"We cannot at this time make any statement as to our future plane," said E. H. Merriam, vice president and treasurer of David Bradley & Co., whose warehouse with its stock of agricultural implements was destroyed by fire Friday night, yesterday. "J. Harley Bradley, president of the company, who was notified of the fire by telegraph Friday night, has replied that he will arrive from Chicago Sunday morning, when we will talk matters over and see what is best to be done."

Mr. Merriam and Robert F. Smith, secretary of the company, secured temporary office quarters yesterday in the Beno building at 31 Pearl street, to which place the books, papers and records saved Friday night were removed during the day and gotten in shape for use. At the time of the fire the company had twenty or more carloads of stock ordered and of these six had already been shipped. The orders were countermanded by telegraph Friday night, but the stock in the cars already in transit will have to be taken care of and if possible the company will occupy the the shooting as purely accidental. The Nebraska Telephone company had one 200-pair, one 100-pair and one 25-pair cable along South Main street. These were crossed with the feed wire of the street railway company and were burned in two. The linemen feared to work near the toppling walls yesterday morning and assisted the firemen in pulling down the higher portions at the south and north corners on Main spreet. This was accomplished by means of a large wire cable and pulleys. The work of razing the remnants of the walls was watched by a large crowd.

IOWA EDITOR DEAD IN TEXAS

Man Found Dead at Austin Identified as A. H. Christie. ONAWA, In., Dec. 8 .- (Special.) -A. H. Christie, a well known newspaper man of suddenly in the capitol building at Austin, Tex., October 12 last. The body could not be identified at the time as there were no papers of any character on his person. His coat bore the trademark of the Dow Clothing company of Sloux City and the spectacle case was marked with the name of R. Austin, an Onawa Jeweler. These were the only clues. Mrs. W. A. Greene of Onawa is the mother-in-law of Mr. Christie and says that Mr. Christie's son, who had the body exhumed, has fully identified the same as that of his father. Mr. Christle had been publishing a paper at Geary, Okl., since last June and was thought to be doing a fair business. He left Geary without informing his family who are much grieved and shocked to discover that he has been dead for some time. He was an eccentric individual and had considerable of a reputation in northwestern Iowa as a newspaper man.

Five Accidents Near Atlantic. ATLANTIC, In., Dec. 8 .- (Special.)-Five serious accidents to as many different people in this immediate neighborhood occurred yesterday. Henry Scott, a colored workman on the coal chutes here, was shot in the leg with a 22-caliber gun in the hands of Ben Hoskins, another negro, who was celebrating with him the advent of pay day. All parties concerned report Jessen of near Elk Horn got his hand caught in a corn shredder and one finger was so badly lacerated that amputation may be necessary. Charles Kilpatrick. living near Grant, is lying in a serious condition and may not recover from the effects of scalding himself while helping to butcher. He was carrying a pail of scalding water, when he slipped and fell, throwing the water all over his body. C. W. Allerd, who is visiting his brother here, submitted to an operation at the Atlantic hospital yesterday for the amputation of his arm at the shoulder, because of an injury, and Thomas Gravely, a resident of this place, sustained the fracture of four ribs and was badly scalded by a threshing machine going through a bridge with him.

This institute also selects the directors of the state fair or Department of Agriculture, and this board elects the officers to have charge of the fairs. The forty-second annual meeting of the State Horticultural society is to be held at the same time and the seventh annual meeting of the State Park and Forestry association. In conjunction with these meetings there will be held an exhibit of fruit and corn with a prize competition. During the week the Corn Belt Meat Producers' association will also hold a session here and transact important business. This association includes practically all the large breeders and shippers of live stock in Iowa and some in adjoining states. It was this association which backed up strongly the demand for the passage of the rate bill. It is anticipated that the association will take the lead in favor of new legislation by congress in relation to matters affecting the meat profucing business. The State Railroad commission has announced a change in the rule regarding the minimum charge for a joint freight rate in lowa. Some time ago when the joint rates were ordered for Iowa the commission announced that it was the intention to have the state joint rate like the interstate joint rate. It was then stated that the interstate rate would have the minimum raised from 25 cents to 40 cents. This has not been done and now the minimum on the state rate is fixed at 25 cents. This will be of great importance to shippers of small parcels in Iowa. The change takes effect January 1 next.

It is stated that the final report of the state crop bureau on the Iowa corn crop will show about a two-thirds crop for the season, as compared with last year. The 1906 corn crop of Iowa was over 288,000,000 bushels. The oats crop was also reduced in about the same proportion, but other small grain in Iowa, according to final reports from the threshers, was about the same as the previous year.

Adjutant General Thrift expects to receive tomorrow the formal charges against Major Parker, growing out of his accusations made in a public interview, attacking the whole military department of the state. He has been informed that the charges were sent from Sloux City. On Monday the court-martial board will meat here and take up the case of Captain Kulu of Davenport, who is charged with disobeying orders and refused to stop a prize fight in Davenport. It is expected this will not take long. The charges against Colonel Chantland will also be laid before the same board. The secretary of the State Board of Health has written to the town authorities at Paullina, in O'Brien county, demanding that they adopt the state regulations as to quarantine. The Paullina board decided that it did not have to follow the rules of the state board and as a consequence the town has had a scarlet fever and a smallpox epidemic, and citizens are complaining.

The State Board of Control has received information that the fine fall and winter weather has been unusually favorable to arranged to hold a poultry exhibit here at Armory hall next week.
