National Exposition in Omaha is Strongly Boosted by Big Lines.

BIDDLE AND EUSTIS PLEDGE ANEW

Rock Island and Burlington Officials Write Letters Emphasizing Desire of Their Companies to Help.

In accordance with promises made C. C. Rosewater, chairman of the executive committee of the National Corn exposition, the railroads of the west are taking active steps to promote the great show which will be given in Omaha probably during the first week of December this year.

President Winchell of the Rock Island road has asked W. B. Biddle, third vice president of the road, to give his special attention to the Omaha exposition, and Mr. Biddle writes to the association as

Your letter of Pebruary 19 to President Winchell has been handed me by him, ow-ing to the fact that he had asked me to give special attention to the work in which you are engaged.

I believe the Rock Island road, if not the ploneer, has at least been in the front rank in the movement which has been growing rapidly during the last few years to create an interest in the better selection srowing rapidly during the last lew years to create an interest in the better selection of seeds and improved methods of agriculture, believing that both the railroad and the farmer profited by it. We not only handled seed corn specials under the direction of the agricultural departments of the various states, but we have had for years an agricultural department of our own under the charge of a commissioner who devotes his entire time to this work. We are satisfied that the National Corn exposition with slimulate the development of corn production and will be an important factor in creating an interest in agricultural science. It is our purpose to aid in every legitimate way in making your exposition a success, and our agricultural commissioner and other officers of this company will be glad to aid you in any and every way that they consistently can. Yours truly, W. B. BIDDLE, Third Vice President.

Eustis Not Behind. Not to be behind the other roads in offering assistance to the big corn exposition, P. S. Eustis, passenger traffic manager of the Burlington, writes as follows:

ager of the Burlington, writes as follows:
Replying to your letter of the 19th to Mr. Miller. I want to express for myself and for the management of this company our deep interest in the National Corn exposition enterprise, and I am particularly glad to hear that such good progress has been made. I congratulate you.

Omaha is a particularly favorable place at which to hold the National Corn exposition of 1908 and if everybody takes hold with the proper spirit the exposition should be a pronounced success.

While it is true that much has been done to develop the science of agriculture, there remains much to do, and there is nothing that the government or the people can push that will bring such quick cash returns as further development on those lines, and particularly will Nebraska, Iowa and a large similar area benefit by an increase of knowledge of the science of raising corn.

Arrangements have already been made

Arrangements have already been made to co-operate with you in a practical way on our road for the success of this enterprise and if from time to time you see how we can be of further assistance just let me know. Yours truly.

WOMAN DIRECTS OWN FUNERAL

Mrs. George Pardee is Buried According to Plans She Made When Taking Her Life.

In accordance with the wish expressed in a note written just before she swallowed carbolic acid last Sunday, Mrs. George noon in Knights and Ladies of Security hall, Fourteenth and Dodge streets, Rev. S. D. Bartle, assistant pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating at the hall. The lodge had charge of the services in Forest Lawn cemetery. The woman's sister, Mrs. W. C. Sudley of Atlantic, Ia., and her mother, Mrs. G. J. Anderes of Des Moines, Ia., were present at the funeral.

The Lillingtians Dine.

Tuesday evening twenty of the employes of the Lilliputian Bazaar dined with Messrs. Benson & Thorne at the Calumet cafe. After the rattle of the dishes had subsided Miss Bertha Oshlo delighted everybody with recitations, both pathetic and jolly. A southern dialogue by Miss Lillian Peterson was thoroughly enjoyed, as was also her eriginal paper styled "Inspiration," in which mention was made of some odd incidents that happen in busy
