NEXT STOP WILL BE AT CALLAO

Most Difficult Portion of Straits to Be Navigated, After Which the Voyage is Without Difficulties.

PUNTA ARENAS, Strait of Magellan, Feb. 8, 2 a. m.—The American battleships, accompanied by torpedo boat flotilla, cleared from the harbor at 1 o'clock this morning on their way through the western half of the strait to the Pacific coast of South America.

Through the dangerous channels of the western portion of Magellan strait, navigating with extreme caution until Cape Piliaras, the westernmost point of the southern side of the strait, has been left well behind and the waters of the broad Pacific fairly entered, the American battleship fleet and torpedo boat destroyer flotilla now continue their course like southward from Punta Arenas their course lies southward to Cape Froward, the southernmost point on the mainland of South America.

DESTROYERS TAKE INSIDE COURSE

Lieutenant Cone's flotilla of torpedo boat destroyers will part company with the battleships when Smyth channel, thirty miles from the western end of Magellan strait, is reached and proceed northward through this channel. They will follow an inside route that will keep the little vessels well protected from heavy weather and also will shorten their voyage to Talcahuano, their next stopping place, 1,200 knots from Punta Arenas.

PLAN TO REDUCE CAPITAL

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—In consequence of an injunction requiring the American Steel Foundries' company to show cause why it should not be restrained from putting in effect the proposed reorganizing plan, the special session of the stockholders of that corporation called today in Jersey City was adjourned until March 14.

The American Steel Foundries' company is a subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation. After the adjournment of the special session the board of directors before Judge Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel corporation, and David Strauss, in whose motion the injunction was issued, Judge Gary took the ground that corporations that are capitalized in excess of their valuation must reduce their stock issues before they can pay dividends, which he said, can only be paid from the surplus.

LISBON, Feb. 8.—With the church bells tolling continually, the bodies of the murdered king and crown prince, in two golden chariots, shrouded in black velvet and drawn by eight hooded horses, were escorted by a glittering funeral pageant today across Lisbon to the Portuguese Pantheon, and laid at rest beside their ancestors of the Braganza dynasty. Seven hours elapsed from the time the foreign princes and the special ambassadors of all the powers gathered at the palace for the ceremony until three salutes of twenty-one guns and three volleys of musketry reverberated over the terraced and sun-bathed hills and answered by the British warships in the harbor, announced that the last rites were over.

Not a single upward incident marred the last act of Portugal's tragedy. The vague forebodings proved baseless and there is a general feeling of relief tonight that all passed well, in view of the political turmoil. The great outpouring of people along the line of procession was noteworthy. They packed the pavements, crowded the windows and choked the side streets. While evidence of deep and popular sorrow seemed to be absent, many stood with uncovered heads and nowhere was actual disrespect witnessed.

POSTAL BILL IS OPPOSED

Department Objects to Creation of a New Division with Headquarters in Omaha.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—(Special Telegram.)—In a communication to Senator Burdett the Postoffice department has indicated its opposition to the Brown-Hitchcock bill creating a new railway mail division with headquarters at Omaha. Assistant Postmaster General McCleary, in discussing the bill, says that it would cost the government $3,000 extra each year to run it, and that there are no good reasons for this additional expense or for the creation of such a division. The report of the postmaster general on the bill has not yet been made. The letter from McCleary, however, indicates where the department stands.

BRYAN SEEKS PEACE

Sends W. H. Thompson to Pacify the Jacks and Jims.

ALARMED AT EFFECT OF FIGHT

Fears Dissension at Home Will Hur His Candidacy Abroad.

SENATOR ASHTON ALSO EMISSARY

With Little Giant, He Pleads for Harmony in Democracy.

SAY BOTH FACTIONS ARE LOYAL

Missionaries of Peace Placate Jacksonians with Soft Talk of Their Fidelity to the Peerless Leader.

Mr. Bryan, alarmed at the significance of the war in the ranks of Omaha and Douglas county democracy, convinced that the effect of the Jacks and Jims' conflict will spread and is spreading to other states and into the arena of national politics, has undertaken, through the medium of leading democrats of Nebraska, a settlement of their difficulties.

W. H. Thompson of Grand Island and State Senator F. W. Ashton of Hall county hastened to Omaha Saturday. It is said, at the special solicitation of the Peerless Leader, to put out the fire and repair the damaged house of democracy.

Both Mr. Thompson and Senator Ashton admit that while they do not so much fear the effect of the fight on the party of Nebraska as they do the result of its dissemination of its influence in other states. They admit the impression inevitably has gone abroad that Bryan has opposition at home. But they are not willing to admit this impression to be correct. They say it is not a fight on Bryan, but both Jacks and Jims are true to him.

PEACE BE YOURS

"Pax Vobiscum," said Mr. Thompson to the Jacks and Jims when he arrived, and held a conference first with Lee Herdman of the Jacksonians and at noon with Mayor Dahlgren of the Republican Democracy. At the Thursday evening meeting of the Dahlgren Democracy, the chief will allow no fight in Douglas county. Mr. Berrymann asserted that he knew "those above us will take a hand—it is against the interests of Mr. Bryan that we should have a fight. We must not let the trouble be because of the interests of local celebrities, when Mr. Bryan's interests are at stake."

And W. H. Thompson, the "Little Giant," ex-candidate for governor and senator, with State Senator F. W. Ashton of Hall county, appeared on the scene. Mr. Thompson said to the Paxton after talking with Lee Herdman: "This Douglas county, or rather Omaha fight, is hurting the democratic party in the state and of course it is hurting Mr. Bryan. It will not hurt him at home, but the impression has gone out that there is one fact in the state, perhaps in his state, which is with him and one fact which is against him. As a matter of fact, I do not believe the Dahlgren Democracy is one bit more loyal to Mr. Bryan than the Jacksonians. I believe they are both loyal to his interests and it is to be regretted that there is trouble in Douglas county."

ASHTON SUMS IT UP

Senator Ashton interposed a remark here of deep significance, and, as the senator said, described the Douglas county situation to a "tee."

"Both factions have made a—fools of themselves," he said, and then drew passionately at a black cigar, while Mr. Thompson continued to talk.
