STATE CONVENTION APRIL 11

It Will Be Held in Carnegie Hall and Elect Delegates-at-Large and a New State Committee.

NEW YORK, March 7.—The republican state committee of New York today put its seal of approval on the candidacy of Charles E. Hughes for the nomination of the presidency by unanimously endorsing him as the choice of his party in this state before the national republican convention at Chicago.

The committee then carried out the purpose for which it was brought together by calling the state convention to meet in New York City on April 11 and by unanimously agreeing to recommend Lieutenant Governor M. Linn Brewster as temporary chairman of the convention.

All the thirty-eight members of the committee were present or represented by proxy, and the meeting lasted less than half an hour.

The Douglas resolution endorsing Governor Hughes' candidacy, was as follows:

New York holds the proud position of having given to the nation one of its illustrious statesmen who occupies the presidential chair.

The citizens of the Empire State very properly expect that our delegates to the national republican convention will present and advocate the nomination of our many worthy sons for the greatest office in the gift of our people.

The introduction of the resolution came as a surprise to many of the committee-men, as it was not anticipated.

Copies had been prepared in advance and when the members reached state headquarters on East Thirtieth street, where the meeting was held, they were advised that such a resolution had been prepared for introduction.

When Governor Johnson arrived at the statement to make now, he declined to say anything today, but he is expected to make a definite statement as to his position. To all requests he replied that he had no when he would make one, if at all.

ENDURANCE RACE CONDEMNED

Albany Man Appeals to Western Governor to Stop Long Distance Horse Run.

DENVER, March 7.—W. O. Stillman of Albany, N. Y., has appealed to the governor of Colorado, Wyoming and Utah to prohibit the long distance horse race now being carried out of the plan for an endurance horse race from Ogden, Utah, to Denver, a distance of over 600 miles.

"These exhibitions," Mr. Stillman says in his letter to Governor Henry Buchtel of Colorado, "are little better than the bull fights which are now being conducted in Mexico, and give color to the frontier which exists in many parts of the country that the myriads of live stock which are allowed to perish from starvation and exposure on the northwestern ranges are allowed to go their fate with a brutal indifference to the suffering and suffering on the part of those who are held responsible for them."

Governor Buchtel has not yet signified whether or not he will take any action in regard to the proposed race.

DENVER'S PEST HOUSE BURNS

Fifteen Patients Camped Out on Prairie—Weaker Patients Helped to Safety.

DENVER, March 7.—The city pest house at South creek, just west of the city limits, in Adams county, was burned today. There was a panic among the fifteen patients, one man and fourteen women and children, when the fire was discovered in the woman's dormitory, but the strong helped the weaker ones and all escaped safely.

The patients are without shelter, but amply supplied with bed clothing, and are now camped on the prairie.

FARMERS AND ROBBERS FIGHT

Desperate Running Battle Occurs Near Pedrickton, N. J., Thieves Being Captured.

CAMDEN, N. J., March 7.—A pitched battle between farmers and three robbers, in which two of the men were captured, the third succeeded in eluding the farmers, followed the morning after the robbery of the postoffice at Pedricktown and Bridgeport, about thirty miles south of this city.

The robbers appeared at Pedricktown shortly after midnight and stole a team from a livery stable. They then went to the postoffice, blew open the safe and stole $25 in money and stamps. The force of the explosion wrecked the building and the place took fire. The robbers then fled with the team.

Before the flames were extinguished the building was damaged to the extent of $2,000. While some of the people were battling with the flames others organized a posse to capture the robbers. The men, however, escaped.

Shortly after 8 o'clock this morning, after a fight earlier in the day with the posse, two men carrying a third were seen near Camden, N. J., and were followed by a posse of farmers well armed, gave chase and soon had them penned in the woods near by. Both sides opened fire. One of the robbers fell and the second threw up his hands and surrendered. The third man held his ground for some time, but fled further into the woods.

JUDGE FIELD IS OUT FOR TAFT

After Interview with President Says He is Convinced Roosevelt Under No Circumstances Would Run Again.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, March 7.—(Special Telegram.)—The complaint of the Lincoln Commercial club against the Rock Island and other railway corporations engaged in the southern business, alleging discriminatingly differential rates against the city of Lincoln and in favor of Omaha and Sioux City, was heard before the Interstate Commerce commission today.

There were four members of the commission on the bench to hear the arguments presented by Judge Field and A. C. Ricketts, attorneys representing the Commercial club, namely, Clements, Prouty, Cockrell and Harlan. Mr. Ricketts occupied nearly an hour with his argument. He pointed out that upon a good many commodities, mostly food stuffs, the same rates prevailed to Omaha as those charged cities to the south, and particularly on commodities shipped from southern points northward.

The chief items upon which Lincoln people think themselves unjustly discriminated against in the matter of rates are the charges upon coal, lumber, cement, glass, brick and salt. Mr. Ricketts said that the greater per cent of coal of all kinds consumed by the city of Lincoln came from the Kansas mines and the balance, probably 15 per cent, from Iowa mines and plants remaining in coal from the Pennsylvania coal fields.

