OMAHA, Jan. 17, 1908.

The unexpected advance at the close year-perday and the development of export trade-has traders guessing. Late cables cause selling against the market, but the buil fac-tion gave some good support and all grain clon gave some good support and all grain closes strong.

Wheat was a fittle soft on selling at the opposing in response to weak cables and a heavy Argentine shipment Later offering grew lighter and the strength in corn scared the shorts and sterted them covering. May wheat opened at SPac and closed at $1.00%.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Wheat prices on the exchange advanced more than le today, owing to confirmation of recent reports resarding damage by the Hessian fly to the winter sown grop in the southwest. At the close the May delivery showed a net gain of Wills. Corn was up 146ke. Oats were 146ke higher, Provisions were a shade to 1978ke lower.

The wheat market opened weak on selling by pit treders, which was brought out by local cables and by continued liberal receipts in the northwest. Before the end of the first half hour, however, the market began to show signs of recovery and steadily sained in strength the remainder of the day. The change in sentiment was due primarily to an advance in corn, but the buillishness manifested late in the sension was chiefly the result of a statement insued by a Et Louis trade journal confirming the previous reports of damage the builtinasse manifested late in the seasion was chiefly the result of a statement issued by a Et Louis trade journal confirming this previous reports of damage by Hessias the growth of wheat in parts of Raissas. Claims of small reserves in farmers' hands in North Dakota inspired additional demand. Shorts were active buyers the last half of the day.

The early break in wheat caused some weakness in corn during the first few minutes of trading, but the market soon valled and held strength the remainder of the day. An unusually active demand from southern and northwestern dealers for cash corn was largely responsible for the upturn. A number of the buil leaders

The wave of cold weather that spread over the central valleys Wednesday night is now affecting the southern and eastern states. Freezing weather prevails in the gulf states and it is much colder along the Atlantic coast. Temperatures have moderated rapidly in the central portion and the weather is much warmer this morning in the lake region, throughout the upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys and west to the Pacific coast. NEW YORK STOCKS AND BONDS

Features of Trading and Prices on Sharp Reaction of Thursday is Extended in Early Session.

BEARS MAKE RUSH FOR COVER

Heavy Buying, Accompanied Rumors of Important Financial Deals, Cause Rally and Final Prices Are the Highest.

NEW YORK, Jan. II.—Substantial progress was made today in the digestion of speculative profit-taking which has been accumulating on the stock market for several days past. The sharp reaction which developed yesterday was quite widely extended during the early trading loday and afforded such rehef from the pressure bearing on the market that the way was opened for a material recover. The bears were active sellers on the decline and their active demand to cover helped the rebound. So did the circuistion of rumors of important changes in financial institutions, especially an alleged passing of control of the Equitable Life Assurance society to J. P. Morgan. This rumor, coupled with the aggressive advance in Northern-Pacific, was the effective factor in turning the market and driving inserts to rout. Northern Pacific showed resistance to the same aboving in yesterday's decime. The persistence of this strength gave it impressiveness and served to convince the skeptical that some good news was forthcoming regarding the slock, the result being the revival of assertions of an intended extra disbursement on the stock such as were current prior to the declaration of regular dividend.

Money markets gave striking evidence of the continued growth of hanking reserves, both here and abroad, the declining tendency of foreign discounts and the appearance of continued growth of hanking evidence of the continued growth of hanking reserves, both here and abroad, the declining tendency of foreign discounts and the appearance of continuents; is not an absolute the summarket declaration of regular divigend.

Foreign Financial.

LONDON, Jan 17.—Money was pientiful on the market today and discounts were easier on free purchases of bills by the continent. Trading on the Stock exchange developed a weak undertone, and realizations by recent speculative buyers affected glit-edged securities and home rails adversely. The news regarding the Japanese budget from Tokin weakened Japanese bonds, poor traffle seturns depressed Grand Trunk, while the reduction in the dividend of Amaignmated Copper and the decline in the price of the metal were responsible for the depression in copper shares. American securities opened fairly steady, but irregularity developed soon and this was followed by a downward tendency which brought values, generally below parity. Canadian Pacific was the weak leature, but Southern Pacific and Union Pacific were comparatively aleady. Later the Wall street opening became irregular, then New York sold and the market closed dull, but easy.

HOGS-Receipts of hogs were large for a Friday and in addition to the fresh arrivals there were about twenty loads carried over from yesterday. The hogs that were carried over were some that came in very late yesterday and after the market had precically closed.

The market this morning started out about 5c lower, but had hardly more than got started when it was fighte lower, and it was on that basis that the bulk of the early receipts changed hands. This means that the better kinds of hogs sold very largely at $4.000.15 as against $4.5004.50 yesterday. Frices did not improve any, and as the morning advanced and after the more desirable loads had changed hands, buyees began talking as much as 10c lower on what was left.

heavy for a Friday, IIS cars being reported in. As receipts have been liberal all the week, with the result that packers had taken on large numbers, it was not surprising that the trade this morning was very slow and late in opening. In fact, possing of any consequence was done until week, with the result that packers had taken on large numbers, it was not surprising that the trade this morning was very slow and late in opening. In fact, nothing of any consequence was done until well along toward midday. It was very apparent, however, right from the start that buyers were determined to secure the cattle at less money than they paid yesterday or leave them alone. As a rule buyers started out bidding logisc lower on killing cattle of all kinds.

In spite of all that sellers could do they were forced to cut loose at the decline and both beef steers and cow stuff sold logisc lower than yesterday. The trade, however, was very slow and it was later than usual before a clearance was effected. As usual on a Friday there was very little demand for feeders, but fortunately there were not many on sale. Still the market on the few here was slow and easier.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE

Progress is Slow, but Each Week Brings Improvement.

CONFIDENCE IS RETURNING

for Commercial Paper and Increasing Promptness in Collections.

NEW YORK, Jan 17 .- R. G. Dun & Co's Weekly Review of Trade will say tomorrow Progress is slow, but each week brings a little improvement, and confidence in the future grows more rapidly than current transactions. The best feature is the broader market for commercial paper-Loans in mercantile channels are now negotiated freely at little more than the normal rate, facilitating postponed under takings and making collections more prompt. Buyers are coming into the leading markets in large numbers, which should soon increase transactions unless prices cannot be adjusted. Manufacturers increase productions gradually, conservation being general, and many industries are not operating more than 50 per cent of their full capacity. Readjustment of wages is still contemplated by many producers before machinery will be started. Progress is slow, but each week brings a
