Nebraska's Contribution to National Prosperity.

At a meeting of the score or more of the organizations that have a more or less direct connection with the State Board of Agriculture, at Lincoln, in the last week, Mr. George Coupland, a member of the Board of Regents of the Nebraska State University and president of the Nebraska Live Stock Improvement association, delivered an address in which he offered some striking suggestions relative to Nebraska's share in . the contribution of the agricultural interests of the nation to the supply of cash-basis wealth of the country. The farms of the United States saved this country from a panic during the closing months of the last year. Europe was hungry and the world was drawn upon for supplies. The wheat crop in Russia. Germany, France, the Balkans, Argentina and Australia was short and the United States was the only country in position to satisfy a world-wide hunger. From the farms of the nation, wheat, corn, oats, live stock and dairy products were drawn in 1907 to the value of $71,520,000,000, an amount that the human mind is incapable of grasping. Unthinkable as the amount was, the United States supplied it and had enough left for home consumption.

Out of this total, Nebraska contributed farm, dairy and barn-yard products amounting in value to more than $200,000,000, or about $200 for every man, woman and child in the state.

N.P. STILLING, Diamond Expert

Watch, Clock and Jewelry Repairing. Special attention to complicated and intricate repairing. All work guaranteed. Boom 2 Paxton Block.

Nebraska sent to the tables of the world for the year, the products of the packing houses valued at more than $92,000,000, or about $1.50 for every inhabitant of the continental and colonial United States. This contribution alone was of greater value, in dollars and cents, than the entire gold production of the world, including the yellow output from Alaska, the Rand in South Africa, the placer and lode mines of Colorado and California, and the combined product of searchers for the golden fleece throughout Nebraska sent butter to the world's markets that brought a revenue equal to the gold production of Colorado.

Nebraska bens contributed more to the world's supply of wealth during 1907 than did all the metal miners of the continent.

The Nebraska corn crop for 1907 was valued in the world's markets at but a trifle less than the entire gold output of the United States, Alaska included. The value of the Nebraska corn crop for seven years is greater than the capital stock, watered as it

Consideration of the country in the transmississippi region that is directly tributary to Omaha only serves to emphasize these comparisons. Omaha is the financial and industrial capital of the most prosperous productive portion of the most prosperous and productive nation of the world. These are some of the influences and conditions that make for a greater Omaha. The Market Town.
