has a magnificent display of seventy-two plates, representing some thirty varieties. E. A. Hess of this city has an interesting display of cold storage apples, which looked as if they had just been plucked from the tree. He also has an exhibit of grapes kept in cold storage. A number of additional displays are expected today. This is the program for today:

It is Possible to Reduce Flesh Without Dieting or Exercise

It is not only possible, but being done iverywhere. Exercise, unless carefully superintended by a physician and expert Athletic Director, may easily do a deal of harm to the great overburdened fleshy body. The untutored fat man and woman determined to get thin are only too likely to overstrain the fat encumbered muscles by their sokward, ill-advised gymmatics, and so cause nerve and muscle troubles that may develop into something worse than a little too much flesh. Same way with dicting. Starvation is certainly effective if kept up long and faithfully enough, but it is almost certain to injure the nutritive process and so wasken the patient constitutionally, while it is abominable torture, of course, especially to a good-natured, high-living, fleshy man or woman.

Furtunately beither dicting nor exercising are required or desirable if one uses the right remedy for reducing fat, and strange to say, the remedy is simple, wholesome home mixture, the ingedients of which are obtainable at any drug store for a few cents. The mixture is as follows: 14 os Marmola, 15 os. Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, 24 oss. Syrup Simplex, and the proper amount to take is one teaspoonthil after meals and at bedtime. This mixture takes the fat off rapidly, but maturally, so that no wrinkles are formed and no harm is done to the stomach, as is so frequently the case with "Patent" or "secret" advartised remedies.—Adv.

G. G. jobbers of this section of the country on Rice, following which there were talks on the proposition. The letter is as follows: jobbers of this section of the country on the proposition. The letter is as follows:

We oppose an extension of the percels post system for the reason that any proposition or effort to extend the present system cannot possibly carry with it any assurance that the limit of weight will stop at eleven pounds, as recommended in your speech at Boston. The present limit of four pounds has not interfered with our present method of distribution of merchandise, and it is probable that the raining of the weight limit to eleven pounds would not seriously interfere, but to carry the limit beyond and up to the limit adopted by other nations (Germany II) pounds. Beigium III pounds) would mean a complete revolution in our present business system. The, raising of the limit of weight to any considerable extent would mean the extermination of the ordinary retailer and jobber, and result in the concentration of business in the large business centers. The oil business and the sait business, as they are now conducted, are striking examples of what can be accomplished by centralization of power, and we don't believe that the country is prepared to put general merchandising on that basis.

The jobber and retailers of the country do not ask the protection of the government against competition; in fact, they invite it under the conditions under which inco operate, but they don't believe that it is any part of the government's dity to step in and absorb the freight charges of a large portion of them, and deprive the local merchant of whatever advantage he may be smittled to by reason of his location.

You undertake to answer that phase of the situation by stating that it is your intention to recommend the establishment of a parcels poet on rural routes, and by that we would understand that each shipment must originate and terminate on the same rural route. This plan, even with an increase to the eleven-pound limit, we believe would not seriously interfere with the present methods of business, but we also believe that it would fall very far short of your expectations in the extension of the parcels post system. So much so that you would feel the necessity of increasing the limit of weight at the first opportunity. The meeting was, as usual, held behind The meeting was, as usual, held behind losed doors. Ministerial Association Moving to Secure Submission of Amendment.

COMPLICATE ELECTION

Presidents of Colleges to Have Meeting to Discuss Questions Involved in the New State Teachers' Certificate Law.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Ia., Dec. 4. (Special.) The Des Moines Ministerial association will take the lead in starting a crusade for the resubmission of a prohibitory amendment. Public officials and persons in close touch with public affairs have been expecting that some movement of the kind Diamond jewelry is always acceptable would be started as a result of the agita-as a gift. Leftert's stock this year is unand as a further result of the disposition of saloons in many cities of the state to disregard many of the provisions of the present mulet law and to disregard especially the provisions as to hours of closing and Sunday closing.

During the last session of the legislature it was disclosed that petitions were then being circulated, asking the legislature to resubmit the matter. No action was taken then, but those interested in the prohibition side of the matter allowed it to be known that they intended to bring all sorts of influence to the next session of the legislature to get the question of a constitutional amendment on prohibition again submitted to the people.

The first prohibitory constitutional amendment was adopted at the election on June 37, 1882. The supreme court, on April 21, 1883, in the case of Kochler & Lang against Hill, held that, owing to certain irregularities, the amendment was not legally submitted to the people and did not become a part of the constitution. Under other provisions of the constitution the legislature, to regulate the liquor business, passed the mulct law, the enforcement of which is now being agitated.

If the movement to resubmit the matter becomes formidable, politicians scent trouble ahead in the fact that the next election will be complicated and may change the complexion of the legislature.

Is the joy of the household, for without it no happiness can be complete. How sweet the picture of mother and babe, angels smile at and commend the thoughts and aspirations of the mother bending over the cradle. The ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so full of danger and suffering that she looks forward to the hour when she shall feel the exquisite thrill of motherhood with indescribable dread and fear. Every woman should know that the danger, pain and horror of child-birth can be entirely avoided by the use of Mother's Friend, a scientific liniment for external use only, which toughens and renders pliable all the parts, and
