YOUNKERMAN NOT SATISFIED

Seeks to Have Some Rates Changed in Fleming's Water Ordinance.

MEMBER FROM FIRST IS SORE

Thinks Fleming Has Stolen His Thunder in the Matter of Eliminating the Minimum Rate-Other Matters Before Council.

The city council is scheduled to meet this afternoon in adjourned regular session. Besides passing on the assessment of recently completed sewers, curbing and other work, there are several matters of importance likely to come up. When the recommendation of the mittee of the whole that Councilman Fleming's new water rates ordinance be adopted omes before the meeting Councilman Younkerman, so he announced yesterday, will endeavor to change some of the rates to conform more nearly to his ordinance, which was laid on the table. Councilman Younkerman, it is said, feels that Councilman Fleming has taken a feather out of his cap by his ordinance eliminating the minimum meter rate. "I consider myself the father of the fight against a minimum rate," declared the councilman from the First ward yesterday.

The question of a municipal abattoir or public slaughter house, which is being advocated by City Solicitor Kimball, is also slated, it is said, to come up at the meeting today. Under the plan proposed by Mr. Kimball every animal slaughtered within the city limits must be slaughtered in the public abattoir and must undergo inspection before and after slaughtering in order that there shall be no possibility of the sale of diseased meat. In Mr. Kimball's opinion the cost of the erection of a slaughter house suitable for the needs of this city should not exceed $2,000 to $8,000, and possibly less.

All White Ribboners and their friends are requested to leave their donations for the Benedict Home, owned by the Woman's Christian Temperance union at the rummage sale room, next door to Hunter's store, or phone Beil 835 on or before December 16, that they may be shipped as a Christmas contribution. This home was incorporated in the year 1822 and has been operated continuously to the present time by the Woman's Christian Temperance union as a charitable institution. Many testimonial letters have been freely furnished by prominent clizens of Iowa, who are familiar with the work of the Benedict home. Our own state senator, C. S. Saunders, has this to say: "I have been familiar with the work of your splendid home for a number of years, and I am pleased to see that an effort is now being made to place it upon a firm foundation. You are doing a wonderful work for humanity and only One can or does know what the results will be. The management has been of the very beet and I am convinced that your institution has had one hundred cents of benefit for every doilar expended. The General Assembly was more than gratified with the work you are doing. I wish you godspeed in your work and I trust that you may have abundant success." Dear friends let us generously respond at this time of glad Christmas giving.

ROAST FOR CHICAGO YARDS Corn Belt Ment Producers Think

Shippers Have Been Gonged.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Ia., Dec. 13.-(Special.)-The Corn Belt Meat Producers' association today devoted its time to scoring the live stock commission men of Chicago and in resolutions pledged the support, financial and otherwise, of the members of the association to the Farmers' Co-operative Commission company. The abuses of the stock yards methods and practices consumed the entire forencon with the exception of the reading of the financial report, which disclosed that the association was in good financial condition.

President Sykes is urging upon the association that it print in pamphlet form some articles that have appeared in one of the Iowa farm journals disclosing the conditions in the Chicago stock yards. This he would have circulated to every cattle feeder in the corn belt. The consensus of opinion of the members is that there are private snaps in the Chicago methods of handling live stock and that someone is getting rich off the farmers. One of these abuses relates to handling stuff suspected of being diseased, but later discovered to be good. It is claimed that the cattleman seldom gets any return from such stuff, though it sells for about the same price as any other

At the state agricultural convention today at the state house, after making his annual report, Treasurer Ellyson announced that he would not be a candidate for re-election. It is understood that ex-State Treasurer Gilbertson will be elected. Secretary Simpson made his annual statement showing that there was $35,827.90 in cash in the treasury on November 20, 1907. The improvements for the year in the state fair grounds amounted to $116.458.05; the promiums to $35,504.79 and the other expenses of the 1907 state fair to $48,667.20.
