He Was Only a Postmester Not a Dray Line-Postmasters receive some queer communications from time to time, but one of the queerest of the queer was received at the Chappell postoffice recently. The writer informed the postmaster that he had sent a package by freight to Chappell and asked | Neola. that as soon as it arrived that the postmaster would get it and take it to'a relative living north of Oshkosh. In as much as the distance is some forty miles and the weather is rather disagreeable the postmaster has not seen fit to comply with the request.-Chappell Register.

Tell Us About It-When for that early train you sprint We'd like to drop a gentle hint That it would look firstrate in print;

Mr. Hendrix stated at the meeting last night that according to the plans drawn the estimated cost of new plant was $685,058.42. To this, he explained. $39,000 must be added for financing the proposition, making a total cost of $715,668 42. To reduce this the city enequipments, about $9,000. Most of ginser had cut out certain extensions demanded by several of the councilmen and extimated to cost $50,071.41, bringing the cost of the plant down to $664.987.01. With these extensions cut out the city will secure in such a proposed plant but little more than it has at present. The plans do not include any service for the hill districts, such as Morningside, etc. with ten members. Meetings were held and the only extra service will be that in the old wooden armory for a year, when from larger mains in certain business seca neat frame chapel was completed. The office is the best paying one in the county and commands a compensation of $2.000 a year. It is proposed to test the fealty of the candidates by having them agree that in case they receive the nomination and elected the successful aspirant will agree to turn back into the county treasury each year $500 of his salary, thus reducing the salary to $1.200 and placing it on a par, it is claimed, with the other county offices, and giving the sheriff compensation commensurate with the dutes he performs.
