The club presidents discussed changes in playing and rules and amendments to the eague constitution. Max Fleischmann of Cincinnati brought up the question of placing pitchers' boxes on a level with the diamond. There was a general discussion, but no action was taken. A proposal that the number of pitched balls to a batter be reduced from four to three was advanced. There were advocates for and against the change and the question was left to be decided later. The president recommended to the national commission that players drafted from minor leagues be treated as purchased players. Should the national commission adopt the recommendation, which is in the nature of a reform and is designed to do away with the practice of "covering by draft," waivers will have to be sought from clubs of both the National and American leagues before drafted players can be returned or disposed of. Joseph Kelley, manager of the Toronto team last year, signed a contract today to manage the Boston National league club for two years.

Ormande Races in March.

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—The contest committee of the Automobile club of America has announced that the races at Ormande, Fla., will be held during the first week in March. The big event will be a 250-mile race, in which nothing but racing cars will enter. In order to prevent the use of racing machines built for great speed at short distances the committee announces that cars competing in the short races must enter in either the 250-mile race or one of the two 150-mile races, which will be held, and must maintain a speed in that race of at least fifty miles an hour.
