Cross-Currents in Finance and Industry Prevent Generalisation.

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.-Bradstreet's tonorrow will say:

morrow will say: Cross currents in finance and industry prevent generalization, but financial condi-tions generally have shown further easing while the approach of the holiday period and more seasonable weather has helped curtail distribution which in some sec-tions also feels the stimulus of price con-cessions. On the other hand wholesale and jobbing trade has rather guieted and manufacturing industry has slackened and jobbing trade has rather quieted and manufacturing industry has slackened slightly. In no branch of trade distribution or industry are operations so brisk as at this date in recent years. Collections gen-erally are very slow and failures tend to incerasing in number. In financial affairs the country is making reading approaches to the normal Western in mancial anarys the country is making gradual approaches to the normal. Western banks are showing an increasing disposi-tion to pay out currency, some inquiry for mercantile paper is noted on the part of interior banks at leading western centers and some money has begun to return to Chicago. Savings bank withdrawals are sinal where the embargo on withdrawing and some money has begun to return to Chicago. Savings bank withdrawals are small where the embargo on withdrawing has been lifted. The premium on currency still persists at many cities, however, and this is variously assigned to window dress-ing by state banks awaiting calls as to condition and to the need always felt at holiday season for small bills. There is less talk of cancellations, though there are evidences of these in many lines. To offset the possibility of large stocks ac-cumulating, buyers are keeping their activ-lities restricted and this tendency is also re-inforced by a fair volume of resales by jobbers who find surplus supplies at hand. Among the industries a feature is the continuance of better feeling in iron and steel, sccompanied by some inquiry for near future wants. Production is, however, being restricted, an example being fur-nished by the reports that pig iron produc-tion in the Pittsburg district is but 40 to 50 per cent of normal, while finishing mills are running to 60 to 70 per cent of their ca-pacity. Building has shown a heavy falling off
