There was a very fair inquiry from both yard traders and country buyers for stockers and feeders and prices ruled steady to strong for desirable stuff, both heavy and light. The movement to the country has been delayed by storms this week, but the country week to be stuffer and dealers.

has been delayed by storms this week, but the country wants the stuff and dealers figure that as soon as the roads are opened there will be a broad demand and for this reason the general tone to the trade continues strong.

HOGS-Receipts of hogs were rather liberal this morning and there was quite a little improvement in the quality of the offerings. Early advices from castern markets were rather bullish, but later reports were not so favorable and in fact the later advices indicated a general decline at all markots. A few of the early sales here showed prices strong to 5c higher than yesterday, but for the most part packers were not bidding better than steady prices and later in the morning bids were generally a shade lower than yesterday. As a consequence of these irregular conditions the market was very singsish throughout and up to a late hour in the forenoon comparatively little trading had been done. The top today was $4.35 as against $4.30\text{y} yesterday and the bulk of the trading was around $4.10\text{ph.35}, as against $4.10\text{pp.35} yesterday.
