Tomorrow's The Day

The Mid-Winter Term of Boyles College Open's Then.

If you commence to attend our college tomorrow, in six months from now you'll be a thorough-going, expert Stenographer, Bookkeeper or Telegrapher. (Those are the branches we teach.)

Do not wait until next fall to commence your preparation for a suc cessful business career. Start now! The Boyles Building—which experts declare is the ideal business college building of the United States— is so pleasant that studying here is not WORK. The attractive surroundings of the school, together with its fine gymnasium for young men and young lady students, makes this the ideal school. The fascination of learning how to write just as fast as the fast speaker can talk-to learn how to press a little key that a message will be transferred thousands of miles away-of learning how to become an expert accountant, will take hold of you with an enthusiasm for your work that will make your study hours pleasant and exceedingly profitable.

Students will be admitted into our school for this term throughout the entire week.

Pay us a visit at your earliest opportunity. Don't fail under any conditions to request the catalogue.
