The close was casy, May opened $45\cdot color of the last thre before, the close, when it weakened, in symbathy with wheat. Firm cables, small receipts and unsettled weather were the chief builtan factors. The close was steady. May corn opened 140% higher at 614001%, advanced to 61% and then declined to 60%. The close was at 61c. Local receipts were 171 cars, with two of contract grade. The oats market was strong, because of an active demand by clevator interests and small receipts. Prices broke late in the day along with wheat and corn and mest of the early gain was lost. May obened to higher at 55%, advanced to 66% and then declined to 53%. The close was at 53% 453% C. Local receipts were 107 cars.

ers. Provisions were firm early in the day, because of the strength of corn and a 10c advance in the price of live hogs. The market weakened in the last half hour, because of selling by local packers. At the close May pork was off 75621256. Lard was down 75c at $7.60. Ribs were 25c lower at $6.65.

Elstimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 14 cars; corn, 166 cars; coats, 166 cars; hogs, 47.000 head. The leading futures ranged as follows:

Hogs—When the market was once under way prices were pretty close to 16c higher than yeaterday. While some hogs possibly did not sell quite that much higher the general market did not lack very much of showing that much increase over yeaterday. Thus the hogs sold today largely at $4.5054.50, as against $4.1064.5 yeaterday, with a liberal sprinkling on up to $4.35 and with a top at $4.5. Yesterday's best price was $4.50. The trade was generally active at the advance and the early arrivals changed hands in very good season in the morning. NY M. K. & T. STD-16 N. Y. Central.

SHEEP—Receipts of sheep were the largest that they have been in some little time, but the quality was not very good At the same time owing to the all-night storm of smow and rain a good many of the sheep arrived with wet fleeces, which did not improve their general appearance or desirability in the eyes of buyers. The feeder buyers took hold quite freely and the market was generally active on anything in the way of feeder lambs that they could use. One string of five doubles sold to a Minnesota buyer at $6.20.

Fat sheep and lambs were slow and duit throughout the session. Packers did not seem to take a very great fancy to the most of the stuff and did not try very hard to buy it. The result was that prices were anywhere from weak to logific lower on a good share of the stuff.

That even in the effort of the railroad company to economise at stations in the west the Burlington railroad has made no changes in either agents or operators which will inconvenience the traveling public and shippers, was the assertion of George W. Loomis, assistant general manager of the Burlington lines, when dispatches were read to him telling of the alleged incon-

"We have reduced our forces at the depots only where there was not enough business to retain the usual force," said Mr. Loomis. "I have heard of no complaints at any station,"

Mr. Loomis was read a report from Broken Bow, which said "thirty men from Broken Bow clamored for tickets at Merna Sunday morning to make the trip home by rail and were told by the agent that the night operator had been laid off and he could not sell the tickets, though it was then almost an hour until train time." By the installing of an exchange, Bell telephone rentals will be reduced $50 and this will be sufficient for the installing of independent phones in the several offices, making it possible for citizens having either phone to call up anyone they wish in the city hall. Better service will also be secured, as the operator will be instructed to take the number of anyone calling an office which is "busy" and when the line is free the connection can be madfe. The exchange probably will be installed in the city electrician's office.