Getzmeir, Bryan; W. W. Reed, Pender.

Resolutions were adopted endorsing the Roosevelt administration and commending Congressman Boyd and Governor Sheldon.

The state delegates were instructed for the Lincoln case to urge that the rates on coal, lumber, cement, glass, brick and salt be lowered to the same as those charged to the south.

Prouty Takes a Hand. Mr. Ricketts was followed by Great Holdrege, representing the Chicago & Great Western, and here Commissioner Prouty took a hand and put a series of searching questions to the railroad representative, who upheld the present tariffs to Lincoln, which are 3 cents higher than an equal shipment would cost consigned at Omaha.

Commissioner Prouty at this point injected a number of questions on the rates on coal, lumber, cement, glass, brick and salt, and asked the railroad representative to explain the rates.

BULLETS IN HIS BODY

Thrice-Wounded Stranger Enters Police Station, Asking for Surgeon.

SMALL CHANCE TO SAVE HIS LIFE

Refuses to Tell Police Facts About His Mysterious Case.

GIVES STORY THEY DO NOT ACCEPT

Detective Savage Thinks Him a Crook from Denver.

HE SAYS HE LIVES IN CLEVELAND

Hospital Examination Shows One Side of His Body Black from Long Presence of Shots.

Though he may be on his death bed, J. E. Preston, the man who limped into the police station yesterday, calmly asked for the surgeon and later was found to have three serious bullet wounds in his body, still refusing to talk or to give the police any information about himself.

The man was examined by Post-Surgeon Fitzgibbon when he arrived at the station Saturday noon. One side of the body was found to be entirely black from the effect of the bullet wounds which had evidently been inflicted at close range. One of these was in the groin, one in the upper part of the right thigh, and the other in the upper part of the left thigh.

Preston said he had come here from the Panhandle part of Texas. He said he had been shot by a negro on Ninth street, between Dodge and Douglas streets, about 3 a. m. Thursday. With him at the time, he said, were J. J. Motz and a man they called Billy. He alleged they took him to a house, where they had a room, near Twenty-sixth and Farnam streets, where he said they had kept him full of whisky from the time of the shooting.

Story Does Not Pan Out. The man's story was punctured by the detectives immediately. Inquiry at the house number which he gave as the place where his companions took him showed that no persons of his description had been there. The place is a high class boarding house of irreproachable respectability and of this type could hardly get a room there.

Also the detectives pointed out that it would be impossible for three revolver shots to be fired on Ninth and Dodge streets at any time of the night without arousing the neighborhood. Yet there was no report of any shooting from there at that time.

Chief of Detectives Savage and his men do not place the slightest confidence in Preston's story. They do not believe his name is Preston and Chief Savage thinks he came from Denver and not Cleveland. Their theory is that he was mixed up in some job of crookery, was wounded in some manner, but escaped with his pals. The gang then took the train and in passing through Omaha they dropped him off to seek medical attendance. This theory is upheld by the fact that the man came to the police station only as a last resort. He called on the county commissioners at an early hour yesterday morning. They referred him to County Physician Swoboda, to whom he went with a plea to get into the county hospital. By Dr. Swoboda he was sent to the police station.

SOAKED WITH WHISKY

Preston, a man about 25 years old. He was fairly well dressed. His eye was clear and he did not have the appearance of a man who had been soaked in whisky, as he alleged. He was very reticent about giving any information about himself. Finally, he said his home was in Cleveland, and after more questioning said his father, J. E. Preston, lived some time ago at 2617 Archer avenue. There is an Archerwood, but no Archer avenue in Cleveland.

Four detectives were sent to St. Joseph's hospital to get a man taken there. But he refused to give any further information about himself. To all their questions he returned only a pleasant smile or a hearty laugh, being apparently much entertained by the mystery with which he had surrounded himself.

A photograph was taken of him for the use of the police.

The bullet wounds are not deep, but may result fatally, because of having been neglected.

The police have sent no word to the address given at Cleveland, as they have no idea he came from that city.

ANOTHER VICTIM OF FIRE

Six Pupils of Collinwood School Still Missing—Twenty-One Still Identified.

CLEVELAND, O., March 7.—The last of the little victims of the Collinwood school to perish was Glen Barber, aged 8 years. He died early today at a hospital from injuries sustained in his leap from the second-story window of the school building.

In casting up the total of pupils who were at school the day of the fire it develops that six still are missing. The superintendent has completed a census and finds that 17 are dead or missing, including the two teachers. Only 167 bodies have been taken out of the ruins. Twenty-one of these still are unidentified.

It is now believed that the body identified yesterday as that of Miss Katherine Weiler, the teacher, is that of a man, John Krajnyak, who was one of the first rescuers on the scene, who has been missing since.

At St. Mary's Catholic church services were held today over the remains of sixteen bodies. At St. Joseph's Catholic church mass was said over twelve other bodies. During the day there were also over forty funerals.
