FINE FOR REBATERS

evidence did not show from what source money from his compensation,

Thomas obtained his money to make these so-called refunds, but in truth and in fact they were rebates. It is possible and barely probable that he obtained the representing very large clientage, but while the evidence is not clear nor satisfactory in all details, a jury could well tind, and was justified in finding, it was a fact that the money was obtained from the railway companies who were favored with his routing and shipments. I have no doubt but such is the truth, and if such is the truth the defendant Thomas was a mere agency, or in common parlance a 'catspaw' for the railway companies."

Case Has Served Its Purpose, Judge McPherson concluded:

Some days since it was announced that the defendants did not care to prolong the contest, but would change their pleas from not guilty to pleas of guilty. This court believes that it is its duty by reason of the foregoing facts to show them consideration and eliminate the imprison feature, imposing, however, substantia have been stopped and in the belief that the practice of rebating generally over the country has been brought to an end by the vigorous action of the government through the office of the United States attorney of this district as well as other districts, there is no occasion for the order of imprisonment. imprisonment

The fine imposed upon Thomas today was $1,000 heavier than that imposed two years ago, while the fine assessed against Taggart was the same amount as previously. Judge McPherson took occasion to say that he believed the firms that accepted the relates were as guilty as the defendants and the railroads, and that he had never been able to understand why they had not been indicted by the grand jury. He would have liked, he said, to have had the members of these firms before him today with power to pass sentence upor

"The railroads," declared the judge, are hounded to death with rebate scekers.

DELCASSE SUMMONS FRANCE Speech in Parliament Creates Great Sensation Throughout Nation --

Need of Firmness,

PARIS, Jan. 25. - The dramatic speed made in the Chamber of Deputies by M. Delcasse, who spoke upon foreign affairs business during the last few months, the for the first time since his retirement from lected in a 'high-handed manner,' with the foreign ministry during the crisis of 1905, has proved a veritable sensation in parliament circles, where it is regarded as a trumpet call, summoning France not to That was the way Mr. Miller expressed take a backward step in the Moroccan situation. His charge that France, in a noment of panic, consented to the Algeclras conference when in reality Germany would not have dared to make war upon to the Pacific coast, for everything is it because of its alliances and friendships, breaking fine and augurs well for a speedy has created a deep impression throughout the country.

M. Delcasse in his speech particularity assumed personal credit not only for the British, Italian and Spanish ententes with France, but for bringing Great Britain and Russia together.

A portion of the French press is of the pinion that M. Delcasse's remarks may bring a number of surprises, but a major ity of the newspapers advise prudence. The cablnet reconsidered the situation morning, but it is not likely that M. "The writers of both articles referred to save simply given flight to their Imag inations for one of two purposes-eithe in the interest of other candidates for president than Tuft, or to breed discord among the republicans of Stanton county where Harmony now prevalls. The sen iment in our county is so overwhelm ingly for Taft and the real situation with reference to the selection of delegates is so well understood there that neither pur ose can be accomplished. "The impression is given in the two rticles referred to that I was opposed primary elections and that I was responsible for the selection of the deic gates by the county committee. The fact s, I favored the selection of delegates by a county delegate convention and so expressed myself on the day of their meetng to Mr. Denny, a member of the committee, who incidentally asked me what method I preferred. I then told him that n my judgment the best plan would be to hold a county delegate convention. I did not even know the committee was to meet mill the day before and inasmuch as I am not a member of the committee 1, of course, was not present and had not the alightest intimation in advance that the delegates would be selected then.

Never Suggested the Course.

"I never directly nor indirectly suggested the course pursued nor any person to be named as a delegate. All these facts are well known to the committee and the republicans of Stanton county. It will be seen from this that I could not possibly delegate convention, and they decided
