JUDGE LANDS ON BOOTLEGGERS

Judge McPherson Gives Him Thirteen Months in Prison.

The grand jury in the United States district court made its final report yesterday afternoon and was discharged. Indictments were returned against Frederick King, an alleged itinerant bootlegger, who is said to have Council Bluffs as his headquarters, and against Wendell M. Porter, a colored youth, who was charged with selling a postoffice money order. Both entered pleas of guilty and were sentenced by Judge McPherson. King was sentenced to serve thirteen months in the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth. As the court had previously been lenient in dealing with violators of the liquor laws, King was taken by surprise when Judge McPherson pronounced a sentence of thirteen months. "I would not have pleaded guilty if I had known you were going to sentence me to the penitentiary," remarked King after the court had passed sentence. "Well, you know it now," replied Judge McPherson.

IOWA BANKS SHOW UP WELL

Increase in Deposits Over the Same Time Last Year.

The state auditor's office today gave out for publication the consolidated statement of the state and savings banks and trust companies showing the condition of these banks at the close of business February 14, 1908. The statement shows a decrease in deposits since the last report on December 31 of $19,212, but it is believed that this is due largely to the fact that the first of the year is a time for meeting obligations and the money has not yet been put into the banks yet. The statement shows that the total assets of the banks at the close of business February 14, 1908, were $1,000,000,000, an increase of $22,250,000 over the amount of $977,750,000 reported on December 31, 1907. There has been an increase of $48,747 in the amount of gold coin on hand, a decrease of $1,214 in the amount of silver, a decrease of $52,568 in the amount of legal tender and an increase of $7,285,933 in the amount of credits subject to draft.

WOMEN HOLD CARNIVAL

Residents of the western part of the city are planning to hold an indoor carnival at the club house of the West Council Bluffs Improvement club for the purpose of raising the funds needed for the completion of the first floor of that building. The Light Guards Inspection.

In the opinion of the civilians who witnessed the drilling, the Dodge Light Guards made an excellent showing at the annual inspection conducted last night by Major Frederick W. Sibley of the 10th Cavalry and States cavalry, and Surveying Officer Edwin B. Lucas of Fairfield, captain of Company M, Fifty-fourth regiment, Iowa National Guard, who is acting inspector of small arms practice.

Council Approves Plan.

The city council, in session as a committee of the whole yesterday afternoon, after driving over the ground, decided to recommend to the council the acceptance of the plan of Robert Park addition, provided Mr. Rohrer graded the driveway from Oakland avenue to the addition. It was stated that Mr. Rohrer was willing to do this.

No Anarchists Here.

Dr. Ralph Dent Converse, United States agent, has completed an inspection of the jails, hospitals and penal institutions of Iowa, and is unable to find a single anarchist in Iowa. He is chiefly concerned in finding the indigent foreigners, who have not lived here the three-year limit and are subject to deportation. Dr. Converse, after visiting the Girls' industrial school at Mitchellville, said: "Without exception it is the greatest institution of its kind I have ever seen. Superintendent Fitzgerald is doing a wonderful work there, and has our eastern reformatories outshined." He stated that the reformatories are doing well and that the immigration and anarchist problem is not giving the west any trouble to speak of in comparison with what it is in the east.

Too Free with Firearms.

As the result of numerous complaints of crime and promiscuous shooting in that immediate vicinity, the day police force in a body swooped down early yesterday morning on the camp of Greek railroad laborers near the tracks of the Illinois Central at Avenue B. John Baros, Paul Cocoritis, Nick Pavis and Frank Kopp, the only men found about the place, were taken into custody. The police also secured three shot guns and two revolvers. The men arrested denied that they had done any shooting and claimed to be guests of the gang of Greek section hands owning the camp.

First Republicans Rally.

The opening republican rally in the municipal campaign, held last night in the old De Long mission building on East Broadway, brought out an attendance of over 200 enthusiastic republicans, principally from that section of the city. The speakers were Councilman Wallace, candidate for mayor; City Treasurer P. T. True, candidate for re-election, who spoke on railroad terminal taxation; Councilman John Olson, City Auditor McAnaney, Joe Laggett, candidate for park commissioner; D. W. Otis, candidate for city assessor; and G. H. Scott, who spoke on municipal ownership.

Search for Daughter.

Armed with a warrant for his arrest, detectives today are scouring Des Moines for W. C. Hemphield of Grimes, Ia., charged with kidnaping 12-year-old Jessie May Morrill of Grimes. Led by the mother, who is working on hysteria, every lodging house in the city is being visited in the hope that the pair may be captured before the young girl becomes the bride of her alleged abductor. Hemphield already has secured a marriage license.

This Child's Life Was Saved by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. WILMA SMITH. In March, 1899, Geo. L. Hall, of Birmingham, Ala., together with his wife, went to visit his married sister, Mrs. William Smith, of Albertville, Ala. When they arrived at the house they found his sister's four week-old daughter dangerously ill with what the family physician pronounced in grippe. The doctor who was treating the child said it could not live over night, said he was doing all he could do, and there was no chance of saving the baby. He was giving castor oil one hour and syrup of ipecac the next. I knew that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy contained all the ipecac that the child needed, and from experience with it in my own family with my children, I believed that the other ingredients in it were better for the baby if it had a grippe, than oil, so I took the responsibility of giving the baby Chamberlain's Cough Remedy every twenty minutes for two hours, then every forty to sixty minutes for the remainder of the night. Before morning the improvement was easily perceptible. In three or four days the baby was well. She is now about nine years old, a fine girl, and her parents are everlasting believers in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.
