AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Contract is Signed for Construction of Q Street Viaduct.

STREET RAILWAY PLANS SECRET

Give No Indication What They Propose to De Except They Will Not Pay the Tax Prescribed in the Ordinance.

The officials of the Union Stock Yards company and the Union Pacific railroad signed the contract yesterday for the erection of the new viaduct at Twenty-sixth and Q streets, South Omaha. This was the word which was given out from official sources. The ordinance providing for the erection of the viaduct was passed with the promise by the corporations to push the work of construction with all possible speed. It is expected that the steel will be on the ground early in the spring. The contract calls for the completion of the work by August 1. The cost will be slightly more than $100,000. It will require the labor of 400 skilled ironworkers to finish up the contract on time.

What the attitude of the street railway company will be is a matter of considerable speculation. Should they conclude to have the Hanscom park line extended from would have to go as far west as Thirtysixth street before they could get across beyond the private property of the Union Stock yards. This would make their connections with the best paying district rather awkward. It was asserted yesterday by parties who professed to know that the engineers of the company had been surveying a route from Thirty-second street, on the boulevard, to L; but it is not known whether this is a move in earnest or not. The only thing known is that they will not pay the tax prescribed in the ordinance.

Saleamen Off for Holidays. The road men of the various packing plants have been called in during the holiday season. About fifty-five were thus brought in from the territory covered by Swift and Company. A proportionate number were called in by Armour & Co. The movement is in accord with the usual custom of the plants. The holiday season is unprofitable from the standpoint of a salesman. These men will not be sent out until after the first of the year. Swift and Company gave their salesmen a banquet last evening at the Rome hotel. This is an annual affair and one that is much enjoyed by the guests. Armour's salesmen have been given leave to visit their homes until their services are again needed.

masquerade given last night at the Auditorium roller rink and enjoyed one of the merriest scenes ever witnessed at the Auditorium. There were about 400 skaters on the floor, every one wearing either a mask or a fancy costume, some of the costumes being strikingly and artistically beautiful. The comic side of the event was also well represented, several of the make-ups approaching perfection in the line of funmakers. The 'Happy Hooligan" and "Weary Willies," the clowns, "hayseeds" and "coons" kept the large crowd in a continuous roar of laughter. Cash prizes were awarded for the most beautiful costumes, both in singles and couples and for the best comic costume. Following are those who captured the prizes, although there were many others almost as good in their class: Miss Hosman as a gypsy maiden, first prize for beautiful costume; Gladys Case, as a Mexican girl, second; Anna Cain, in a dashing Spanish costume, third. The men competing for beauty of costume were awarded prizes as follows: Frank Brown, first; E. Berriman, second, and

Charles Baumley, third. In the comic class James Davis, as Happy Hooligan," took first; Henry Blomberg, as the "rube," got second, although many in the crowd would have given him first for the amount of fun he made, while Julius Neuman, representing an old colored "mammy," took third prize. The judges were Mr. and Mrs. Greenleaf and Joseph Munchoff.

The anthem contains two short but pleasing solos, which will be taken by Miss Barr and Mr. Haverstock. In the afternoon at 4 o'clock the chois will give its monthly musical service. The short cantata, "The Holy Child," by Thomas Adams, will be sung, with Mr. Haverstock as the bass soloist. The recitatives for soprano and tenor will be sung by Miss Barr and Mr. Rigdon, and a short male quartet will be sung by Messrs. J. Gerke, Lewis, Rigdon and Haverstock. In addition to the cantata Miss Barr will sing à beautiful old Christmas cradle song by an old seventeenth century English composer. Miss Riggs and Miss Hazel Smith, two younger members of the choir, will sing a duet, "Bethlehem," by Bartlett. Miss Baker will sing the solo in one of the Christmas carols and the full choir will sing at the conclusion of the service Dudley Buck's arrangement of Gounod's "Nazareth." the solo parts in which will be sung by Mrs. J. Helgren and Mr. Haverstock. The whole will be under the direction of Mr. J. H. Simms.

> At the Second Presbyterian church the evening service will be a special New Year service. The music, under the direction of George J. Bird. will be appropriate. Miss Kennedy will sing "My Ain Countrie" and the gospel song service will be led by cornet, organ and piano. It is by special request that the pastor preaches on the topic chosen for the morning service, the sermon being a rearrangement of a Wednesday evening prayer meeting address.

> The music at the Westminster church, Georgia avenue and Mason streets, will be a repetition of the Christmas music by request in the morning: MORNING.

last night, or last week, or last month. Tremulousness of the tongue when it is protruded is a positive sign of various nervous diseases. But by far the commonest cause of this tremulousness is an excessive indulgence in alcohol. There is an old rule about looking into a man's eye to fell if he be a habitual busher. It often fails. Drink, in some men, excites the lachrymal glands, causing the eye to appear watery. But all of us know men who have watery eyes, yet never touch liquor, But the best and final test is the tongue. It is the only sign that cannot be concealed. If a man seeking employment swears on a stack of Bibles that he does not drink, make him stick out his tongue. If it trembles-he is a liar.-New York Press.

MISS ROOSEVELT IN SOCIETY President's Daughter Attends Hor First "Grown-Up" Dance in New York.

Miss Ethel Roosevelt while in New York for a few days attended her first dance last Saturday evening, that is, the first in New York, and the nearest approach to a grown-up dance that society has for its juniors. It was the first meeting of the Metropolitan class, so called because of the fact that it formerly met in the annex of the Metropolitan club, but for the last few years it has been holding its meetings in Sherry's. The class is for girls not yet out. Those interested in the class are Mrs. C. B. Alexander, Mrs. Robert Bacon, Mrs. Henry Whitney Monroe, Mrs. Thomas Newbold, Mrs. Bayard Tuckerman, and Mrs. F. Edgerton Webb. Mrs. Alexander, Mrs. Bacon, and Mrs. Webb received the young guests at the entrance to the small ball room. Dancing began at 5 o'clock and soon afterward the cotillion was enjoyed. This was led by Stephen Van Rensselaer, who had Miss Janetta Alexander for his partner. The favors included scarfs, flowers, wands, fans, orders, quill pens and other articles. Being Saturday night the dance was an early one, and was followed by a bifffet supper, which was over by midnight, When you have anything to sell advertise it in The Bee Want Ad Columns.

Here is an excellent prescription for any one suffering from any sort of stomgch or bowel trouble. Get from the drug store one-quarter ounce of fluid extract of boneset, one-half ounce of fluid extract of wild yam, one ounce of concentrated Lecto compound, (distributed by Young Drug Co., ounces of compound syrup of rhubarb, Mix and slinke well. One teaspoonful in a cavity with an antiseptic solution in tepid prescription with marvelous results in cases of indigestion, gastritis, catarrh of the stomach and bowels, dyspepsia, colic. bowels, diarrhoea, peritonitis, etc.

These ingredients can be secured separately and mixed at home, or can be put up at small expense by almost any first-class druggist. This formula will do wonders in a short time.
