Values Gradually Work Lower, but Bulls Hold Control.

CABLES CONTINUE TO BE STRONG

Whent Gradually Weakens After the Opening Owing to Heavy Selling for Profit on High Point.

OMAHA, March 5, 1908.
Grain values gradually worked lower, but the situation still remains builled. Cables were strong and showed good tone despite the domestic setback.

Wheat gradually weakened after the opening owing to the heavy selling for profits on the high points. Receipts are rapidly increasing and this has induced some of the largest holders to put some of their lines out. The attuation remains bullish, however, and values are expected to rise. May wheat opened at 1846 and closed at 1894c. OMAHA, March 5, 1908.

Corn started firm and advanced quickly Corn heavy buying and strong cash market. Demand is excellent and trading was very active. May corn opened at 57c and closed Oats were firm and steady, but dull, showing no action. Trading was at a standstill and the cosh market at a standstill. May outs spead at 89%c and closed of the control of the Corn receipts were $25,000 bu, and ship-ments were $31,000 bu, against receipts last year of 646,000 bu, and shipments of 625,000 Clearances were 217,000 bu. of corn none oats and wheat and flour equal to 175,000

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS Pentures of the Trading and Closing

Prices on Board of Trade. CHICAGO, March 5 .- Wheat prices on the exchange declined more than 1 cent owing to renewed profit taking, but today owing to renewed profit taking, but nearly all the loss was regained on covering by shorts. At the close the May delivery was less below yesterday's final quotations. Corn was up %c. Oats were 'ac higher. Provisions were 5g:00c higher.

The wheat market was nervous the greater part of the day and the volume of trade was large. During the first haif of the hour the market was inclined to be firm owing to liberal purchases by commission houses. Pit traders in general, however, were disposed to favor the selling side of the market on the theory that a further decline was due in view of a probable increase in to on the theory that a further decline was fine in view of a probable increase in primary receipts in the near future. A forecast of continued liberal shipments from Argentina also tended to weaken the market. For the greater part of the last half sentiment was decidedly bearish and prices were forced down about 14c from shorts and nearly all the loss was regained. The close was firm. May opened 4.54.0 to 594.0 t

LONDON. March 5.—Money was in fair demand and good supply on the market today. Discounts were easy. On the Stock exchange the reduction in the Bank of England's rate of discount created cheerfulness, but it did not bring increased dusiness. Consols improved $\(\) but later dropped from lack of support. Home rails appear to have derived the most benefit of the investment orders on a market bare of stock, causing good advancements in these securities. Foreigners scarcely moved, but diamond shares and copper shares were better. American securities derived no encouragement from Wall street and in the forencen they moved sluggishly around parity. United States Steel and the Harriman stocks were the only issues that received attention. Later the New York opening strengthened the whole list. Business, however, was not brisk and the final tone was quietly firm.

CATTLE—Soft weather throughout the west was largely responsible for the comparatively small run of cattle today, the supply being a few thousand short of a week ago and the four-day supply nearly 2.500 smaller than for the same four days last week. The sharp falling off in receipts also has been responsible for a considerable improvement in prices all along the line. Beef steers today ranged from fully steady on the heavy and rough cattle to 10c higher on the handy fat, light and medium weight grades. The trade was active from the start, and although part of the arrivals were late a clearance was the arrivals were late a clearance was made early in the foremoon. Beef cattle values are all of 15020c higher than a week ago and the undertone to the trade is values are all of 15320c higher than a week ago and the undertone to the trade is strong.

Offerings of cows and helfers were comparatively light and the quality nothing extra. With a good demand from both local packers and cutside buyers the market was lively right from the start, with prices generally like higher than yesterday all around. The advance this week amounts to 18226c, largely on the medium to good stock. Common canning grades have not been much sought after and there has not been much sought after and there has not been much sought after and there has not been so much advance on the toppy cows on account of the competition on low grade steers. Veal calves, bulls, stags, etc., are selling freely at strong prices.

There was not much activity in the stocker and feeder line, largely for the reason that there was comparatively little desirable stock, either fresh or stale, on hand. Country buyers were somewhat in evidence and their inquiry was largely for steers of good quality, with the desirable lighter grades preferred. The volume of business was small, however, and prices steady to easier.

SHEEP—The delay in the arrival of trains this morning hampered the movement of the sheep division, otherwise the trade was very satisfactory to sellers. The market continues to improve to a strong demand from packers for mutton grades of sheep, and the strength in this direction also has been moderately reflected in the market for lambs, and while there is not much depth to the trade for lambs, prices for the last few days show a trifle stronger than earlier in the week.

for the last few days show a trifle stronger than earlier in the week.

Several loads of ewes sold today at $5.269 h.35, shorn wethers un to $5.50, and shorn yearlings also at $5.50. Eighty-pound wooled lambs brought $6.25 and seventy-seven-pound wooled lambs brought $5.40.

There was nothing in sight in the feeder division, and the demand was also limited. Nominally there is no particular change in prices from recent quotations, the few coming from time to time selling in about last week's notches.

Quotations on good to choice fed sheep and lambs: Mexican lambs, $6.50@8.75; western lambs, $8.55@5.50; light yearling wethers, $5.50@6.10; heavy yearling wethers, $5.50@6.75; wethers, $5.00@6.50; ewes, $4.50@5.50; ewes, $4.50

$6.400. of The Bee, pleaded with Police Judge flipping cars or not.

To keep small boys from jumping street cars to sell papers the street railway company has given a boy on each paper a badge which entitles him to sell on the cars, and the little fellows are supposed to stay off and keep their legs on their bodies. Joe Carroll has a badge and throws off all others.

Probation Officer Mogy Bernstein took Frank Juster's papers from him Tuesday evening because the boy was flipping ears. The boy's father went to Carroll about it and Carroll told him he would take the boy's papers himself if he ever caught the boy jumping on street cars. The evidence in police court showed that the elder Juster took a "poke" at Carroll and then he took a wallowing in the mud by Carroll and his forces. Juster had Carroll arrested 4.400 and the judge discharged the newsboy. though he begged for a sentence after he received the judge's lecture that he might appeal the case and determine for all time whether he has a right to take a boy's papers or pull him off the street cars when the little fellows get "funny."

> COUNTY BOARD WINS FIRST Secures Victory in Suit Between Laurie J. Quinby and Klopp & Bartlett, Printers.

The county commissioners won the first round in the suit in which Laurie J. Quinby, a printer, sought to enjoin the payment of bills to the amount of $1,000 to Klopp & Bartlett company, a rival, Judge Redick Thursday merning refused to grant the temporary injunction asked for by Quinby.

Quinby based his suit on the grounds the work should have been let after competitive bids had been called for, and as no bids were asked for, he contended the contract was illegal and the bills should not be paid. Judge Redick held the only question involved in the suit was whether or not Klopp & Bartlett company should be paid for supplies they had furnished. He held an injunction was not the proper method of procedure, but an appeal from the action of the county commissioners in allowing the bills should be taken if the plaintiff wanted to test the legality of the acts of the commissioners.
