BROWN NOT SEEKING HONOR

WRITES A LETTER TO W. B. ROSE

Democrats Taking Stock of the Banquet and Discover They Made Some Mistakes_Slight of Berge Likely to Be Costly.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Jan. 18.-(Special.)-Senator Norris Brown, in a letter to W. B. Rose, written January II, has the following to say about his position concerning the press reports relating to his being a delegate to the national convention:

to the national convention:

I am very much interested in the Taft movement, but am not to be considered as an aspirant for the position of delegate to the national convention. Of course, if the honor were tendered me i would be pleased to accept. I make no claim that such honor is due me and any action the republicans of Nebraska may take in the selection of delegates to the national convention will meet with my approval. I am for Taft for the following reasons:

1. He is a big. brainy, courageous man and a friend of the people.

2. He is the only avowed candidate pledged in the open to carry out the program of the Roosevelt administration.

3. The enemies of the administration are at work to defeat him. At present they are fighting no one else.

4. We must be with the president and his friends in the fight they are making or else be counted against them so far as results are concerned.

Democrats Taking Stock. Democrats who control the party i Nebraska in the interest of Colonel Bryan have been casting up among themselves today to see whether the dollar banquet of last night was really a success. That day. The idea of the organization of the Bryan Volunteers originated with Mr. Bryan himself, so one of the speakers said. > Another thing the democrats will have to explain to their brethren is the exclusion of the democrats of fifteen or twenty counties from participating in a primary to select delegates to the convention. The committee provided that upon the application of fifty voters the county chairman should order a primary election held to select delegates. In a number of the smaller counties the contests over the selection of delegates to conventions is just as warm as in larger counties, but they were denied a chance to vote for whom they pleased by the committee which heralded its primary order as a piece of most virtuous work. "t you have anything to trade advertise In some of the below named counties it will be impossible to hold a primary, while in others it will take the unanimous vote of the democrats to secure a primary because of the small vote cast and of the large number of signers it takes to get the county chairman to act. In 1904 the vote for Parker in these countles was as follows: Loup, 23; McPherson 12: Perkins, 57; Rock, 138; Scott's Bluff, 103; Sheridan, 173; Sherman, 140; Sioux, Thomas, 39; Wheeler, 56; Banner, 18; Blaine, 34; Dundy, 92; Garfield, 84; Grant, 49; Hayes, 109; Hooker, 22; Keith 84; Keya Paha, 97; Kimbail, 14; Logan, The matter is of importance to show how the democrats talk contrasted with how they perform. In discussing the banquet, one democrat said it was not as enjoyable as the ban-quet given when Bryan returned from abroad. In his estimation the speeches were entirely too long, with the exception of two, that of Bryan himself and that of Henry Warrum of Indiana, who was "just a volunteer."
