Gives Council Bluffs and Omaha Police the Slip and Gets Away.

About 3:30 Saturday afternoon the local police authorities received word from the Council Bluffs police that George Duncan, supposed to have been the partner of William Jones, the murderer of Detective Drummy, had proken loose from Officer Weir of Council Bluffs, who had apprehended him, and was thought to have started in the direction of Omgha. A squad of officers was hurried to the Douglas street bridge to search street cars and vehicles, and Officers Heil and Sullivan were sent to the East Omaha bridge in the emergency buggy to head the fugitive off should he attempt to come that way. No trace of him could be found, however, and it is thought that he went north on a freight train. Duncan is thought to be the negro who was with Jones when the latter held up Cornbieth's pawnshop and secured the revolver with which he shot Drummy.

Wouldn't an office with a vault be a great convenience?

In many lines of business a vault in connection with the office is not only desirable, but really a necessity, when you stop to think what the loss of your books and papers would mean to you. If you keep your valuable papers and books in a vault there is absolutely no possibility of their being destroyed by fire.

THE BEE BUILDING

is the only building in Omaha where the vaults are built of brick and rest on a foundation from the ground up. They are not merely filmsy affairs, constructed of fire-tile on the floor, whereever they happen to come. While there is no possibility of a fire in a fire-proof building spreading, yet the contents of your office may be burned up, for example, by a waste paper basket catching fire.

There are three offices with vauits that we can show you, renting from eighteen to fifty dollars per month, and varying in size from 250 to 570 square feet of floor space. If you are interested, make your selection at once.
