THE OMAHA DAILY BEE: FRIDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1907.

Mischnick and her mother disappeared one day after securing about $11,000 from Mr.

Hastings outran Broken Bow for the next annual convention of the State Assoclation of County Commissioners at the final seasion of the cenvention in South Omaha Thursday morning. They were the only contestants for the honor. These ficers were elected: J. H. Weldon of We River, Hall county, was elected presiden C. E. Hill of Hastings, Hamilton county was chosen scontary, and P. J. Traino of Douglas county was re-elected treasures for his third term. The next meeting will be held next year, beginning on the first Tuesday of December.

It has been planned to furnish the conention with automobiles to pay a visit to the Douglas county roads. But the convention had depended largely on the South Omaha "Commercial club" to furnish the conveyances. The county commissionors socured three vehicles, but the club appeared before the convention in the form of Dr. W. J. McCrann, who apologized for the "club" and the city, saying he discovcred too late that, all the machines for cred too late that all the matter parties county; C. E. Hill, Hastings, C. Other theories of kidnaping, wolves devouring the child and all are being considered. Searchers are increasing in numbers, but not the slightest trace have been een had in the Barker case. They are here from Lincoln after a thorough trial discovered. The bloodhounds brought would not take up any scent or trail. There are numerous ponds and sloughs near the Olson home and all these are surrounded by tall grass. Not far away is the Logan, whose waters may have swallowed up the body of the little girl. BANCROFT, Neb., Dec. 12.-(Special Telegram.)-Interest in the search for Lillis Olson has reached Bancroft. It is thought that by Sunday a thousand people will have taken up the quest unless she is found. The young man, Joseph Brown, who got into an altercation with Olaf Olsen, the father of the lost child, was brought here today and lodged in jall. Brown seems to think Olsen murdered his child, as Olsen tells so many conflicting stories as to what took place Sunday evening, when little Lillie disappeared. The latest reports are that threats are made of lynching Olsen, who is believed to be innocent. Excitement is at a high pitch and precautionary measures are being taken for Olsen's safety. So far there is not the slightest evidence of what became of the little child.

Brown will be held here until further developments, although there is but little credence placed in the murder theory, Sober minded people are laboring, believing every hour they will find some clue or evidence of what became of Lillie Oisen.
