BROWN AND SHELDON DELEGATES

Supreme Court Says Logan Lambert Must Serve Time for Assault on Rev. Father Schell, Committed at Dakota City.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Jan. M .- (Special.)-Judge J. Strode, former member of congress, mber of the Grand Army of the Republic and one of the leaders of the organization of the Roosevelt club of this city, has transferred his allegience to Secretary Taft and will contribute his share of work in the future to secure a delegation from Nebraska which will be for the nomination of the secretary. He said:

Since President Roosevelt has definitely settled the matter of his nomination, and ne will not be a candidate, I think the republican party of Nebraska should unite behind the candidacy of Secretary Taft. He represents more than any other candidate the progressive policies of the rank and file of the republican party. In selecting this Taft delegation the party should be careful to select the men who are leaders in the policies of the president. Personally. I believe the party could do no better than to select Governor Sheldon and Senator Norris Brown as two of the delegates-at-large, because of the positions they occupy as well as because of their fitess to represent the party. Both are known over the country, and both have the confidence of the republicans of the state. Both fought and won in the late lection, overcoming many obstacles. The epublicans of the state should remember that bigger things are at stake now than merely the fact that some man is to be onored. They should look at this matter in the broad sense of what is best for the state. There are plenty of men in optional after five years, drawing 5 per cents interest. Plans and specifications have been prepared for the new building and the Board of Education is anxious to rush the work while this splendid weather prevails.

The fact that Senator Burkett requested that his name be not used as a candidate for a place on the delegation should not influence republicans to prevent the governor and Senator Brown going on the delegation."

Lambert Must Serve Time.

Logan Lambert, an ex-saloon keeper and cotlegger among the Indians of Thurston ounty, must serve a sentence of one year n the penitentiary for assault on Father Joseph Schell, a Catholic priest. Father Schell had been active in trying to prevent the unlawful sale of intoxicating liqnors among the Indians on the Winnebago Lambert had served a short term in the federal penitentiary at Sloux Falls for introducing liquors on the reservation. On April 13, 1906, when the priest went to Dakota City to attend a trial wherein Ed Luikhart was being prosecuted for having assaulted an Indian, he met Lambert in front of the livery barn. Lambert invited the priest into a staff to see him privately. While the priest was looking down thinking what he should say in answer to a ried out. The dairying business has grown to such an extent that it can no longer by handled by the large central creameries, and at the stimulus of the recent enactment equalizing the freight rates on the long and short haul, strong local creamery companies have been organized over the state, the Edmunds Creamery company of this city being one of the strongest.

When he face and became unconscious. When he regained consciousness he found that his face was bieeding copiously and his jaw was broken in three places. He was taken to a hospital in Sioux City, where he was treated for several weeks. At the time of the trial he had not recovered from his injury, his face being paralyzed on one his injury, his face being paralyzed on one side from his jaw to his chin. Lambert was convicted of the crime of assault with was convicted of the crime of assault with appealed the case, contending that the vertodict was not sustained by the evidence and lavoked the rule that the words "great bodily injury" implied an injury of a graver and more serious character than an ordinary battery. He also contended he struck the priest in self-defense, fearing that he was affout to be assaulted.

The supreme court holds that the evidence clearly shows a disposition on the part of Lambert to inflict on his victim more than an ordinary battery and that evidently the jury took the view that the assault was made for the purpose of chastising the priest for real or imaginary grievances which Lambert and his friends had against him, with the intention of inflicting upon him great bodily injury. The court says "the victim of the unlawful assault is a nonresident; a minister of the gospel whose mission was to teach the doctrine 'peace on earth, good will to men; and whose only fault seemed to have been his zeal in trying to prevent the defendant and others from debauching the Indians whose temporal and spiritual welfare had been committed to his charge."

The court sustains the instruction of the trial court that if the jury should find that the defendant assaulted the prosecuting witness at a time that he had no reasmable apprehension of immediate impending injury to himself, and to accomplish some unlawful purpose, or from a spirit of retaliation or revenge, the jury should find that the defendant could not avail himself of the law of self-defense. Lambert, who had been at liberty on ball, was today taken into custody by the sheriff of Dakota county.
